3B STEWART 1800.11.25-1851.10.13;

Stewart was born in South Carolina, the third son of Stewart Grafton and Mary McCool and came to Canada with his parents. He is said to have served in the 3rd Regiment of York Militia in the War of 1812-1815 but he was a young boy to have done so.

On the strength of his service, he applied for a grant of land in 1818 which he received November 1821 when he came of age. This was Lot10 E Hurontario Con 2; the patent was issued 1824. He also received a second grant, location unknown, from his father's petition in 1812.

He was a strong supporter of the Methodist Church, in which he was a lay-preacher, and of the Upper Canada Academy in Cobourg. The family lived in Cobourg where Stewart is said to have died and was buried. (Check Cobourg Star A of O)

3B-1. JAMES BEATTY 1826.09.09-1909.05.14;

Born at Meadowvale, Toronto Twp., James received his education at the Upper Canada Academy in Cobourg. About 1842 he was apprenticed to a drygoods merchant in Toronto for about three years after which he opened a drygoods store in Cobourg in partnership with his brother John. This partnership was extended to a store at Rice Lake Landing, Alnwick Twp.

By 1853 James had moved to Dundas, ON where he opened a drygoods shop in partnership with John Gregson, "Gregson & Grafton". When Gregson retired, John Grafton became a partner in the business and the name of the firn became "J.B. & J.S. Grafton".

In the following years, the firm became an importer of fine fabrics and cloth from the European market. James travelled extensively and entered into a number of businesses during that time.

NOTE: Information for this chronology was provided by Russell Grafton, P.O. Box 7, Brampton, ON L6V 2K7.

A JOHN BEATTY 1782.04.30-1864.06.30:

Beatty was born in County Tyrone, Ireland. He emigrated to U.S.A. arriving at New York 1807.04.23 with his wife and one child. He remained there several years, long enough to be detained by he War of 1812-15. Several of his children were born in New York. (What is not clear is whether or not he lived those years in New York City or in other cities of the state of New York.)

While there, he became associated with a group of settlers interested in migrating to Upper Canada expecting to form a settlement there. With the financial assistance of the British Consul in New York (City?), James Buchanan, the group, consisting of 21 men, 13 wives and 39 children, trecked to Canada arriving at York March 1819. After applying for free land, they were awarded grants in the new survey of Toronto Township locating together between Meadowvale and Grahamsville. The names of the settlers were: Anderson, Armstrong, Brody, Coates, Duncan, Graham, Howard, Kent, Moore, Neeland, Rutledge, Todd, Whaley.

John Beatty's grant was Lot 11 Con 3 West (of Hurontario) and he named his place Meadowvale, a name adopted by the village that grew up next to his farm. In 1831, he bought Lot 12, which was Clergy Reserve and continued to buy other lands near his original farm.

A dedicated Methodist, Beatty was a lay-preacher in the Methodist church in Toronto Twp. where his house was used as the meeting hall for services. During those years, a strong Methodist community had developed in Cobourg, UC, a lakeshore town and port about 70 miles east of York. By 1828 the Cobourg Session was making plans to build a school in Cobourg for the education of the children of settlers. Ground was broken for the Upper Canada Academy in 1832 and was opened by Rev. Anson Green and Rev. Matthew Richey in June 1836. In 1841 August 27 by Royal Charter and Act of Parliament, the Academy became Victoria College.

By c1840 Beatty had disposed of his lands in Toronto Twp and had moved the family to Cobourg. Little is known about his life there but it is known that he was ordained in the Methodist church. His children entered into various businesses there but the printed record is not clear. (I have it that he was the first Treasurer and Steward at the Academy but found no written record to substanciate this.)
