PRICEVILLE

Too Late Last Week

The Presbyterian garden party on Tuesday evening of last week was quite a success, although the damp weather of the early evening was not what was desired. The proceeds amounted to $133 and perhaps would have been doubled if the evening had been nice and fair.

W. G. Watson and sisters, Martha and Louisa, also Mrs. T. A. Ferguson, spent the 2nd of July visiting friends near Creemors.

Mr. George McKeehnie, salesman in the big glove factory located in Gloversville, N. Y., in company with his wife, and family, spent part of his holidays visiting relatives in Toronto, Creemore, Pricoville and other points in Ontario, returning home the beginning of last week.

Colin Tryon and his sister, Dr. M. Tryon, of Detroit, motored over last week and spent the week end with their father, George W. Tryon. They attended service in the Methodist church Sunday morning but found it necessary to return home in the afternoon.

Rev. Mr. McEwing of Durham Baptist church exchanged pulpits with Rev. R. McCarten of Priceville Methodist circuit. Mr. McEwing gave a very earnest and much appreciated address in the Methodist church Sunday morning.

The people here received a shock when it was reported that Mr. Duncan Muir of Ceylon had suddenly expired and the people here extend their sympathy to the widow and other relatives.

Miss Jennie James, who is an invalid and not often able to be taken from home, was in church last Sunday. Miss James has telephone communication with the Methodist church, but it was such a lovely Sabbath morning that her sister, assisted by some of the neighbors, put her in her chair and wheeled her up to the church. Everyone present seemed delighted to see her at the service, and at the close of the service the whole congregation seemed unable to resist the temptation of taking the cheerful young lady by the hand and having a word or two. We hope it did not fatigue her too much.

This Week's Items

The grain crops look very promising and the meadows are fair to good.

A bad accident occurred on Thursday of last week. While ths builders were up placing a very large window frame in position in the second storey the scaffold gave way, and the owner of the building, Mr. H. B. McLean, and the contractor, Mr. Win Large, of Eugenia, were thrown to the ground. Several persons hearing the crash hurried to the scene and found both men under the wreckage. The rescuers thought at first that Large was lifeless but Dr. McFarlane soon revived him to a semi-conscious condition and he was carried to the doctor's residence a few rods away. McLean was carried on a stretcher to his home near by, and the Dr. found that he was badly injured about shoulder blade, ribs and wrist and was suffering severely. The villagers feel sad over the accident, but expect both men to be restored after a short season of care and good treatment to a normal condition again.

Thomas Nichol has been repairing the county road through here, with employment of several men and teams.

Rev. R. J. McCarten will take a few weeks holiday, beginning this week, and Rev. H. Berry, a former pastor, will take charge of the work during his absence.

Louis Frook has purchased the brick house and lot on Kinross street west of the Methodist church from John G. Beeton.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister of Collingwood have been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Nicol, and family.

In Memoriam

Crew—In ever-loving memory of Isaac, beloved husband of Isabella Crew, who passed away peacefully on July 6th, 1913. Also Oliver, son of Isabella and the late Isaac Crew, aged 18, accidentally killed on Woodbine avenue, Toronto, July 8th, 1919.

We mourn the loss of those so dear,
Our hearts are sad today
To think the ones we loved so well
Were quickly called away,
'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again
Where parting is no more,
And that the ones so dear to us
Have only gone before.
Fold them, oh Father, in thine arms,
And let them henceforth be
A messenger of love between
Our human hearts and Thee.

A find of amber is announced from The Pas, Manitoba. With a gunny sack full of pure amber, Jack Murray, former editor of the Canadian Mining Journal, has returned from Cedar Lake, 80 miles northwest of The Pas, where he reports a plentiful supply of amber is scattered about the sand and the muck on the borders of the lake. He states that a canoe could be filled with it in less than an hour. The presence of amber at that place has been known for several years, and until Murray examined it for New York and Toronto interests, its value was unknown. Col. J. B. Miller of the Parry Sound Lumber Co. and Major Craig of Toronto have gone to the amber field.

Darlington Citizen Dead

The ravages of the grim reaper habitually bring sorrow to bereaved homes but the loss of the brilliant and able in the prime of life plunges a community into grief. Such a distinct loss occurred when Mr. J. A. McFadden succumbed to heart failure at his home, lot 28, con. 8, Darlington, on Sunday, July 11th.

James Albert McFadden was born in Dufferin county 36 years ago, the second son of Richard McFadden of Mono Centre and formerly of Markdale. In January, 1908, he married Miss J Elizabeth Waller, daughter of Robert Waller, of Flesherton. A family of five children, the eldest ten years old, survive: Misses Florence, Cora and Daisy; and Masters George and James. There were few young men better and more favorably known than the late Mr. McFadden. After graduasing from the British American Business College at Toronto, he purchased the general store at Mono Centre. In a few years his name was a household word through a large section of Dufferin county. Having unusually high ideals of service to the community in business life he applied those principles so effectively that he built up a large business. His honest and manifest ability made him most popular with everyone he met. His services were by no means confined to his business interest for there were few men more versatile and every commendable activity received his active support. A steward of the Methodist church, a Bible Class leader, an enthusiast for every phase of manly athletic activity; active in educational affairs, in literary and dramatic circles he was known as a most able debater, delighting to win when supporting the apparently weaker argument; the friend and sage counsellor of the distressed. As a craftsman he was a Master Mason of Harris Lodge, No. 216, A. F. & A. M., Orangeville; as an Orangeman he was a Past Master of L. O. L. 1083, Relessey, and a Past District Master. About a year ago he affiliated with L. O. L. 141, Enniskillen. He was also an United Workman. About a year ago he purchased the John Ormiston farm in Darlington, near Owhawa, and in his short residente there became a general favorite exhibiting the same excellent manly qualities which he had displayed in Dufferin. Strenuous activity induced cardiac neurosis last autumn. A severe attack of the "flu" accentuated the trouble but Mr. McFadden's indomitable will kept him active to the last. A week previously he motored to Orangeville and then on to Flesherton and Markdale.

The funeral service was conducted at his late residence by Rev. G. T. McKenzie, Enniskillen. The funeral cortege made its way to Hampton cemetery, where the Orange Order gave their last rites to the body of their departed brother, who was laid by the side of his infant son, Leonard, who died last November.

The floral tokens of remembrance were very numerous and many friends were present from Dufferin and Grey County, including Messrs. Robert and George Waller, Flesherton and Hamilton and R. W. E. McFadden, Markdale.
