

Waddington's expert appraisers Heirloom Appraisal Day at Robert McLaughlin Gallery

Spread the word! It's time to clean out those attics and dust off those collectibles. It could be your turn to discover treasure!

On Sunday, April 25th from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Waddington's Auction House is returning to the Robert McLaughlin Gallery, Oshawa, to offer their expertise appraising your fine art, antiques and collectibles.

Each member of the team of eight, internationally acclaimed experts, is a specialist in their field. So come on out—you never know what treasures you may have!

Waddington's expert appraisers will be available to appraise your valuables in the following categories: Canadian/European Fine Art; Paintings; Prints; Photographs; Books and Maps; Silver, Jewellery, Coins; Watches and Clocks; Furniture (photographs only); Porcelain; China; Canadiana and Decorative Art.

Appraisals are $15 per item with a limit of 3 items per person. Because of popular demand pre-registration for appointments is advised. Registration forms can be picked up from the Robert McLaughlin Gallery, your local Public Library, The Interior Design Group 229 Brock St. N., in Whitby and Colour Your World, Water Street in Port Perry.

For additional information call Jacqueline Kennedy 905-432-3201.

St. Stephen's students celebrate spring with music

St. Stephen's Secondary School in Bowmanville will come alive with the sights and sounds of the season at "Celebrate the Joy of Spring". On Thursday, March 25, 2004, the St. Stephen's Concert Band, the Stephen's Choir and the Clarington Concert Band, under the direction of Barrie Hodgins, will entertain parents, staff, students and the community with a unique musical performance.

"More than 150 students, staff and community musicians have been working diligently to prepare for this evening of entertainment," says Sherran Rush Jeanes, principal at St. Stephen's. "Staff, students and the Clarington Concert Band musicians have worked as a team to pull this evening together and their creativity will bring spring to life through music.

'Celebrate the Joy of Spring' will begin at 7 p.m. at St. Stephen's Secondary School, 30 Middle Road, Bowmanville. Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for students. Tickets are available at the door.
