A few weeks ago The Advance promised, for the peace of mind of the people of Owen Sound, that we would hatch a pet name for the new city if given time. The period of incubation has now elapsed and we are happy to produce the bird. It is "The Grey City." Now isn't that a bird of a name ? It has the advantage of indicating location, and would also be a gentle tribute to the county in which it is located. It might make us country people feel that we still retained an interest in what has been our county town, and might even engender a sort of affection for it that would go a long way towards cementing a friendship that has been sorely tried during the period of travail. We expect this name to be adopted by the disruptionists without a kick. There was another name under process of incubation, but warm weather or something caused it to die before emerging from the shell. Its name was 'The Lemon City." We thought our old friend, Elias, himself a dealer in lemons, would be delighted with that name, but there were other considerations that outweighed his feelings in the matter—which would not be conducive to the harmony which should prevail, regardless of the sour fruit handed around. Therefore we allowed it to die and will stick to "The Grey City," same as Gennesee County, N.Y., sticks to "Flower City," or Minneapolis to "Flour City." And the only compensation we ask for this suggestion is that we be granted the freedom of the new city next time we are "sent up." Here's to you, queen of the banner county of Ontario, our gracious Grey City.

Meet me in Flesherton June 3rd.

Both of our garage firms are doing a land office business this year in selling cars, and a peculiar fact about it is that the people are buying a large percentage of the better class of cars. The war tax does not seem to reduce the sale of cars much, so far as can be seen.

Boxing tournament, athletic sports, tug of war, community dance, entertainment, supper and music all at the big picnic in A. MacMillian's Grove, Scotchtown, Glenelg, on Wednesday, June 16th, 1920.

Edwin Purvis of McTavish's garage was driving a traveller down the Toronto Line on Thursday afternoon last, and when near Dundalk the steering gear of the Ford car went awry and ditched the car, which turned over. The occupants climbed out over the windshield none the worse. One wheel was smashed to slivers, which appears to be all the damage that was done.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in town on Tuesday evening last over the disappearance from her home of Mrs. Harry LeGard. Mrs. LeGard has been an invalid for some years, but is able to walk, although unable to mount the stairs in her own home. Her disappearance from the house was a great shock to Mr. LeGard and his daughter, Meda, who takes care of her mother. They searched everywhere around the premises but could find no trace of the missing lady. Neighbors were then called in to assist in the search, which was kept up for a couple of hours, when finally Mrs. LeGard was located asleep in the hay mow in the stable. How she got there is a mystery, as the lady is unable to tell owing to infirmity of speech caused by paralysis. She must have climbed a ladder to the hay loft, which it was thought utterly impossible for her to do. The invalid appears to be no worse for her little expedition.

Mr. Hockridge, Reeve of Proton, and Wm. McKechnie, foreman of County roads for Proton, published in the Dundalk Herald what they would make us believe a complete denial of the charge of carelessness in the handling of county road machinery, as printed in The Advance of week before last. They say the water was "drained from the radiator every night from the time frosty weather set in." Our reply to this is that when they took possession of the tractor the radiator was alright ; when the mechanic went down from here to get it, seven of the radiator pipes were burst ! Evidently these gentlemen were mistaken in their contention that the radiator was drained properly. They also say the magneto "was removed and stored in the house of a reliable official for the entire winter." If this be so, how was it that it was removed from the tractor on April 31 and sent to Hamilton for repair ? A denial on the third count states that the tractor "was kept under cover during the entire winter and spring." This statement is evidently intended to mislead. The facts are that the tractor was left standing on the side of the road all winter with a piece of an old tent thrown over it. Messrs. McKechnie and Hockridge call this "under cover." When the machinery was applied for by these gentlemen they were told they might have it if they returned it to the storage in Dundalk where they got it. This they did not do. Moreover they were told two or three times during the winter that this costly machinery should not be left on the side of the road where they had "stored" it. Considering all this, The Advance does not consider that it had wrong information and indulged in faulty supposition. But it does think that Messrs. McKechnie and Hockridge will have more explaining to do than in publishing a blanket denial of the charges. Their denial will have to be backed up by more information before we can acquit them of carelessness in handling the county machinery.

Mrs. S. Nesbitt of Brighton and Miss M. V. Bibby, B. A., of Toronto, visited their brother, the Dr.

The baseball boys promise to make June 3rd the biggest day ever held in Flesherton. Be sure that you are one of the crowd present.

Don't miss the big community dance at the big picnic in A. MacMillan's Grove, Scotchtown, Glenelg, on June 16th, 1920. Big boxing tournament by Hamilton boxers.

The O. S. Advertiser announces the visit to the new city of a "wonderful hypnotist." Is there anything sinister about this ? Coming at a time like this makes one suspicious that the occult sciences may be applied in some way to the settlement of county and city affairs. The Special Committee must look out for strangers and bunco men. Ah, but these be parlour days ! (You are supposed to imagine a deeply drawn sigh at this point.)

The infant son of Mr. John McAulay, of Walkerton, formerly of Flesherton, son of Mrs. Andrew McAulay of this place, met with a serious accident recently, the particulars of which we learn from the Bruce Herald and Times as follows : Harold McAulay, the sixteen month old babe of Mr. and Mrs. John McAulay, is in a serious condition from injuries received on Wednesday morning of last week, when it was tipped off the back of a small express wagon, while playing at the home, and fell on the points of two rusty nails which were protruding from a board and which pierced the back of its head, making a wound behind each ear, which it was at first feared would prove fatal. Although unconscious for over a day, the child rallied, and while in a serious state, is expected eventually to recover from the mishap.
