The Late R. N. Henderson

Robert Newton Henderson, eldest son of the late J. W. Henderson, died at his late residence, 714 Warsaw avenue, Winnipeg, on Thursday, Dec. 9, after a short illness. He is survived by his bereaved wife, one daughter (Mrs. Leslie Stafford of Detroit), his aged mother, Mrs J. W. Henderson ; and one sister, Mrs J. E. Hansford of Winnipeg, and one brother, E. H. Henderson, Hamilton. The late Mr Henderson went to Winnipeg in the spring of 1904 and soon afterwards was appointed to a position in the office of Osler, Hammond & Nanton, with whom he remained until the time of his death this month. Mr. Henderson was born a little over 50 years ago near Flesherton. After spending a few years here he went to Toronto with his parents, who removed to that city nearly forty years ago. His first wife was Miss Flora Harnden of Brighton, who died on the 9th of December, 1914. A year later Mr Henderson married a Mrs Boxendale of Cambridgeshire, Eng., who survives her late husband. Six months ago Newton Henderson and Mrs Henderson visited Flesherton and spent a few weeks among their many friends and relatives in this vicinity. The funeral took place from his late residence in Winnipeg to Elmwood cemetery on the 13th instant and was largely attended. Rev. George H. Dickson, minister of the Community church, conducted services at the house and graveside. The large number of handsome floral tributes gave silent testimony to the respect in which the deceased was held by his many friends. Among these were noticed flowers from sorrowing wife, his daughter mother and sister, Sir Augustus Nanton, Mr. Harry Ford, the office staff of Osler, Hammond & Nanton, men at the coal yard, Mr S. B. Sykes of Toronto, Capt. and Mrs Crossley Greenwood, Mr and Mrs S. Hawkins, Mr and Mrs H. F. Moulden, and Col. and Mrs Hugh Osler of Winnipeg.
