The young auto thief who cleaned up some stuff here on fair night and who was arrested in Collingwood, where the stuff stolen here was recovered, was tried in the police court at his home town, Chatham, and sentenced to at least one year in the reformatory. This was the fourth car that the youngster had stolen, and he was out on suspended sentence for the other thefts.

The Flesherton Women's Institute have arranged for a monster fowl supper in the Presbyterian Church on Friday, Oct. 22nd.

An effort is being made to form a joint stock company to start a hospital in Shelburne. Now will some of the capitalists investigate the possibilities of starting a sanatorium here. We have the healthiest climate in the world. If Shelburne has coal to heat its hospital, Flesherton will probably have coal oil to light a sanatorium. Roseate, eh?

John McWhinney of Glenelg sued the C. P. R. for damages for the death of his wife, which occurred at Cairn's crossing, a mile and a quarter north of Flesherton station, last winter. A freight train frightened her horse, with the result that she died after alighting from her buggy. The case wac tried in Orangeville on Tuesday of last week and resulted in a verdict of $3000 for Mr. McWhinney.

Prof. Coleman of Toronto says the only coal to be found at Shelburne will be found in cars at the railway station. In view of the fact that the same gentleman stated a few years ago that the only silver to be found at Cobalt would be dug up from the pockets of investors, or words to that effect, it looks as though his pronouncements went by contraries, and this very fact will make Shelburnites more excited than ever. Wish we had got his opinion on Flesherton as a coal oil reservoir before operations were begun here.

Markdale fair directors have apologized in the local paper to the public for the nature of the show put on there fair night. The apology would have gone with more force had they stopped the show and given the people their money back, especially in view of the fact that the directors also refused to pay the talent, which was sent them as a substitute for the original talent, thus profiting doubly by the affair. Stories of the shameless vulgarity of the affair are still coming to our ears, and it must have been pretty bad, judging from what is told us.

A runaway in town created considerable excitement one afternoon last week, when a horse belonging to Rev. Mr. Fowler got frightened and ran away from the manse gate with his little daughter under 4 years of age and babe under one year in the buggy. The animal ran nearly four blocks with little Nancy holding on to the baby and screaming, before it was stopped. Fortunately no damage was done in any way, but it was thrilling and exciting to the many who witnessed it. Little Miss Nancy is considered quite a heroine, owing to the way she protected the baby during their swift passage through town.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Shaw and four children, of Lions Head, motored down on Saturday and spent Thanksgiving here.

Among the visitors home for the holiday were : Kendall and Geo. Boyd, Toronto University ; T. Jamieson, Toronto ; Ray Belfry, Guelph ; Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Gaudin, W. J. Jamieson, Dr. Fred Murry and wife, Toronto.

Thomas Long, a pioneer merchant of Collingwood, died last week.

The act respecting dog tax and sheep protection, which comes into force on April 1, next, makes it compulsory for all owners of dogs to procure numbered tags, to be supplied by the Council, and for killing dogs without tags. The minimum penalty for not procuring a tag is $10.00. County Councils are authorized to pass bylaws requiring all dog tax and license fees collected after 1920 to be paid to the County Treasurer and from a sheep protection fund all claims to be paid by the county, for which purpose county valuers are to be appointed. Sheep are certainly of more value to any community than dogs and should be protected.
