HAIR HELP

So many persons have hair that is stubborn and dull. It won't grow. What's the reason? Hair needs help just as anything else does at times. The roots require feeding. When hair stops growing it loses its lustre. It looks dead.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

acts almost instantly on such hair. It awakens new life in the hair bulbs. The effect is astonishing. Your hair grows, becomes thicker, and all dandruff is removed.

And the original color of early life is restored to faded or gray hair. This is always the case.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and am really astonished at the good it has done in keeping my hair from coming out. It is the best tonic I have tried, and I shall continue to recommend it to my friends."
MATTIE HOLY,
Sept. 24, 1898. Burlington, N. C.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it.

THE LIFE SCHOOL.

My little boy came from his school to-day,
With his heart in a flurry of glee:
"O papa! they've taken our pencils away,
And I'm writing with ink," said he.
And his breast is filled with a manly pride,
For it joys him much to think
He has laid his pencil and slate aside,
And is writing his words in ink.

O innocent child! Could you guess the truth,
You would ask of the years to stay
Mid the slate and pencil paths of youth
That a tear will wash away;
For out in the great wide world of men
The wrongs we may do or think
Can never be blotted out again,
For we write them all in ink.
—Nixon Waterman.

HE EXPLAINS THE PICTURE.

This, said the artist, is a battle scene—time, say the year 2000 A. D. The defending force is on the extreme right of the canvas—

I can't see them, observed his friend.

Certainly not; they are strongly entrenched—

Can't see any entrenchment.

Of course you can't. The entrenchments are skilfully concealed from view.

I should think you'd show some big guns or something.

Nonsense! The guns are disappearing guns and they have disappeared.

Well, how about the attacking force.

Over here on the left—all under cover. You can't expect them to expose themselves to the spectators any more than the enemy.

Well, your picture is a mere landscape.

Yes; but I take it that's how a battle will look in the year 2000.

FEELING HARD TO DESCRIBE.

In an address at Fall River, Captain Bigelow, of the Texas, told this story, illustrative of the fact that naval men make no pretence at being orators:

"It is difficult for me," said Captain Bigelow, "to be required to make a speech, and I am in the situation of an old sailor who was fond of tea and was devoted to the people who served it. But this old sailor had no society manners and had never attended an afternoon tea. He was afraid of the ladies, but in some way he was forced to attend one. He went almost in despair, and when he got back to his ship his master said:

"Brown, did you get to the tea?"

"I did."

"How did you feel there?"

"I felt like a sperm whale doing crochet work."—Boston Globe.

COMIC SCENES AT MAFEKING.

It often occurs to me how comic the scene would be to any warmont hovering over the town toward evening.

After a heavy day's shelling, when the sun is about setting, the owners of the various bombproofs emerge and sit on the steps or the sandbags of their shelters, conversing with their neighbors and discussing the events of the day. All of a sudden tinkle goes the bell, and down go all the heads, just as one has often seen rabbits of a summer evening disappear into their holes at the report of a gun. In a few moments the explosion is over, and up they come again to see what damage has been done by the missile.

Then twilight falls on the scene and the time between sunset and morurfer, starlight or inky blackness, as the case may be, according to the moon and the weather, is, without doubt, the pleasantest half hour in the whole day. As a rule it is a peaceful interval as regards shelling—herds of mules are driven along the dusty streets to be watered, cattle and goats return from the veldt, where they have been grazing during the day as much out of sight as possible, and women scurry along the sidewalks skirting the houses, intent on a little evening shopping. Then, when twilight has completely faded, all who can take shelter to wait for the refinement of the Boer cordelty, in the night gun, which can only be intended to alarm and to irritate, after this length of time.

There is a general feeling of relief when "Gretje" has boomed her good night, which lately, however, has been supplemented by prolonged volleying from the Boer trenches, to which our men never make any reply, and the cause of which is difficult to explain—unless it is to show they are awake in case we meditate an attack.

By 10 this uproar is generally over, and bullets have ceased to fall. Soon after, nearly every soul not on watch is sleeping, secure in feeling that for every one who reposes a comrade keeps vigil, while the Colonel's watchful eye seems over all, and from his frequent and unexpected appearance at the various redoubts at all hours of the night and early morning, the men realize he well deserves the name the Matabele gave him of "Impesa"—i. e., "The Wolf Who Walks by Night.—Lady Sarah Wilson.

They Never Knew Failure.—Careful observation of the effects of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills has shown that they act immediately on the diseased organs of the system and stimulate them to healthy action. There may be cases in which the disease has been long seated and does not easily yield to medicine, but even in such cases these Pills have been known to bring relief when all other so-called remedies have failed. These assertions can be substantiated by many who have used the Pills, and medical men speak highly of their qualities.

A TERRIBLE AFFLICTION

TORTURED MR. JAMES PETHICK OF TORONTO, UNTIL TIMELY HELP CAME.

In the Form of Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills—His Affliction Was Diabetes—Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills Cured Him After All Other Medicines Failed.

32 Duke St., Toronto, Dec. 16th, 1899.
Arnold Chemical Co., Limited,
Toronto.

Gentlemen,—For several years I have been a victim of that terrible affliction, diabetes. All the special symptoms of the disease were present—urination caused severe cutting pain; the urine was unnaturally dark colored; I suffered with intense headaches and with twitching of the nerves. The quantity of urine discharged was greatly increased; my lips were almost dry; I was tortured by a perpetual and intense thirst; carbuncles broke out on my body and I was wasted to a mere skeleton, in spite of all the doctors could do. In despair I resorted to patent medicines, and tried one after another—to be disappointed by each.

My wife persuaded me, much against my will to try Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills. I thank God, now, that she did so, for this wonderful Heaven-sent medicine has cured me completely. I am to-day enjoying perfect health, and every organ does its duty thoroughly, as a result of my use of Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills.

James Pethick, (Barber.)

The thousands of persons in Canada, who suffer with this frightful disease, diabetes, will read Mr. Pethick's letter with genuine pleasure for heretofore, every remedy has failed to cure it. They cure it in the only possible way—by killing the germs that cause it. They are a positive cure—have never yet failed, because they remove the cause of the disease. A trial will convince.

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills for weak people are sold by all druggists; large box 75c., small box 25c., or sent postpaid on receipt of price by The Arnold Chemical Co., Limited, Canada Life Building, 44 King Street West, Toronto.

A Boon to Horsemen.

There is but one love, that lasts—unhappy love.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS
TRADE MARK

In these days of imitations it is well for everyone to be careful what he buys. Especially is this necessary when a matter of health is involved.

There are so many imitations of Doan's Kidney Pills on the market—some of them absolutely worthless—that we ask you to be particular to see that the full name and the trade mark of the Maple Leaf are on every box you buy. Without this you are not getting the original Kidney Pill, which has cured so many severe cases of kidney complaint in the United States, Australia and England, as well as here in Canada. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto.

There is as yet no method of progress known to men that is so rich and complete as that which is ministered by a truly great friendship.—Phillips Brooks.

Bob McCready.

Above is a splendid portrait of Bob McCready, one of the best football players in Canada. He is a member of the Ottawa University team, and has been in all of its championship matches. He is a splendid specimen of robust Canadian manhood—per strong as he is, he has known what it is to suffer from dyspepsia. So seriously afflicted was he at the opening of the past (1899) season, that he was not able to go out with his team. Pains in the back and sides, intermittent headache, and the awful pangs he suffered after eating, the result of an impaired digestion, warned him that he was in no condition to play football, the hardest of all games. Besides, he lacked the energy to carry him through a campaign. He consulted his physician, but that gentleman gave him no relief. "At this stage," he writes, "I was advised to try Dr. Petty's Pills, the new remedy that one of my friends assured me was wonderful in its effects. I was skeptical, but he sounded their praises so persistently that I was at length induced to try them. The very first dose drove the pain away, and at the end of a week I rejoined my team, and I have come through one of our hardest seasons in the best form that I have ever been in. Dr. Petty's Pills are alone to thank for my fine condition. They are the best medicine I have ever taken. They make one so strong and so full of energy. I, for one, shall never take any others when I feel in need of a strengthener." Such is the recommendation of this well-known athlete, and such will be the experience of everyone who tries this wonderful remedy. If your druggist cannot supply you, write to us, enclosing price, 50 cents a bottle, six bottles for $2.50. Address The Dr. Petty Medicine Co., Ottawa, Canada.

IS BABY CUTTING TEETH?

Watch him carefully.—On the first indication of Diarrhoea give Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Hot weather comes hard on babies, especially those cutting teeth.

The little form soon wastes and fades away when diarrhoea or cholera infantum seizes upon it.

As you love your child, mother, and wish to save his life, give him Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

There is no other remedy so safe to give to children and none so effectual.

Mrs. Chas. Smith, Shoal Lake, Man., says: "I think Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best medicine that was ever made for diarrhoea, dysentery and summer complaint. It is the best thing to give children when they are teething. I have always used it in our own family and it has never yet failed."

The day after the end is also a beginning; the clock strikes the hours after the funeral; and the sun rises according to the almanac.

Hoarseness is a common trouble during the summer with those having weak throat or lungs. It can be readily cured, and the throat and lungs strengthened by Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Price 25c.

There can be a difference of opinion on most subjects, but there is only one opinion as to the reliability of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is safe, sure and effectual.

Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as the sunbeam.—Milton.

We humble ourselves before others, not for others.

A Magic Pill.—Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling but cannot exterminate. Subdued, and to all appearances vanished in one, it makes its appearance in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delicate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such persons disorders of the stomach ensue from the most trivial causes and cause much suffering. To these Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as mild and sure.

Only he who lives a life of his own can help the lives of other men.—Phillips Brooks.

A Pitiful Scald.

Mrs. T. Wannamaker, Frankford, Ont., says: "I scalded my hand very badly, then took cold in it. It swelled and was very painful, but half a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil cured it completely."

Advice is seldom welcome; and those who want it the most, always like it the least.—Lord Chesterfield.

Lands mortgaged may return, but honesty once pawned is no'er redeemed.—Mitlifolon.

Try it.—It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil with the ordinary nauseous, bitter liver. They were oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerful in remedial when swallowed.

PLAYING THE FOOL.

One time an industrious shoemaker fell into the habit of spending much of his time in a saloon near his shop. When his wife would remonstrate with him for it, he would say: "I've just been down a little while playing pool."

His two-year old boy heard him, and said: "Is you going down to play fool, papa?"

He tried in vain to correct this word. Day by day he would ask his father, "Has you been playing fool?"

It made a deep impression on him, but his mind was so weakened by drink that he constantly yielded to the temptation. Finally his business was gone, and he found himself out of money, flour, and work. Idle and despondent, he exclaimed: "No work again to-day; what I am to do, I do not know!"

"Why, papa," prattled the baby, "can't you go and play fool some more?"

"O hush, you poor child, that is just the trouble. Papa has played the fool too much already." Intemperance always makes a man play the fool.—Epworth News.

CAUGHT THE CZAR.

Peter the Great was once very neatly caught in a trap by a jester attached to the court. The jester was noted for his cleverness in getting himself and his friends out of difficulties. It happened one day that a cousin of his had incurred the Czar's displeasure and was about to be executed. The latter therefore presented himself before his imperial majesty to beg a reprieve. On seeing him approach, the Czar, divining his errand, cried: "It is no good to come here. I swear I will not grant what you are going to ask."

Immediately the jester went down on his knees saying: "I beseech your imperial highness to put that scamp cousin of mine to death."

The czar, thus caught in his own trap, could only laugh and pardon the condemned man.—Columbian.

"I Can Eat What I Like."

Many people suffer terribly with pain in the stomach after every mouthful they eat.

Dyspepsia and indigestion keep them in constant misery.

After trying the hundred and one new-fangled remedies without much benefit, why not use the old reliable Burdock Blood Bitters and obtain a perfect and permanent cure?

Here is a case in point:

"I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for three or four years, and tried almost every doctor round here and different dyspepsia remedies, but got little relief.

"I then started using Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had finished the second bottle I was almost well, but continued taking it until I had completed the third bottle, when I was perfectly well. Before taking B.B.B. I could scarcely eat anything without having a pain in my stomach. Now I eat whatever I like without causing me the least discomfort." — MRS. THOMAS CLARK, Brussels, Ont.

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

The small boy can never understand his mother when she says she punishes him for his good.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the feallest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondence and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep, imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, guaged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

Hard speech between those who had loved is hideous in the memory, like the sight of greatness with beauty sunk into vice and rage.

DO YOU FEEL TIRED IN THE MORNING?

Does Sleep not bring Refreshment?

Do you feel wretched, mean and miserable in the mornings—as tired as when you went to bed? It's a serious condition—too serious to neglect, and unless you have the heart and nervous system strengthened and the blood enriched by

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, collapse is almost certain to ensure. Mr. Fred. H. Gradon, a well known young man of Barrie, Ont., says:—"I have had a great deal of trouble with my heart for four years. I was easily agitated and any excitement caused my heart to throb violently. I had dizziness and shortness of breath, and often arose in the mornings feeling as tired as when I went to bed. I was terribly nervous. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done wonders for me. They have restored my heart to regular healthy action, giving me back sound refreshing sleep, and making my nervous system strong and vigorous."
