The property known as the park has at last been secured from the Flesher estate and will hereafter be known as Memorial Park. It consists of probably four acres, but of irregular shape, and includes the wooded hill and several lots facing on Sydenham street, with an entry also from Durham street, and can be made a most beautiful spot. It also has water privileges and a never failing spring of sparkling cold water within its borders. It only remains now to pay over the balance of the purchase money, most of which is on hand, and go ahead fixing it up. Reeve McTavish visited the executor, Mr. Ainslie, at St. Catharines last week and completed the purchase.

The Markdale Standard wishes to know what Grey county paper The Advance man was connected with forty years ago. Can it be possible that Bro. Rutledge's memory is failing? Surely he remembers the old Owen Sound Tribune under the firm name of Thurston, Pearce & Co. The partner was Arthur Pearce, a brother of Bailiff Charley Pearce of Owen Sound. It was our first venture in journalism as a young man, and not of pleasant memory, either. The paper ceased publication in 1881.

About 75 citizens of the town and surrounding country took possession of Mr. H. S. White's residence on Monday evening. Mr. Geo. Mitchell was placed in the chair, after which short speeches from many of those present were given, eulogistic of the departing couple, who have endeared themselves here. An address was read by Master Willie Stewart, who also presented a cheque for something over a hundred dollars to the departing couple. Mr. White thanked his friends very warmly for their kindness and invited the whole bunch to visit them at Stratford. Music and singing filled the balance of a pleasant hour.

They Don't Affect Us

The proposed message rates for business telephones apply to Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, Ottawa and Quebec only. The active discussion in the papers of these cities have created the impression that such a change is intended to apply to business telephones here. This is not the case. The charges proposed for this locality are all on the flat rate basis as heretofore.

Good purses are being offered for the horse races at Flesherton fair, Sept. 24.

The Late Prof. Stafford

Prof. John Stafford, whose demise was briefly noted last week, was the eldest son of the late Charles Stafford of Artemesia, and was born in England six weeks before his parents came out to Canada. At the time of his death he was 65 years of age, and was on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Whewell, at Ladner, B. C. The summons came very suddenly, he being found dead outside the house, where heart failure had overtaken him.

The deceased gentleman was a great student. After completing his common school education he attended Woodstock Baptist College and Toronto university, where he took his B. A., then went to Chicago University, where he won his B. D This was followed by a course at Leipsig, Germany. Later he taught in a California university, then took up the ministry and preached for several years. In later years he lived in Vancouver but was not engaged in educational work. He never married.

There are three sisters and three brothers living. The sisters are Mrs, J. P. Ottewell of Flesherton, Mrs. Wm, Wright of Maxwell, and Mrs. L. Whewell of Ladner, B.C. The brothers are Dr. Joseph Stafford of McGill university, James and Charles of Artemesia.

The remeins were laid to rest in the beautiful ocean view cemetery at Vancouver.

FLESHERTON, -- ONTARIO

The home of Mr. Robert Griffin, Durham Road, Glenelg, formerly owned by the late Christopher Firth, was completely destroyed by fire about 7 p.m. on Sunday evening. Mrs. Griffin, alone in the house, in putting her youngest child to bed let fall the lamp which she was carrying, which broke and the flames leaped up and spread so rapidly that she was unable to extinguish them. The four older children and two lady relatives visiting them were back in the bush at rear of the house at the time, so could not arrive soon enough for aid. Mr. Robert McFadden and others were quickly on hand, but the house, a large two storey dry frame, was already doomed and a piano and almost all contents were consumed. A few chairs were saved, but little else. We understand there is a small insurance. Mr. Griffin, who was in Hamilton, was phoned for, and motored up, arriving about 4 a.m. The family spent the first night with Mrs. Griffin's brother, Mr Edwards, Bunessan, and now occupy the residence of Mr. Robert McFadden, formerly vacant, opposite their own place. Mr. Griffin contemplated erecting a shingle and saw mill on his place soon, but the misfortune will necessitate a new home and furniture as well—Review.
