Just seven more days until the big event comes off that will decide which party will have the destiny of the Dominion in its hands. This is one of the most decisive elections that has been fought in the last fifty years or so. Nobody can tell just now which party will be in power, but whoever is, we hope the country will be governed by a force that will give Canada years of prosperity.

Mr. W. H. Bunt attended the funeral of his aunt, Fannie M. Bunt, which took place at Woodbridge on Wednesday of last week. The circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Bunt are tragic, as she was found dead in bed asphyxiated by gas. She was last seen on Saturday evening and when there was no sign of life around the place the neighbors became alarmed and searched the house with the above result. The late Miss Bunt was in her 71st year and is the last of the line of the Bunt family living around Woodbridge.

Some excitement was caused in town Sunday afternoon in an effort to catch a weasel that had invaded W. Stewart's yard. The fight was short but fierce and the little animal was finally captured.

One U.F.O. man in Southeast Grey says he cannot vote for Aggie McPhail because she is a member of the Latter Day Saints' Church. If Aggie can keep that bonehead writing letters against her on that score her majority should be "vaster than has been." We got this quotation from one of Sir William Mulock's old 2-cent postage stamps.—Orangeville Sun.

At County Council last week the following resolution was passed: Moved by Mr. Meads, seconded by Mr. Mathewson, "That the Provincial Government be memorialized to change the area of game reserve at Eugenia to release the lands adjacent to the Hydro property to high water mark, also town plot of Eugenia."

Municipal matters here appear to be attracting a little more attention than usual this year. The Advance is informed that there are likely to be three aspirants in the field for the Reeveship, the present incumbent, Mr. Meads, also T. R. McKenzie and Harry Shaw. The more the merrier. There will be no Deputy Reeve for Artemesia next year.

With ice on the roads Sunday, autoists practically took their lives in their hands. Several near accidents are reported and some that were real. The worst we have heard of occurred Sunday night south of the village, when a car driven by Bert McMillan of Dundalk and another with R. Acheson as driver, collided head on owing to the slippery condition of the road. The latter's car did not suffer much injury, but McMillan was thrown through the windshield and the car was otherwise injured. In the impact McMillan had three of his front teeth broken off, which he deplores more than the injury to the car.

Do Not Sacrifice Registered Ram Lambs

A letter from the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association has been received by the Department of Agriculture, Markdale, which should be heeded by our Breeders of Registered Sheep. It says, in part,: "It appears that during the past few years considerable numbers of pure-bred rams have been sold by Field men of the Sheep division of the Live Stock Branch, Ottawa, to Quebec farmers, and this has been followed up with demonstrations in proper care and management and co-operative marketing of lambs. The results have been very satisfactory, as proven by the fact that these Field men sold, in 1920, between 300 and 400 pure-bred rams to Quebec farmers. In 1921 they have placed between 400 and 500 pure-bred rams. Naturally, the first sourc eof supply of rams is from the Breeders of pure-bred sheep in Quebec. This supply has failed to meet the demand and in the fall of 1922, it is expected that Ontario Breeders will be called upon to supply between three and four-hundred pure-bred rams, for the Quebec trade. The breeds most largely in demand in Quebec province are, Oxfords, Shropshire and Hampshire. Shearling rams are required for this trade, and as many good ram lambs of the above mentioned breeds will be going to market this Fall, we take this opportunity of passing the information along to you, in order that you may select out your best ram lambs, and keep them over until the Fall of 1922. Only the best lambs should be kept, as this Quebec trade is becoming more discriminating."

This is advice which is worthy of weighty consideration.

A Russian at Collingwood was sentenced to 6 months at Burwash for vagrancy.

Dr. Hershey of Owen Sound died suddenly last week.

Lorne Smith of Durham had the skin on the back of his hand stripped off down to the sinews when an engine back fired. No bones were broken but it required twenty stitches to put it in shape.

Mr. Ball's Meeting

Mr. R. J. Ball, Liberal Conservative candidate in South-East Grey, held a meeting in the high school on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of ratepayers. Mr. Jos. Blakely occupied the chair. C. R. McKeown of Orangeville and R. C. Henders of Winnipeg were advertised to be present but failed to put in an appearance. Mr. Agnew, a lawyer from Toronto and Mr. Ball, himself, were present and delivered two good addresses. Mr. Agnew is a native of this district and is an eloquent and convincing speaker.

Mr. Ball reviewed the acts of the union government and said it had passed through very trying times with honor and its financial measures had been satisfactory. He believed the country needed adequate protection and the farmers themselves needed it as much as anybody. He believed the Liberal leader incompetent and a wobbler, blowing hot and cold in different parts of the Dominion. Owing to the Fordney Bill he thought it madness to talk free trade. He thought Mr. Crerar was making progress backward and that Wood, who was born in Missouri, "ran Crerar and the whole bunch."

Three cheers were given for Mr. Ball and Premier Meighen, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

One or two gentlemen in the hall attempted to heckle the speakers, but the chairman ended this in a very nice and gentlemanly way, when he eulogized the order maintained, saying it was better than at some of our prayer meetings, where they sometimes had two or three babies crying.

The sad news has reached the Herald of the death of Lincoln Smith, a former well known resident of Osprey township. He was found dead in his room in Toronto with the gas jet turned on. If he deliberately took his own life, the motive for the rash act is not known. After leaving Osprey, three or four years ago, he started a detective agency in Toronto but latterly he had been in the building trade.—Dundalk Herald.
