The Young Folks.

THE BELLS OF NINE O'CLOCK.

Sleigh bells in winter, ships' bells at sea,
Church bells on Sunday—O! many bells there be—
But the cheery bells of nine o'clock
Are the merriest bells for me.

School bells at nine o'clock, and straightway the street
Breaks into music with the rush of little feet.
Clatter, patter, swift they go, wide stands the door;
School bells are ringing now, holidays are o'er.

Silver bells and golden bells, and bells with iron throats,
Cowslip bells and lily bells, and bells with tripping notes,
O! many bells, and cherry bells, and liquid bells there be,
But the sturdy bells of nine o'clock are the dearest bells for me.

—M.E.S., in Harper's Round Table.

WHEN MEN WERE HONEST.

At one time in the highlands of Scotland to ask for a receipt or promissory note was considered an insult, and such a thing as a breach of contract was rarely heard of, so strict did the people regard their honor. The Presbyterian Witness tells a story of a farmer who had been to the lowlands and had there acquired worldly wisdom.

After returning to his native place he needed some money and requested a loan from a gentleman in the neighborhood. The latter, Mr. Stewart, complied and counted out the gold, when the farmer immediately wrote out a receipt.

"And what is this note, man?" asked Mr. Stewart on receiving the slip of paper.

"This is a receipt, sir, binding me to give ye back your gold at the right time," replied Donald.

"Binding ye, indeed! Well, my man, if ye canna trust yourself I'm sure I'll na trust ye! Sich as ye canna hae my gold." And gathering it up he returned it to his desk and locked it up.

"But, sir, I might die," replied the needy Scot, unwilling to surrender his hope of the loan, "and perhaps my sons might refuse it ye, but the bit of paper would compel them."

"Compel them to sustain their dead father's honor!" cried the enraged Celt. They'll need compelling to do right if this is the road ye're leading them. Ye can gang elsewhere for money, I tell ye, but ye'll find nane about here that'll put more faith in a bit of paper than a neighbor's word of honor and his love of right."

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

A VICTORIA COUNTY (ONT.) PEDDLER BEFORE THE COURTS.

Detected in Selling a Pink Colored Pill, Which He Represented to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—The Court Grants a Perpetual Injunction Restraining Him From Offering an Imitation of This Great Medicine—Some Facts the Public Will Do Well to Bear in Mind.

In the High Court of Justice yesterday morning, before Mr. Justice Meredith, the case of Fulford v. McGahey was heard. It consisted of a motion for an injunction to restrain Fred McGahey from selling a pill which he claimed to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Mr. Douglas E. Armour appeared for the plaintiffs and stated that the defendant had been peddling these goods about Victoria County, claiming them to be Dr. Williams' genuine Pink Pills. It was impossible, however, on the face of it, that they could be genuine, as he sold them greatly below what they cost at wholesale price. The defendant had given consent. Mr Armour said, that the motion should be changed to one for judgment against him. No defence was offered, and his Lordship gave an order for judgment restraining McGahey from continuing to vend the article as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The above paragraph, taken from the legal columns of the Toronto Globe of the 15th inst, contains a warning which every person in Canada in need of a medicine will do well to heed, and shows the care and pains the Dr. Williams Medicine Company takes to protect the public from imposition, and to preserve the reputation of their famous Pink Pills.

It is only a medicine that possesses more than usual merit that is worth imitation. Ordinary medicines are not subject to that kind of treatment, as there is not sufficient demand for such medicine worth while.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have achieved a reputation for sterling merit unparalleled in the history of medical science. In every part of the Dominion the remarkle cures wrought by the use of this great medicine have given it a name and a fame which has made the sale of Pink Pills simply wonderful.

It is because of this great merit, and the consequent enormous demand for the medicine, that is being imitated by unscrupulous persons in various parts of the country. The imitation is cheap, usually worthless, and is only pushed because the imitator can make much more money by its sale than he can by the sale of genuine Pink Pills. Hence the pains he takes to sell the imitation.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company annually spends thousands of dollars endeavoring to impress upon the public that the genuine Pink Pills can only be purchased in one form—namely in packages enclosed in a wrapper (or label), which bears the full trade mark, "Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." No one can buy them in any other form, not even if they offered many times their weight in gold for them. And yet in the face of these continuous warnings there are people confiding enough to permit some unscrupulous dealer to convince them that he can supply them with the genuine Pink Pills in loose form by the dozen or hundred, or ounce, or in some other kind of a box. Any one who pretends to be able to do this is telling an untruth. Bear this in mind and refuse all pills that do not bear the full trade mark, no matter if they are colored pink, and no matter what the dealer says.

Please bear in mind also that the formula from which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is compounded is a secret known only to the company, and anyone who claims he can supply you with some other pill "just as good" is guilty of misrepresentation, for he does not know the ingredients of the genuine Pink Pills and is only trying to sell you some other pill, because he makes more money on its sale.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company is determined to spare no expense in protecting, both the public and themselves, against these unscrupulous imitators, and will always be thankful to receive information concerning any one who offers to sell an imitation Pink Pill purporting it to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or "the same as" the genuine Pink Pills. Such cases will be investigated by the company's detective and the name of the person giving the information will not be made public, while any expense entailed in sending us the information will be promptly refunded.

Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and take nothing else. They cure when all other medicines fail.

The Sting Within.

It is said there is a rankling thorn in every heart, and yet that none would exchange their own for that of another. He that said it may, the sting arising from the heart of corns is real enough and in this land of tight boots, a very common complaint also. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is a never failing remedy for this kind of headache, as you can easily prove if afflicted. Cheap, sure, painless. Try the genuine and use no other.

Everyone who uses Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has a good word to say for it. In these columns a short time since was quoted the favorable opinion of three members of the faculty of McMaster Hall, the great Baptist university. Of the same denomination is to be added to-day the hearty endorsement of this remedy by the Rev. G. Anderson, the indefatigable and successful pastor of the Wentworth Baptist Church, Hamilton. He has used this medicine, and does not hesitate to proclaim its good properties. Just at this particular time of the year this remedy is doing a grand work in removing that dreaded trouble to many—Hay Fever.

THAT DRAGGING IN THE LOINS

Is Usually Caused By Derangement of the Kidneys. South American Kidney Cure Will Positively Relieve It in Six Hours.

One may be deceived by the feeling of weight or dragging in the loins that causes unpleasantness and inconvenience to many men and women. Attributing the trouble to something else, they forget that this may be evidence of inflammatory affections of the kidneys, that eventually may develop into serious trouble. That very successful specific, South American Kidney Cure gets at the root of the kidney trouble, and will quickly remove the cause, and having done this, complete recovery is soon reached. It is worth repeating that South American Kidney Cure is a remedy for the perfect cure of this one trouble. It does not pretend to be a cure all, but it is a cure certain in every case of kidney trouble. And it does it quickly.

There never was and never will be a universal panacea, no one remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir, the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have however in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep, imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses through the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making actively a necessary result; strengthening the frame and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, gauged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

WHAT A BOY SHOULD KNOW.

Don't be satisfied with your boy's education, until you are sure he can—

Write a good legible hand.
Spell all the words he knows how to use.
Speak and write good English.
Write a good social letter.
Write a good business letter.
Add a column of figures rapidly.
Make out an ordinary account.
Deduct 16½ per cent. from the footing of it.
Receipt it when paid.
Write an ordinary receipt.
Write an advertisement for the local paper.
Write a notice or report of a public meeting.
Write an ordinary promissory note.
Reckon the interest or discount on it for days, months or years.
Draw an ordinary bank check.
Take it to the proper place in a bank to get the cash.
Make neat and correct entries in the day book and the ledger.
Measure the pile of lumber in your shed.
Tell the number of bushels of wheat in your largest bin, and its value at current rates.
Tell something about the great authors and statesmen of the present day.

If he can do all this and more, it is likely he has sufficient education to enable him to make his own way in the world. If you have more money and time to spend upon him, all well and good, give him higher English, literature, science, and the various branches of a liberal or a technical education.

TOEING THE LINE.

The reign of the graded schools and scientific methods of education has deprived the rising generation of many of the experiences, laughable, instructive, pathetic, which live in the memories of gray headed men who once figured as the prototypes of Whittier's "Barefoot boy, with cheek of tan."

It was the hour for the spelling lesson in one of those fondly remembered red district school houses, and the boys and the girls had taken their places on the floor.

"Toe the mark!" commanded the teacher, and a rushing and shuffling indicated obedience.

The teacher stretched clear across the school room, now a pair of bare and dusty feet, near a couple of nicely-blackened shoes side by side with a pair of cowhide boots, guiltless of the suggestion of blacking. The teacher inspected the line approvingly until his eyes rested on one small urchin standing so far behind the others as to be almost out of sight.

"Nate," he asked, "why don't you toe the mark?"

"P p please, sir, I am," falters the boy, "but I've got on dad's boots."

Sure enough, the toes of the boots were all right, on the mark, two or three inches beyond the toes of the youthful wearer.

FROM THE TEA PLANT TO THE TEA CUP IN ITS NATIVE PURITY.

"Monsoon" Tea is packed under the supervision of the Tea growers, and is advertised and sold by them as a sample of the best qualities of Indian and Ceylon Teas. For that reason, there are that some but the very fresh leaves go into Monsoon packages.

That is why "Monsoon" the perfect Tea, can be sold at the same price as inferior teas.

It is put up in sealed caddies of ½ lb., 1 lb. and 5 lbs., and sold in three flavors at 40c., 50c. and 60c.

If your grocer does not keep it, tell him to write to STEFI HAYER & CO., 11 and 13 Front St. East, Toronto.

Break Up a Cold in Time
BY USING PYNY-PECTORAL

The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

Mrs. Joseph Kenwick, of 65 Sumach Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of croup after a few doses. It cured myself of a long standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."

H. O. Bennett, Druggist, Rothesay, N.B., writes: "I have sold your Pyny-Pectoral for the last year, and have no hesitation in saying it is the best cough medicine I have ever handled."

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

Dr. B. J. Kendall Co.
Dear Sirs: Please send me one of your Horse Books and oblige. I have used a great deal of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with good success; it is a wonderful remedy. I once had a mare that had an Occult Spavin and five bottles cured her. I keep a bottle on hand all the time.
Yours truly, Chas. Powell.
