Now it is possible to sue in this court up to $400 and interest on an ascertained account, $200 on an open account, and up to $120 for damages. As compared with the cases which heretofore had to be tried in the County Court there will be a considerable saving to litigants in the matter of costs.

Markdale Standard : The Flesherton Advance editor satisfactorily explained his contention that he was one of Grey Co. publishers forty years ago. We had entirely forgotten that there was such a paper as the Tribune, and never knew before that our next neighbor had been associated with it. Age is honorable, so we must share that honor.

Reeve J. A. Boyd of Markdale returned to North Battleford, Sask., on Friday last, where he has been negotiating for a big purchase of a business block and furniture and undartaking business. He expects to have a partnership, the investment totalling about $70,000. Should the deal be completed this county will lose a good public man, and Markdale a good citizen. In any event he will not move his family west for some time.

The Durham Chronicle says "there is a mud hole on Garafraxa street." Well, the last time we drove through Durham we splashed through about forty mud holes. Durham's streets are notoriously bad—almost as bad as those of Flesherton. But a few more raids on bloated auto owners ought to give the council sufficient funds to fix 'em up on a pavement basis. When her husband had been fined one thousand dollars no later than last Thursday for selling whiskey, Mrs. Wm. Curry came up in Hepworth yesterday and contributed five hundred dollars more to the same fund. She pleaded guilty to selling, before Magistrates Atcheson and Douglass, in Hepworth, and received a fine which, although not the maximum for the offense, was not the minimum either. The evidence in the case was given by two young men named Ryan and Rush, who testified to having bought bottles of home brew from Mrs. Currie at a cost of $4 a bottle. Currie himself is said to have been in Owen Sound at the time the sale was made by his wife—Advertiser.

The trade territory of a town is not all dependent upon the distance to the neighboring trading places. The trade depends upon the enterprise of the merchants and residents of the town. If the town does not reach out after its trade it will come only as it is forced to. But if the merchants go after the business in the surrounding country advertising in every possible way and making good every word of their advertising, trade will come from an ever increasing radius, the town will gain a reputation for being awake and it will forge to the front.

Secured by the West India Trade Agreement and Canadian Ships.

By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag, without arousing international complications.

Canada possesses men with brains who will make these preferential trade agreements. But to make good these trade agreements we must have Canadian Ships.
