The Young Folks.

TWO LITTLE GIRLS.

Little Miss Ready-Girl on the way to school;
Tidy gown and hands and face,
Books and pencils in their place—
She's neat and sweet and cool.

Little Miss Unready-Girl, ne'er in time for school,
Books and pencils out of place,
Tousled hair about her face—
For her, dunce-cap and stool.

Now, whichever will you be,
Little readers dear?
Come quite closely up to me,
Whisper in my ear.

All will be Miss Ready-Girls?
Ah, I thought you would!
Bless your pretty eyes and hearts,
Children sweet and good.

WOMEN MICROSCOPISTS.

There are some one thousand women employed in the Chicago stock yards, of whom over a hundred are inspectors of meats intended for export. They are for the most part well-educated women, from twenty years of age upwards. Their work is to examine the meat under the microscope, and report as to the presence or absence of trichinae. The work is not arduous, but it is hard on the eyes, so that frequent rests of a few minutes are allowed, and six hours of actual labor constitute the day's work. Seven expert women re-examine the specimens already passed upon by the other assistants. New recruits are obliged to spend four or five months studying how to detect trichinae in the different stages. The average rate of pay is fifty dollars a month.

HAPPINESS.

"I was recently party to a discussion," said a doctor, "where the question of the nature of happiness arose, and a certain wise head present was asked to define it. His reply was so satisfactory that I trust you will allow me to repeat it for the benefit of those interested.

"He said: "Happiness is a state of mind—more active than contentment, less pronounced and more abiding than joyfulness; Whose principle and permanent source is in a temperament disposed to make the best of what is; whose immediate occasion is in a consciousness which pleased with the present, is without acute regret or undue apprehension."

"What better definition could one have than this?"—New York Sun

KILLING WEEDS.

"When we went to school we were taught that if ten men could do a certain piece of work in one day, one man could do it in ten days, but we were taught by experience that this would not apply to weed killing and many other bits of farm work. In hoeing a field large enough to keep ten men at it all day, it would take a smart man to get it done all summer. The growth of weeds ahead of him would make each day's work smaller, while behind him they would grow so that he would find those places he had the first day would be in need of being hoed again before he reached the end. This, of course, applies to rich land, where weeds grow rank and rapidly. Therefore, it will pay to get extra labor to finish a field quickly when it needs hoeing. And remember, too, that the man who lost his railway train said he ran fast enough, but the trouble was that he did not start soon enough. Death in season. One can go over a field that does not need hoeing in half the time he could one that needs it. And frequent cultivation is good for the growth of the plants even when not necessary to destroy weeds. Keep the horse hoe running and there will be but little work for the hand hoe.—American Cultivator.

A BOY AGAIN.

The director of one of our large corporations was in the habit of prowling around the office. One morning he happened to come across the dinner-pail of the office boy. His curiosity led him to take off the cover. A slice of home-made bread, two doughnuts and a piece of apple-pie tempted the millionaire's appetite. He became a boy again, and the dinner pail seemed to be one he carried sixty years ago.

Just then the office boy came in and surprised the old man eating the pie—he had finished the bread and the doughnuts.

"That's my dinner you're eating!" said the boy.

"Yes, sonny, I suspect it may be; but it's a first rate one for all that. I've not eaten so good a one for sixty years."

"There," he added, as he finished the pie, "take that and go out and buy yourself a dinner; but you won't get so good a one," and he handed the boy a five-dollar bill.

For days after, the old man kept referring to the first-class dinner he had eaten from the boy's pail.

THE DOCTOR'S ADVICE.

LED, MR. W. F. LEFLAR, OF WILLIAMSFORD, ONT., TO USE DR. ARNOLD'S ENGLISH TOXIN PILLS.

He Was, in Consequence, Cured of Nervousness and General Debility—A Case that Shows the Wonderful Power of Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills.

Nine of every ten persons in Canada suffer from nervousness and general weakness of the system. The misery caused by these complaints is immeasureable. More money is spent every year for medicines for these diseases than would buy out half a dozen millionaires. And yet there is a cure simple, sure and permanent, one that costs little and produces and effect that is absolutely unparalled in the history of medicine. The medicine is known throughout the English speaking world as Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills for weak people. It has the effect of permanently cleansing the system of disease, and it has this effect by killing the germs that cause the disease. Besides killing the germs of disease, it counteracts the poisons (toxine) they create in the blood; it braces the nerves, purifies the blood, and revitalizes the whole system. Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills are prescribed by many of the most successful physicians in their private practice.

Here is a case that shows the power of this wonderful medicine over nervous and wasting diseases:

"I suffered for months with nervousness and general debility. I was utterly miserable, unable to sleep, and constantly in the most depressed spirits. My nerves were twitchy, I had splitting headaches, and was as weak as a child. My family physician, Dr. ——, advised me to use Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills. I bought and used three large boxes, which I am happy to state, cured me completely. I am now hale and hearty, strong and vigorous, sound in every muscle, nerve and limb, thanks to Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills.

W. F. LEFLAR,
(Merchant.)

Williamsford, Ont.

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills are sold by all druggists, 75c. a box, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by The Arnold Chemical Company, Limited, Canada Life Building, 44 King Street, West, Toronto.

Make your business talks as short as your prayers and you will be a winner.

Price 50c. a box.

A $20 suit looks better in a window than a $40 suit does on your back.

Painful Periods.

Women who suffer terrible pain every month can find ready relief by using Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders. They contain no morphine or opium, and leave no bad after effects. Price 10c. and 25c. Don't accept common headache powders, they'll surely disappoint.

Friend (after tea)—Your little wife is a brilliantly handsome woman. I should think you'd be jealous of her.

We are spending thousands to make Petty's Pills known. Our money proves our faith. A trial will secure yours.

The farmer and the chiropodist both depend on the corn crop for a living.

A Boon to Horsemen.

English Spavin Liniment removes all hard, soft or calloused lumps or blemishes from horses, blood spavin, curbs, splints, ring bone, sweeny, stifles, sprains, sore and swollen throat, coughs, etc. The use of one bottle may make you $50. Warranted the most wonderful blemish cure ever known.

Too many things are not worth the sacrifice necessary to obtain them.

A Dressmaker's Duties

Are Such as to Cause Backache

A Toronto Dressmaker has Found a Positive Cure and Gladly Tells About It.

Those who follow the arduous occupation of dress-making or sewing have troubles of their own.

Running sewing machines all day long, bending over work that requires the greatest of care, these are the things that have made many a woman exclaim, "every time I take a stitch with my needle it seems as though I am piercing my own back."

But those who suffer from backache, headache, pain in the side or any derangement of the kidneys will be glad to know that there is a remedy that never fails even in the worst cases.

It is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. P. Coyler, the well-known dressmaker, 224 Bathurst St., Toronto, Ont., gave the following statement of her experience with it:

"For some time I suffered a good deal from weak back, a tired feeling, and pains and aches in various parts of my body. Since I have used Doan's Kidney Pills the pains have left me, my back has got stronger and the kidney troubles have been corrected.

"That tired, dull, drowsy feeling that used to come on me has now gone, and I am happy to say I have not felt so well in years as at present."

Doan's Kidney Pills cure backache, lame or weak back, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, mild before the eyes, loss of memory, rheumatism, gravel and urinary troubles of young or old. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Health Problem.

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

Persistence in doing one's duty ends in liking it, something like acquiring a taste for olives.

A Pleasant Medicine.—There are some pills which have no other purpose evidently than to beget painful internal disturbances in the patient, adding to his troubles and perplexities rather than diminishing them. One might as well swallow some corrosive material. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills have not this disagreeable and injurious property. They are easy to take, are not unpleasant to the taste, and their action is mild and soothing. A trial of them will prove this. They offer peace to the dyspeptic.

A young man isn't necessarily musical because he makes overtures to his sweetheart.

As an all-round family remedy, one that always should be in the house for an emergency, Dr. Petty's Pills discount anything in the market. They are so small a child can take them with ease—yet one's a dose.

You know how freely and recklessly you talk about other people? Well, that's the way they talk about you.

Chest Felt Raw.

"I caught a severe cold which made my chest feel raw and tight. I used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which loosened the phlegm, healed the lungs and made me perfectly well." Neil McKay, Ripley, Ont.

A man's memory never gets so poor that he forgets to tell his children how often he has walked the floor with them in the night.

Hundreds have testified to the good Petty's Pills have done them.

The most cheerful author—Samuel Smiles.

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is sometimes difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would try Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as syrup.

The river's current is a matter of course.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe, sure and reliable worm expeller. Acts equally well on children or adults. Be sure you get Low's.

Ida (reading)—"And the limelight shone in her big blue eyes." May—"You mean love light?" Ida—"No, dear, this heroine was a chorus girl."

When Travelling

Always take with you a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

The change of food and water to which those who travel are subject, often produces an attack of diarrhœa, which is as unpleasant and discomforting as it may be dangerous.

A bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in your grip is a guarantee of safety.

On the first indication of Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa or Dysentery, a few doses will promptly check the further advance of these diseases.

As Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is being widely and shamelessly imitated, your safety lies in seeing that the full name is on every bottle you buy.

The reputation of a hypocrite is never on speaking terms with his character.

Does your head ache? Take a Petty.
Does your back ache? Take a Petty.
Does your side ache? Take a Petty.
And do not take any other.

Some husbands practice economy only when buying things for their wives.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondence and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep, imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, ranged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

The most talkative author—Chatterton.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

YOUTHFUL CHAMPION.

The Duchess of Sutherland, besides being pretty, highly educated and a great traveller, is famous for her benevolent work in the east end of London, where she has established night schools, reading rooms, and regular entertainments for the poor in which many titled ladies take part. The New York Tribune says that she is almost idolized by the genius of London. Once she found a champion among them in an unexpected manner.

A ragged, barefooted boy, a crossing-sweeper, had doffed his hat to the duchess in the hope of recognition, when he observed a well-dressed but rakish-looking man following her across the street, as if trying to force upon her attentions that were evidently obnoxious to her. There was a look of distress on the duchess's face.

"Shall I punch his head?"

"Hush, my lady," said a boy's voice beside her.

She turned, looked down upon the little sweeper, and then said, smiling:

"Why, it's Jemmie!"

She had remembered his name, after all, and at that moment the boy was hers, body and soul. Without waiting for another word, he flashed off and turned a sort of violent "cart wheel," so adroitly calculated that he landed with two very muddy feet right in the middle of the offensive man's waistcoat.

Then, before the man could recover from the shock, the boy had slapped him with one muddy hand across the mouth, and with the other had deposited a handful of the filthy compound on the back of his neck.

The next moment the boy was in the grasp of a policeman, who dragged him away to the nearest police station. He was being charged by the constable with assault when the duchess entered. She spoke kindly to the gamin, and then explained the affair to the inspector on duty.

At her request the boy was set at liberty, and he stayed only long enough to say to the inspector:

"It's the lady what nursed me when the cab run over me leg."

A Sure Cure For Consumption.

There is no such thing. Scott's Emulsion comes the nearest to it, but even that will not cure advanced cases, but, taken in time, it will cure this disease.

There is probably nothing purer than the motive of a man who lends money to a mother when he never expects to get it back.

Burdock Blood Bitters.

CURES SCROFULA. Mrs. James Carr, Umfraville, Hastings Co., Ont., says: "My little boy, two and a half years old, was in a terrible condition and suffered a great deal from scrofulous sores. My husband bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for him and gave it to him, and by the time he had finished the second bottle there was not a sore to be seen. On account of this wonderful cure I can honestly recommend B.B.B. to all who suffer from any disease arising from bad blood."

CURES BOILS. Mr. Oliver J. Murray, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes as follows: "About six months ago I was troubled with painful boils, for which I could get nothing to cure me. As a last resort I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. One bottle completely rid me of boils, and my health was never better than at present."

Success is frequently the result of your ability to persuade others to accept you at your own valuation.

Great Things From Little Causes Grow.—It takes very little to derange the stomach. The cause may be slight, a cold, something eaten or drunk, anxiety, worry, or some other simple cause. But if precaution be not taken, this simple cause may have most serious consequences. Many a chronically debilitated constitution to-day owes its destruction to simple causes not dealt with in time. Keep the digestive apparatus in healthy condition and all will be well. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are better than any other for the purpose.

The fear that people will find them out serves most men better than a conscience.

For a clear complexion, take Petty's Pills. They never fail to clear the skin. Thousand of ladies swear by them.

Only a very small man ever attempts to belittle others.

Bob McCready.

Above is a splendid portrait of Bob McCready, one of the best football players in Canada. He is a member of the Ottawa University team, and has been in all of its championship matches. He is a splendid specimen of robust Canadian manhood, but, strong as he is, he has known what it is to suffer from dyspepsia. So seriously affected was he at the opening of the past (1899) season, that he was not able to go out with his team. Pains in the back and sides, intermittent headache, and the awful pangs he suffered after eating, the result of an impaired digestion, warned him that he was in no condition to play football, the hardest of all games. Besides, he lacked the energy to carry him through a campaign. He consulted his physician, but that gentleman gave him no relief. "At this stage," he writes, "I was advised to try Dr. Petty's Pills, the new remedy that one of my friends assured me was wonderful in its effects. I was skeptical, but he sounded their praises so persistently that I was at length induced to try them. The very first dose drove the pain away, and at the end of a week I rejoined my team, and I have come through one of our hardest seasons in the best form that I have ever been in. Dr. Petty's Pills are about to thank for my fine condition. They are the best medicine I have ever taken. They make one so strong and so full of energy. I, for one, shall never take any other when I feel in need of a strengthener." Such is the recommendation of this well known athlete, and such will be the experience of everyone who tries this wonderful remedy. If your druggist cannot supply you, write to us, enclosing price 50 cents a bottle, six bottles for $2.50. Address The Dr. Petty Medicine Co., Ottawa, Canada.
