The Ontario Press Association met in Toronto recently, and it was the concensus of opinion of that body that it is not now a question of a $1.50 subscription rate, but a question of a $2 rate. Some of the speakers took the position that the country weeklies would be obliged to raise their subscription rates to $2 a year in the very near future or else go out of business. Most of the publishers in the counties of Grey and Bruce have already adopted the $2 rate, to take effect on July 1st.

Mrs. Peter Dow, a resident of Artemesia township for 56 years, died at her home, Old Durham Road, on Monday, June 7, at the age of 81 years. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Ann McMurdo, was born in the city of Quebec. She came to Proton with her parents in 1862, and in 1864 married the late Peter Dow, who predeceased her 25 years ago. She leaves a family of four sons and three daughters—John on the homestead, David of Flesherton, James and Andrew in Alberta, Marion (Mrs. Price) and Jeanie (Mrs. Martin) in Proctor, Minn., and Maggie at home. The big stone crusher was to have been brought up from Dundalk on June 10, but when Mr. Purvis went down to get it he was met by a blank refusal to let it go. As a consequence a number of men had to be laid off work here and it will be difficult to replace them. Messrs. Boyd and Morrison, members of the Com., went down Saturday last but could get no satisfaction as to when the crusher would be released. Neither could any satisfaction be got from Mr. Johnston, the county overseer. It is the general impression with those to whom we have talked, that the general overseer has outlived his usefulness, and there are others who should also be released from the arduous duties of municipal politics—men who think nothing of putting the county to big expense so long as their own selfish ends can be attained.

Another son, Charley, died in England during the war. The remains were interred in Meaford Road cemetery on Monday afternoon.
