FEVERSHAM

Mr and Mrs Jas Henderson of Meaford and Mrs Frank Curran of McIntyre spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs R H Henderson.

Mrs Will Colquette has returned to her home in Port McNicholl after a few weeks' visit with friends in this village.

The U.F.O. aspirant for Peacock Alley at Ottawa started the campaign in this part of the riding by a stirring speech in the Orange Hall here on Saturday night And say, by the doleful story she told us of the farmer's life from the cradle to the grave, which if it be true, we did not wonder that the man in the moon had his face covered when it came up over the mountain on Sunday evening At first sight of it we thought that the time had come when the sun and moon should be darkened and the end of the world had come. What a happy release for the Organization she represents from the awful tyranny of the village, town and city people that they have had to endure all their lives. According to her story it would surely be a release if they even did not reach a land that is fairer than day, but had to go down below. But then we know that people often imagine things and if Miss McPhail found such conditions existing as she pictured around the six corners they are a lot different from conditions in this part of the country as there is no life like the farm life in Osprey. We were brought up on a farm and farmed for ourselves for 30 years and should know a little about it.

Mr and Mrs Geo Badger of Asquith, Sask., visited recently with their nieces, Mrs M Hurst and Mrs Bert Hockley of Feversham.
