WISHIN' I COULD.

Wishi I could go back a little while 'n be a boy again,
A perkin' o' the mimmers with a little cropkot pin;
'N hear the frogs a grunkin' as I git 'em on the jump,
'N see the cloud a-sweet n they was, when they hit the water plump.

Wishi I could go lookin' erost the medder smellin sweet
'N feel the sassy daisies a tickin' o my feet,
All the white a-noddin' n a smiling up at me—
Wishi I could go back n be like I oster be.

Whisi I could go t morrer d find you all the same
As they was the day I left t make a bigger name,
'N see dear old mother—always skerry 'at the gate,
Like she oster wait for me whenever I was late.

Wishi I could look in heaven 'n see her there day
'N git a tender smile o' luck, like when I went away.
I feel like it wd help me to battle here with sin—
Wishi I could go back a little while 'n be a boy agin

AUNT SALOMA'S TREASURE BOX

CARRIE A. PARKER.

When Bessie Brown, the pretty school teacher, was about to be married to the young superintendent, Aunt Saloma Hawkins puzzled her brains regarding the wedding present she would give to her niece. She was too sensible to think of going beyond her means, and she was barely able to support herself and her little granddaughter. Still the idea of not giving any thing to the dear girl was not to be tolerated.

She finally reached a decision and began to make her offering, chuckling to herself as she thought:

"Bessie'll have chaney and silver enough, but there won't be another present like mine, I'll be bound. I've heard tell of exchanging duplikit presents as they call 'em, but I guess there wont be any swopping mine off."

Aunt Saloma took the box containing her gift over to Bessie herself, the evening before the wedding. "You needn't open it till you begin housekeeping dear," she said. "You won't find my present handsome, but I reckon 'twill be useful."

"What can it be!" cried Bessie as she kissed the old lady, and thanked her. "I can hardly wait."

"Well," said Aunt Saloma, with a funny expression on her kindly face, "don't shorten your trip any on account of it deare, 'twouldn't be worth while."

When the pretty bride and her superintendent began housekeeping in their own little home, one of the first things to be done was to explore Aunt Saloma's box, and the contents were certainly unique for a wedding present.

There was a piece of an old blanket folded with the half of a partly worn sheet for the ironing table, and a nice assortment of old cloths of varying softness and thickness for the manifold uses with which a housewife is familiar. There were two ancient knives, with blades of trust steel, well worn and sharp, and two three-tined forks, likewise of steel. There were also several bowls and plates, far from new—dishes which do not usually form a part of a young housekeeper's outfit—and snugly tucked about those were a number of holders of various sorts and sizes.

Bessie immediately dubbed the old lady's present "Aunt Saloma's Treasure Box," and she thoroughly appreciated the good sense and thoughtfulness which prompted the homely gift. Aside from its usefulness, she enjoyed it because she knew that it had caused no embarrassment to the giver, as she feared some of her expensive presents might have done.

THOUGHTS ON MARRIAGE

Married in haste repent at leisure.—Congreve.

Humble wedlock is far better than proud virginity.—Augustine.

A husband is a plaster that cures all the ills of girthood.—Moliere.

Men marry to make an end, woman to make a beginning.—A. Dupuy.

A man finds himself seven years older the day after marriage.—Bacon.

No man can either live piously or die righteously without a wife.—Richter.

Take not too short a time to make a world-wide bargain in.—Shakespeare.

Never marry but for love but see that thou lovest is lovely.—Penn.

For any man to match above his rank is but to sell his liberty.—Massinger.

A person's character is but half formed till after wedlock.—C. Simmons.

Wedlock's like wine, not properly judged of till the second glass.—Jerrold.

It is in vain that a man be born fortunate if he be unfortunate in his marriage.—Dacier.

Men should keep their eyes wide open before marriage and half shut afterward.—Mme. Scuderi.

Fathers, their children and themselves abuse, that wealth a husband for their daughters choose.—Shirley.

Marriage with a good woman is a harbor in the tempest of life, with a bad woman it is a tempest in a harbor.—J. P. Senn.

As the husband is, the wife is; if mated with a clown, the grossness of his nature will have weight to drag thee down.—Tennyson.

The kindest and the happiest pair will find occasion to forbear, and something every day they live to pity and perhaps forgive.—Cowper.

"RAM'S HORN" WRINKLES.

The devil does not want any stronger hold on a man than to get him to put off doing what he knows is right.

Believing the word of God will always give us rest and peace.

Nobody knows any better how the Christian ought to carry himself than the hypocrite.

Whosoever will may come," and it is just as true that "whosoever won't" may stay away.

Coughing

leads to Consumption. Stop the Cough, heal the Lungs and strengthen the System with the Cream of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. It is palatable and easy on the stomach. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Scott's Emulsion

50c. and $1.00; druggists. All Druggists.

THE HEART

is liable to great functional disturbance through sympathy. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, often causes it to palpitate in a distressing way. Nervous Prostration, Debility and Impoverished Blood, also cause it to rapid pulsations. Many times Spinal Affections cause it to labor unduly. Sufferers from such Nervous Affections often imagine themselves the victims of organic heart disease.

ALL NERVOUS DISEASES, as Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Epilepsy, or Fits, St. Vitus's Dance, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Debility, Neuralgia, Melancholia and Kindred Ailments, are treated as a specialty, with great success, by the Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. Hood's and Only Hood's.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify and quicken your blood and to give you appetite and strength. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Any effort to substitute another remedy is proof of the merit of Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache. Try a box.

"I married Horace to reform him," sighed the young wife, "and the only habit I have broken him of is parting his hair in the middle. He doesn't part it at all now."

Sirs, I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norway Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me.

Even popularity can be overdone. In Rome, along at first, you are full of regrets that Michael Angelo died, but by and by you only regret you didn't see him do it.

Skepticism. This is unhappily an age of skepticism, but there is one point upon which persons acquainted with the subject agree, namely, that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a medicine which can be relied upon to cure a cough, remove pain, heal sores of various kinds and benefit any inflamed portion of the body to which it is applied.

Why suffer from disorders caused by impure blood, when thousands are being cured by using Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery? It removes Pimples and all Eruptions of the skin. Mr John C. Fox, Oliveda, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is giving good satisfaction. Those who have used it say it has done them more good than anything they have ever taken."

We know all about the habits of the ant, know all about the habits of the bee, but we know nothing about the habits of the oyster. It seems almost certain that we have been choosing the wrong time for studying the oyster.

No family living in a bilious country should be without Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. A few doses of taken now and then will keep the liver active, cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious matter and prevent Ague. Mr J. L. Price, Shoals, Martin, Co., Ind., writes: "I have tried a box of Parmelee's Pills and find them the best medicine for Fever and Ague I have ever used."

Burdock Blood Bitters unlock all the clogged secretions of the bowels, thus curing headache and similar complaints.

Nothing so needs reforming as other people's habits.

They come to Bloss. Perhaps you live too well. We all live better now than did our forefathers. The food is too highly spiced. We take to much of it. Nature finds us for excess. "Oh, that bilious feeling which makes the daintiest morsel taste like dead sea fruit!" Stark's Powders were made for your relief. They thrust the bile out of doors, making all fair and sweet, and re-creating the world in beauty as far as your appreciation of it is concerned. Biliousness, sick headache and neuralgia these afflictions that kill the purpose promptly disappear before Stark's Powders.

As the sword of the best metal is most flexible, so the truly generous are most pliant and courteous in their behavior to their inferiors.

There is a danger to neglecting a cold. Many who have died of consumption dated their troubles from exposure, followed by a cold which settled on their lungs, and in a short time they were beyond the skill of the best physician. Had they used Hickle's Anti Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been spared. This medicine has no equal for curing coughs, colds and all affections of the throat and lungs.

CONSUMPTION CURED

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to all his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

It will be very generally found that those who sneer habitually at human nature, and affect to despise it, are among its worst and least pleasant samples.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nerviline, in relieving the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surprising in its results, for it is made of the strongest, purest and most efficient remedies known in medicine. Nerviline cures toothache instantly; cramps in five minutes; neuralgia after two applications; rheumatism is at once relieved by its use; and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Sample bottles, costing only 10 cents, at any drug store. The large bottles only 25 cents. Polson's Nerviline sold by druggists and country dealers.

The great results which have attended the regular use of Quinine Wine, by people of delicate constitution and those affected with a general prostration of the system say more than all the words that we can say in its behalf. This article is a true medicine and a life giving principle, a perfect renovator of the whole system, invigorating at the same time both body and mind. Its medical properties are a febrifuge tonic and antiperiodic. Small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, create an appetite, enable you to obtain refreshing sleep, and to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being braced and renovated. In the fine Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, we have the exact tonic required, and to persons of weak and nervous constitutions we would say, never be without a bottle in the house. It is sold by all druggists.

NOT SURPRISED

An old cobbler in the Quartier Latin who was largely patronized by the students once boasted that nothing was capable of frightening him. Two young men once determined to put his courage to a test. One of them pretended to be dead, while the other went to the cobbler and asked him to sit up all night with the corpse. The old man, who had some pressing work on hand which had to be delivered next morning, took his leather and his tools with him, sat down near the supposed dead body and sat about his task. At midnight they brought him a cup of café noir, to keep him awake which he gratefully partook of, and then immediately resumed his work. The coffee, however put him in such a happy frame of mind that entirely forgetting the presence of the corpse, he struck up a lively song, beating time all the while with his hammer on the lapstone. Suddenly, the imaginary corpse raised itself to a sitting posture, and exclaimed, in a hollow voice:

"People ought not to sing when keeping watch over a death bed!"

The cobbler shook his head, gave the young man a sharp rap and said:

"People shouldn't talk when they are dead!"

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Business men of this city who employ some 20,000 boys, have determined to give preference to boys who do not smoke cigarettes. This movement is the latest development of the Anti Cigarette League, which was organized in the public schools a few years ago by Mr Charles H. Hubbell, of the Board of Education. The president of an establishment employing from 12,000 to 15,000 boys every year has informed Mr Hubbell that he will, each year employ from 500 to 1,000 boys graduating from the grammar schools if they have letters of recommendation from the Anti Cigarette League. This gentleman further said that he will propose to the Western Union Telegraph Company to show like preference. A number of other business men employing many boys have expressed a desire to secure boys who are free from the cigarette smoking habit. To meet this demand the Anti Cigarette League will issue a certificate of discharge to its members who have kept their pledge to abstain from cigarettes.

Conversion is not a change of opinion about God, but a change of heart towards him.

The devil is more afraid of the harmony of a young convert than he is of the tallest church steeple.

There is as much joy in heaven over the conversion of a sinner who belongs to the church as there is over one who does not.

NOT ALTOGETHER A STRANGER.

"I suppose I'll have to go and get somebody to identify me before you'll cash this check," said the man at the bank cashier's window, dolefully, and I'm a stranger in this town. There aren't a soul here that knows me."

"Your name," replied the cashier, after a moment's inspection of his author, "is Ambrose Habenslaw."

"That's right!" exclaimed the other in surprise. "How do you know my name?"

"You were suffering from nervous exhaustion and kidney disease of 11 years' standing," was the reply, "by taking 11 bottles of Blankham's Sarsaparilla, price $1 a bottle, sold by all druggists, none genuine without the name of manufacturer in raised letters on the bottle," continued the cashier, raising his voice and speaking with growing irritation, "and a cure guaranteed in all cases where taken according to directions or money cheerfully refunded, hand over your check and be quick about it, $50, all right, here's your money, and I'll give you $10 more if you find some way to get the publishers of the Advocate of Gospel Liberty that I've been taking for 25 years to quit printing your portrait in their Advertising columns. I've seen it every week for 16 months and I'm tired to death of it, and if you have't any other business you can take your money and go, good afternoon."

Lord Rosebery.

Lord Rosebery is the rising hope of the British democracy. He is the statesman who, more than any other Liberal minister, unites imperial instinct with the social democratic aspirations. He has been Chairman of the London County Council; he has been Foreign Secretary; he is now Prime Minister. He is a Scot and a peer and a man of means. He is still in the prime of his life—quite a youth as politicians count years—and, wonderful to relate, has never yet made an enemy. It is difficult to say whether he is more esteemed by the Radicals or by the Tories. By both he is regarded as a security of the first class for the safety of the Empire and the peace of Europe. I do not known an instance of a man so lavishly dowered with every advantage of rank, age, wealth, culture and opportunity, who has lived so actively and done so much without even exciting an envious enmity on the other side of the House. He is a phenomenon, almost unique and as valuable as it is rare.—From W. T. Stead's article, Review of Reviews.

HIS WIT SAVED HIM

An Italian organ grinder recently escaped a fine by his wit. He had been playing before the house of an irascible old gentleman—who furiously and amid wild gesticulations, ordered him to move on. The Italian stolidly stood his ground and played on and at last was arrested for causing a disturbance. At the court the magistrate asked him why he did not leave when he was requested. "Me no understan' moosh Inglese," was the reply. "Well, but you must have understood by motions that he wanted you to go," said the magistrate. "I think he come to dance," was the rejoinder.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public, without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address, MUNN & CO., New York, 361 BROADWAY.
