BLUES

Ever have them? Then we can't tell you anything about them. You know how dark everything looks and how you are about ready to give up. Somehow, you can't throw off the terrible depression.

Are things really so blue? Isn't it your nerves, after all? That's where the trouble is. Your nerves are being poisoned from the impurities in your blood.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

purifies the blood, and gives power and stability to the nerves. It makes health and strength, activity and cheerfulness.

This is what "Ayer's" will do for you. It's the oldest Sarsaparilla in the land, the kind that was old before other Sarsaparillas were known.

This also accounts for the saying, "One bottle of Ayer's is worth three bottles of the ordinary kind."

TO THE LOSER.

So you've lost your race, lad?
Skin it clean and fast?
Beaten at the tape, lad?
Rough? Yes, but 'tis past.
Never mind the losing—
Think of how you ran;
Smile, and shut your teeth, lad—
Take it like a man.
Not the winning counts, lad,
Nor the winning fair;
Not the losing shames, lad,
But the weak despair;
So when failure stuns you,
Don't forget your plan—
Smile and shut your teeth, lad—
Take it like a man!
Diamonds turned to paste, lad?
Night instead of morn?
Where you'd pluck a rose, lad,
Oft you'd grasp a thorn?
Time will heal the bleeding—
Life is but a span;
Smile and shut your teeth, lad—
Take it like a man!
Then when sunset comes, lad,
When your fighting's through,
And the silent Guest, lad,
Fills his cup for you,
Shrink not—sleep it coolly—
Mad as you began;
Smile and close your eyes, lad,
And take it like a man!

FORESTRY IN THE NORTHWEST.

The work of the Winnipeg Forestry Association is attracting much interest in the West. Farmers are more than ever before impressed with the importance of tree culture and are studying the question with a view to ascertaining the best varieties to foster on prairie land as shelter belts. It is claimed that the best protection is to be secured from small groves rather than from forests, and the cottonwood is strongly recommended.

Humors.

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way, but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

"So you quarrelled with George," said one young woman. "Yes," answered the other, with much pathos. "Is your engagement broken off?" "Oh, no, I told him I never wanted to see his face again, and he said he would leave me forever. But we didn't go so far as to break off the engagement.

Run Down.

A DELICATE CHILD

Let a delicate child take a little Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil after breakfast or dinner—not too much—too much will upset the stomach. Better too little than too much.

The effect will be slow; it ought to be slow. In a week, you will see it began the first day. Don't be in a hurry.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

RIDING THE BELLS.

The ringing of a bell is not, as a rule, a performance peculiarly trying to the nerves, but there is one set of bell ringers the members of which must know no fear, for a moment of tremor would in all probability be for them the moment of death. They are the bell ringers of the Giralda, in Seville. The Baltimore American calls their method of ringing unique. It ought to be, surely.

When the city is to make merry on high days the ringers climb to the belfry, and then, by the aid of a rope and steps cut in the wall of the tower, each mounts to the bell he is to ring, and stands astride the shoulder of the brazen monster. Then he presses the bell with his feet, holding on to the crosspiece upon which the mass of metal is swung.

Gradually the great bell sways to the muscular movement of the man astride it until it acquires an momentum that swings the hammer, first gently, and then with increasing force as the sweep of the bell widens, until the air trembling from the giant blows that strike the massive sides of the monster.

The mere vibration of the atmosphere, as the huge bell rings out, would be enough to make an unpractised ringer turn dizzy and fall from his perch. But this is not all, for it is not one but many bells that are ringing in the belfry at the same time in obedience to the movements of their riders, and the clang and din is deafening.

Notwithstanding all, however, the riders bend, and rise and fall with the motion of the bells, now appearing to the observer from below to be in a perfectly horizontal position as the bell reaches the limit of its swing and again rising gracefully to an upright position as the monster sways backward with another thundering note.

The most terrifying part of the daring performance is the sight of the bell-ringer calmly swaying the bell while it hangs far out of the belfry over the city; for the outward swing sends the counterpoise with the ringer into the space beyond the arch, and one can see the ringers astride their brazen mounts borne far out into space.

Attention in the world of homeopathic medicine has been its very source of progress, as in politics and religion—the difficulties of opinions and the individuality of men have been parent to the disagreement by which the standard of these bodies have been elevated. So with most of our famous preparations—foremost in illustration of which truth stands the world-famous remedy to general debility and anguor, "Quinine Wine,"—and which when obtainable in its genuine strength, is a miraculous creator of appetite, vitality and stamina, to the general fertility of the system. Quinine Wine, and its improvement, has, from the first discovery of the great virtues of Quinine as a medical agent, been one of the most thoroughly discussed remedies ever offered to the public. It is one of the great tonics and natural life-living stimulants which the medical profession have been compelled to recognize and prescribe. Messrs. Northrop and Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the preparation of their pure Quinine Wine the great care due to its importance, and the standard excellence of the article which they offer to the public comes into the market purged of all the defects which skilled observation and scientific opinion has pointed out in the less perfect preparations of the latter.

Don't Despair

Even if you are troubled with Backache and not able to attend to your household duties. If you have not used Doan's Pills you can be absolutely cured by them.

PROOF FROM ONE OF MANY.

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 26th, 1901.
Doan's Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.
Dear Sirs,—I have been suffering for 12 years from kidney trouble. I had terrible backache and was troubled with dizziness. My urine was scanty, highly colored and contained a thick sticky sediment. I consulted physicians without any success and almost gave up in despair. At last I saw Doan's Pills advertised, so I procured two boxes of them and they gave me a complete cure and I can attend to my household duties without trouble. I can recommend Doan's Pills and must say that they should be tried by all who suffer from kidney trouble.

The Torture of ECZEMA Prevented Sleep.

Mr. Paul Larivière, Meadowville Station, Pictou Co., N.S., writes us follows: "I shall always praise Burdock Blood Bitters as the best remedy for skin diseases. I had been suffering from Salt Rheum or Eczema for the past five years and could not get any rest from the terrible burning and itching, which was worse at night and prevented me sleeping.

"Hearing of B.B.B. I thought I would try it, and after using one bottle I was so much relieved that I continued using it, taking six bottles in all, and am now completely cured."

It is a blessing that there is such a reliable remedy as B.B.B. for those tortured day and night with terrible skin diseases and who can get no relief from their misery.

Apply it externally and it takes out the fire and itch and aids in the healing process.

Take it internally and it purifies the blood of all those poisons which are the source of skin eruptions.

B.B.B. Cures Eczema and all Burning, Itching Skin Diseases.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. The proprietors claim that it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

Shattered Nerves and Weakened System,

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

Have You Had La Grippe?
Did It Leave any After Effects?

If it did, read what Mr. F. J. Beophy, of Montreal, Que., has to say of, the good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did him.

He Writes: "I had a very severe attack of La grippe, which left me all run down, very nervous and extremely weak. I could not sleep at night and was troubled with profuse perspiration, which caused me much annoyance. Hearing of the good effects of Milburn's Pills, I began taking them. Much to my gratification they braced me up, invigorated my whole system, and made me feel like a new man. I can recommend them to all suffering as I did.

Colic and Kidney Difficulty.—Mr. J. W. Wilder, J. P., Fairgrieville, N. Y., writes: "I am yet subject to severe attacks of colic and kidney difficulty, and find Parmelee's Pills afford me great relief, while all other remedies have failed. They are the best medicine I have ever used." In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body."

DR WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

This season of the year when coughs and colds are so prevalent, it would be advisable to keep a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in the house.

It allays all inflammation and irritation of the breathing organs, and cures coughs and colds of young and old more quickly and effectually than any other remedy.

Mrs. Arthur Molaskey, White's Point, Queen's Co., N.B., writes: "In the fall of 1899, I was taken down with a severe attack of La Grippe which left me with a bad cough. I tried several remedies and could obtain no relief and was almost in despair of a cure when a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I took three bottles in all and it made a complete cure."

Invention springs from the wise choice of common thoughts and things.

There is danger in neglecting a cold. Many who have died of consumption have dated their troubles from exposure followed by a cold which settled on their lungs, and in a short time they were beyond the skill of the best physician. Had they used Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, before it was too late, their lives would have been spared. This medicine has no equal for curing coughs, colds and all affections of the throat and lungs.

ALCOHOL AND ATHLETICS.

All good trainers and all good competitors agree on the rule that abstinence from alcoholic fluids and beverages is absolutely necessary. I am myself an abstainer, because by being one I am stronger, lighter and better than if I were not, and can get through much work, mental and physical, with ease and pleasure. I also teach the practice of abstinence unhesitatingly and boldly for the personal reasons named, and for many other reasons resting on scientific data.

But this does not influence me in what I am now teaching. Athleticism is an exceptional practice, and I felt that alcoholic fluids would, as drinks, help the athlete under any circumstances. I would say use them exceptionally, just as I might say in cases of disease. No, what influences me is my experience. I gained long before I became an abstainer. I know the value of abstinence during the period of training and the danger of indulgence. So long as you are in course of preparation touch not the hurtful thing; it will be sure to undermine all the qualities on which you depend for success. It will injure your precision, your decision, your presence of mind and your endurance.

The famous trainer who taught me the four qualities put me up to that. He was not well when he was himself training for a great race, and finding him below par in the matter of circulatory power, I advised him to indulge in a little alcohol to help him through. He resented this at once. It would take away every chance, as it did in the case of one of his opponents. Weston gave the same testimony. When he walked 400 miles in five days he abstained totally; and when he walked the 5000 miles in 100 days he abstained totally; and when he walked his long and uninterrupted course from Brighton to London he assured me that a single glass of sherry or a nip of brandy would reduce his activity. He was not regularly an abstainer. When he was at liberty he enjoyed as a luxury a glass of wine or a tumbler of ale, but when he was in competition it was absolutely necessary for him to refrain altogether.

HER ASPIRATIONS.

Mrs. Gooph—Ducky, why don't you do something great and noble and get your name in the Hall of Fame?

Mr. Gooph—But a man must be dead ten years to have his name placed there, even if he is qualified.

No family living in a bilious country should be without Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. A few doses taken now and then will keep the liver active, cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious matter and prevent ague. Mr. J. L.
