The Walkerton Telescope complains that very few weddings have taken place there during the past few months. Probably the price of licenses has something to do with it. Even the extreme beauty of Walkerton girls cannot overcome such a handicap The government outght to put on a bargain sale of licenses for a few months to liven things up. The same obtains here, but we hate to acknowledge it.

Arson Charge Dismissed

The trial of Frank Stanley on the charge of setting fire to his barn in Bruce Township last spring, and which was ventilated before His Honor Judge Klein at Walkerton on Monday and Tuesday last, says the Times Herald, when over thirty witnesses testified in the matter, resulted in acquital and the dismissal of the case. A charge of attempting to defraud the insurance company by claiming, it is alleged, for greater losses in cattle, hay, etc., than he really sustained is still in progress at time of going to press, while an additional charge of perjury is yet to be tried. Crown Attorney Dixon and O E Klein are appearing for the prosecution, while W H. Wright K C. of Owen Sound and R. J. Stewart of Kincardine are looking after the interests of the accused.

Later Stanley was found guilty of attempting to defraud and sentence was postponed.

A visitor to our town on Thursday, who attracted much attention, was Roderick McKenzie, the Ashfield giant who had come up from Kansas, Mo, to see his father, Mr. Neil McKenzie, who is seriously ill at Goderich Little wonder that Mr. McKenzie should attract much attention when he appears on the street of town or city. He is one of the biggest men in the world—7 feet, 4 inches in height, and weighing 428 pounds. Unlike many men of unusual size, Mr. McKenzie is straight and well proportioned. He is 54 years of age and enjoys good health, is an intelligent and interesting conversationalist, and he has much of interest to talk about, as he has travelled all over the civilized world.-Lucknow Sentinel.

The Bell Telephone Co is out for another increase in rates. If the Railway Commission allows the increase then the new cabinet would be doing a good day's business by letting Frank Carvell out of his job as chairman of the Commission. The Bell Company can't expect higher dividends while it has such tremendous overhead expenses. The manager puts down a salary of $30,000 a year and spends a good deal of the summer months at the Caledon Trout Club of which he is a director, the Vice President has a cabinet position looking like small potatoes, for he gets $20,000 a year, the second Vice President has $10,000 annually for his share, the general superintendent $8 000 0h, to be a Bell Telephone magnate The rentals and tolls pay the whole shot.
