
Whip-Poor-Will.

We traveled through the soundless night
And breathed the fragrant June. Tumultuous fragrance, flooded bright
With an unwaning moon;
Till from the whitened field the wood
Rose dark along the hill,—
And there, with sudden joy we stood
To hear thee, whip-poor-will!

O Bird, O Wonder! long and high
Thy measured question calls!
I marvel, till thy perfect cry
Almost too perfect falls.

Telegraphing Fingerprints.

War on the criminal world goes on unceasingly and the forces of law and order have valuable aids in the radio and telegraph. At the recent police convention in New York a Danish delegate, a woman, even offered a system of telegraphing or cabling the suspected person's fingerprints. Her plan will be in universal use shortly and should do much toward capturing fugitives from justice who escape the country where their crimes are committed.

Still another step forward is the perfection of an invention by an Italian criminologist, Signor Ellero, by means of which the actual photograph of the man or woman wanted is broadcast by telegraph. The Ellero system is so simple that the wonder of it rests in the fact it was not thought out years ago. An ordinary, standard photographic frame is marked into ninety squares, each one numbered. Each shading in the photograph has its number and the suspected person's features are thus transferred into a numerical code.

The receiver by means of his index chart can thus reconstruct the actual picture of the criminal by using the numbers in the order in which they are sent. It is easy to see there is no complicated sending process such as is used in the Berlin method of telegraphing photographs and that the resultant chance of error is reduced to a minimum. Nor is it necessary to rely on any chemicals or an hypersensitive plates affected by the electric currents that record the lights and shadows of the photograph.

Reports of the Ellero system of code numbers say that the system is easily learned and that some police officials even have mastered it in one lesson.

With The BOY SCOUTS

What's a Boy Scout?

A Boy Scout? He enjoys a walk through the woods more than he does the excitements of the city streets. He learns the facts about the winds, the stars, the trees, and all living things, and becomes "master of himself" in the open.

A Scout can tie a knot that will hold, he can swim, he can patch a tent, he can mend a tear in his trousers, he can tell you what weeds are poisonous and what are not. If living near ocean, lake or river, he can reef a sail or pull an oar.

A Scout does not run away when an accident occurs. If a person has been cut he uses his first aid knowledge in stopping the flow of blood; if a person has been burned he knows just how to alleviate the suffering; if anyone should be dragged from the water unconscious a Scout at once sets to work to restore respiration and circulation.

A Scout is kind to everything that lives. He prides himself upon doing a "good turn" every day for which he, of course, will not accept a tip.

A Scout promises to do his duty to God and the King. To obey the Scout Law, and to help other people at all times. And in practice he does his best to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Any boy twelve years of age or over may become a Scout by joining a troop that has already been started. In case there is no troop in his neighborhood, or if for other reasons it is advisable to organize a new troop, this may be done by the gang or the united effort of eight or more boys. In all cases the consent of the parent or guardian must be shown on the enrollment blank. Any boy who is interested should seek the help of the Scoutmaster of his neighborhood, or personally apply at the Local Scout Headquarters.

Inform yourself fully. The Boy Scout Association publishes the "Boy Scout Handbook for Canada" and the "Wolf Cub Handbook" for the junior Scout movement, together with many other excellent books, a list of which can be obtained from the Assistant Provincial Commissioner, Sherbourne and Bloor Streets, Toronto.

Lord Byng of Vimy, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., P.C., etc., Governor-General of Canada, is the Chief Scout for Canada, and Dr. Jas. W. Robertson, C.M.G., LL.D., is the Chief Commissioner for the Dominion.

Singing is a Type of Play.

To those who are acquaintedl with what has been done to make singing a real joy in people's lives both on this continent and in England, the name of William L. Tomlins is familiar. In the last address the writer heard him deliver, Mr. Tomlins referred to singing from the play standpoint. He said, "Play is an important part of life. The man who has never played is stiff and angular, not to say crabbed.

"Nature uses the joy-relations of play to assemble certain parts and powers in us, to blend them in unity and then deploy them to advantage. Thus we are made fit for the activities of work-a-day life. The boys play their arms and legs in football, the little girls play mothering their dolls, and all of them play their minds in story books.

"But as we grow up we turn too exclusively to physical play; to feats of strength and agility—things in which we are excelled by the lower animals. Whereas there is equal and even greater content in the play of our higher powers.

"Song, in a way, is this kind of play. By means of song all our powers may be brought into use. First, the soul by means of the breath, unifies the body, mind and heart powers and joins them to itself. But that is not all; there must be also, the master-force spirit—which is our innermost being—for without it there can never be fullness of life."

Fineness of Platinum.

Platinum wire has been drawn so fine that 30,000 pieces of it placed side by side would not cover more than an inch, while 150 pieces bound together would be necessary to form a thread as thick as a filament of raw silk.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

SYMPTOMS OF ANAEMIA

An Inherited Tendency to Anaemia May be Overcome.

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anaemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, postpaid, at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EASY TRICKS

No. 41

Mind Reading Made Easy

723 - 3 digits
327 - reversed
396 - strike one out

3 + 9 = 12
18 - 12 = 6 the number crossed out

Ask a friend to write, without letting you see what he writes, a number composed of three different digits. Ask him to reverse the digits, making a number which is either greater or smaller than the number he first wrote. Ask him to subtract the smaller number from the larger.

He now has, you will explain, a number which is either larger or smaller than the first number he wrote and which you cannot possibly know. Ask him to draw his pencil through any of the digits in this number (excepting a cipher) and to tell you the digits he did NOT cross out.

Immediately you will tell him which number he crossed out. This is another trick which utilizes the peculiar powers of the digit 9. To discover the number crossed out, mentally add the numbers he gives you and subtract from the nearest multiple of 9. The remainder is the number your friend crossed out.

Make certain that the number first written is composed of three different digits. The trick will not work, for example, if he writes 666 or 101.

(Clip this out and paste it, with other of the series, in a scrapbook.)

Realizing a Dream.

A London inventor has contrived an artificial throat for organ pipes that so regulates the currents of air as to make sounds that resemble the vowel sounds of human speech. To reproduce the human voice on the pipe organ has long been a dream of musicians; the new invention is said almost to realize it.

There is a Garden Where the Bee Balm Burns.

There is a garden where the bee balm burns
Like the last embers of the sunset fires,
Where sunbeams fill the scarlet poppy urns
And sapphire larkspur lift their slender spires.

Petunias purple as the paths of sleep
Flutter with pansies bright as butterflies;
Where in the spring the English violets creep
And star the garden with their azure eyes.

No rosemary for remembrance grows here,
And yet not one gay blossom can forget
A little lad who one long distant year
Romped in these ways amid the mignonette.

A man, he sometimes wanders here again
Half carelessly, yet with a careful tread,
Little he knows what sharp exquisite pain
The flowers feel as he bends above a bed.

Often they weep for him the long night through,
Though in the man they find nor flaw nor lack;
The one who tends them calls their teardrops "dew,"
Nor knows they mourn a child who comes not back.

—Elizabeth Scollard.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones' every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The tablets are guaranteed by government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the new-born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
