The Methodist Sabbath School Anniversary on the evening of New Year's day, was, like that of the Presbyterian Anniversary on Christmas, a record breaker, receipts, counting the Sunday collections, amounting to over $135. The program was unusually good, the piece of the evening being a drama, "The wooing of Miss Canada," which was thoroughly enjoyed. The rest of the program was also good, and the refreshments up to the usual standard and plenciful. Dr. Fred Murray of Toronto assisted with a solo.

The Markdale Standard has been purchased by Messrs. McIntyre & Colgan of the Dundalk Herald. We understand these gentlemen purpose running both papers. Mr. C. W. Rutledge has piloted the destiny of the Standard for forty years and has done it with both credit and pecuniary benefit to himself. He is now in the enviable position to take life easy without the worries of sales taxes, workmen's tax, paper and express bills, water rates, increased postage and a host of other peats that a newspaper man runs up against. Still, Brother Rutledge weathered all these and came out on top. The new firm took possession on Saturday last. The Advance welcomes them as nearer neighbors and trusts that they will be successful in their venture. Mr. Colgan will take the steering wheel of the Standard and Mr. McIntyre will remain in Dundalk.

The price of the Toronto Star is now $5 a year. When you take into consideration the fact that the white paper for one year costs $5.78 the price does not seem so large. All other Toronto dailies are the same price.

We have had wonderfully fine, mild weather during the past week and more robins have been seen in town. New Years day gave us a genuine January thaw with rain, which took away a big chunk of the snow but left enough for good sleighing.

Fred Mathewson will hold a credit auction sale of farm stock and implements at lot 136, con. 1, S. E. T. & S. R, Artemesia, on Friday, January 1, 1921, at 1 o'clock p. m. D. McPhail, auctioneer.

The ladies of the W I have arranged to play the Ionic Male Quartette and Concert Co. in the high school auditorium on Monday evening Jan. 10. The company come highly recommended and present a program of great variety.

Mr. Joe Watson of Saugeen nearly met his death on Christmas day when a ladder in his barn slipped, precipitating him to the floor. He struck on the back of his head and was rendered unconscious, in which condition he remained for an hour and a half before regaining consciousness. It was an exceedingly close call.

The Advance received a note last week from Mr Joseph Blackburn, who has been in Toronto for some months undergoing medical treatment, stating that his condition is very slightly improved. Mrs. Blackburn, who is with him, has been ill with bronchitis, but is recovering. We hope soon to hear of more definite improvement in Mr. Blackburn's condition.

A Christmas gift of an unusual kind came to William Williams, B.A., who for nearly 30 years prior to his resignation in 1901 was principal of the Collingwood Collegiate Institute. It was received by registered mail and is from "some of your old pupils who have grateful recollections of kindly guidance at the C.C.I. who, desiring to make their appreciation tangible, enclose $1000 in the hope that it will give you a winter holiday in the south." The letter is dated Toronto and bears no marks whatsoever that gives him any idea of the donors. Not only the gift, but the spirit that prompted it after so many years is fully and deeply appreciated by Mr. Williams, who, accompanied by Mrs. Williams, hopes to be able to comply with the request of the unknown donors.

Now is the time to renew your subscription to The Advance.
