He leaves to mourn their loss five brothers: John of Orr Lake, James on the homestead, Edward, Mark and Michael of Chicago. The remains were takee to Chicago for interment. Mr. Madden was born in Pickering township sixty years ago and has spent all his life in Osprey, except about five years in the United States, three of which he spent in the American Army. He was always cheerful and ready with a helping hand and will be greatly missed by his many friends and neighbors.

Old Durham Road

The fishing season is here again. Some of the boys have already had good catches.

Mrs. Don Whyte of Toronto has been visiting with friends in our burg for the past week.

Mr. Wilfred Parslew has returned from the city for the summer months.

Mr. Wm. Reid has purchased a fine manure spreader.

We are glad to report Mrs. John Oliver improving in health.

We are sorry the readers of The Advance misunderstood our item of public meetings in the school house after four. The correspondent has no objections whatever to meetings, concerts, socials, etc., held in the school. We used to have them several years ago, but owing to the scarcity of young people in our section, the meetings have stopped. I myself would like to see these meetings started again so the people could meet together to spend the evening in a social way. My reason for writing the item was far from the meaning interpreted by the readers. If the young man who caused the trouble had been a gentleman, and had any respect for himself and for the other party concerned, he would not have come to the schoolhouse to settle disputes.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to hereby thank the many friends who rendered kindness and sympathy during mother's illness and death.

Mrs. Nat Caswell, Proton.

FEVERSHAM

The weather has been fine this week thank you. Everyone is taking the advice in the "Farmer's Spring Song" and digging right in.

The temporary bridge is now open to all traffic. Now we'll go for the new one eh!

We understand that Mr. C. Hornby of the Bank of Toronto here has received notice of a move. Won't the tears flow when Charlie goes.

Mr. and Mrs. McEwen and daughter Leila of Duncan visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kaitting on Saturday last. Misses Francie Alexander and Queenie Kaitting returned to Duncan with them.

We are glad to report Mrs. George Julian in better health after practically a whole winter of sickness. Her sister of Sault Ste Marie is visiting with her at present.

Jim says that if George Julian is going to run a jitney to Collingwood any more he should have cushions in the rear of the car. Well, you had good company, Jim. What are you kicking about?

Mr. George Brackenborough went to Toronto on Friday last. We understand George has purchased a Chevrolet and and will bring it home this week. Will the Chev. do the same stunts the old Ford did George?

Mrs. Wm. Conn and Miss Tena Moore visited with Mrs. Tom Lanktree of Ravenna one day last week.

DURHAM

Durham's population is now 1453, a decrease of 32 from last year, according to Assessor Elvidge's official figures. The drop is wholly accounted for by the closing down of the cement plant, otherwise a material increase would probably have been shown. Though the population is down, houses are exceedingly scarce, very few vacant and one to rent is now practically impossible to secure. The new industries coming will boost the population, bnt afford no relief in the housing situation. At least a dozen substantial moderate priced homes should be built this summer. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, for since the town remains below the 1500 mark in population it is relieved of the provincial highway expense in construction, excepting the proportion paid by rural municipalities.

At a meeting on Friday last citizens heard from Mr. Moore of Toronto, a proprietor for a new Mantel industry. He asked that the town buy or furnish the building necessary, also meet cost of machinery for which he would pay interest or rental till such time as payments reached the original outlay when the property would be his. He would begin by employing 20 to 30 hands and before a year expected to increase to 75. The proposition as presented did not seem to appeal to citizens and as will be seen the Council turned it down. We believe more consideration and a better presentation of the proposal might have revealed benefits unthonght of.

The S. Grey Fish and Game Protective Association on Tuesday night received a shipment of 10,000 speckled trout fry from the Ontario government. They were shipped from the Mohawk hatchery at Brantford and Sec'y. Elvidge accompanied the gentleman who came along with them, out that evening to several small streams in this neighborhood where the fry were deposited.—Review.

The leaping brook trout painted in natural colors on the cover of the May issue of Rod and Gun in Canada will quicken the pulse of every nature lover. This issue of Canada's leading sportsmen's monthly contains the first installment of Harry M. Moore's thrilling story of adventure entitled, "The Silver King." "The Kananaskis Lakes" is the title of an interesting fishing story from the Elbow River Valley. It has seven clear cut photos to illustrate it. Bonnycastle Dale tells In his own gripping manner the story of the wild cat, its range and habits throughout Canada. S C. Cain humorously relates the story of four fishermen on a week end trip to Lake Scugog after bass. The Guns and Ammunition and Fishing Notes Departments are up to their usual high standard in this number. A valuable addition to the fisherman is the inclusion of the open fishing seasons for the Dominion. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor Limited at Woodstock, Ont.

PRICEVILLE

A number of persons planted some potatoes last week.

We notice several black lambs on the grassy hill sides lately, which causes us to remember our early school days. One morning we were told that after 4.00 o'clock we must go up the creek (Old Durham Road) with a message to Stonewall Jackson, colored, who lived in a log cabin with Dutch stoop, on one of the lots now included in the John Williamson farm. We trudged along beside our genial teacher, Mr. George Harrison. and when we got up to Fairview Corners we met old Stonewall and his little nephew, Ephraim, going towards the beaver meadow for his cow. While we were giving our message and receiving some very explicit answers, the boy was intently watching some sheep and lambs among the stumps and logs at the rear of the old log church and graveyard at the corners and suddenly called out, "Hey uncle Jackson. whose young ster is that," and looking in the direction indicated we saw the face of o jet black lamb peeking around the end of a big elm log. A frown spread over the old man's face and with a long arm and index finger pointing toward his cabin home, he said in a stern tone, "Eph, you young niggah, go 'long home dar, and quit askin' sich un consta-toosh-nal qneshuns,"

The school children had a merry time last Friday putting rooms and grounds in tidy order and then a half holiday in the afternoon.

Elmer Watson and brother arrived home from Windsor beginning of this week with two new Maxwell cars, which he has sold in the vicinity. G. Ostrander gets one and the other is purchased by someone in Flesherton.

On Friday, April 30, after a lingering illness of several years, Sarah McInnis, wife of Angus McDougald, passed away in her 65th year. Mrs. McDougald was a good wife and mother. She was a member of Swinton Park Presbyterian Church until retiring to Priceville four years ago. She leaves as mourners her husband and her son, John, who lives on the old homestead at Sackett's Corners, also one daughter, Mrs. J. Webster, of Winnipeg. Her pastor, Rev. C. S. Jones, conducted the funeral services at the residence and at the grave in the new Priceville cemetery on Tuesday, May 4th.
