The Good Roads Committee has cut estimates about $80,000 less than last year. There is also a cut in the wage rate, which this summer will be $2.50 for man, ten hours ; man and team $5, to draw one and a half yards of gravel, and $4 if only one yard is drawn.

The ladies are putting on a big carnival at the rink on Friday evening of this week. They have gone to a lot of trouble and expense and are putting up a big list of prizes, for which see bills. It is expected that this will be the event of the season. The proceeds go to the Memorial Park fund.

What about a Horticultural Society for Flesherton? Meaford is forming one this winter and Durham has had one for years. There should be a sufficient number of citizens in Flesherton interested in horticulture and arboriculture to make a society of this nature a success. It is worth discussing.

The Province of Ontario derived a revenue of $2,945,000 from motor vehicle licenses last year, and still they want more ! How would it do for them to stick a license on all other pleasure vehicles, including baby carriages? Now that they have raised the mariage license fee, a little tax on "spooney" buggies and baby carriages wouldn't make much difference. Tax 'em, anyway. Our very economical government needs the money.

Prince Arthur Lodge, A.F. and A.M. enjoyed their annual banquet on Friday night last, in the high school auditorium, when about 125 members and their friends were present at a choice banquet and sociable evening There were a few present from Priceville and Maxwell, but the evening was rough, preventing others from attending. The event was very enjoyable for all present.

Thursday last was Candlemas Day—the day when bears, groundhogs and skunks came out to look for their shadow. It stormed all day, a real snowstorm, and as the menagerie would have had to climb four or five miles into the sky in order to throw a shadow, they all went back to their excavations, and we can now rest assured that winter will not continue more than three months longer We venture that as a prediction, a la Mr. Bowes.

Mrs. George McTavish gave an unique party on Saturday last, when she invited eight babies of the town to a birthday party for Master Dan, who was one year old that day. Of course the babies had to bring their mothers along. Just imagine the fun they had examining each other's toes and sticking their fingers into each other's eyes. Of those eight babies every one of them was more beautiful and more cute than its neighbor. The infants all passed a roaring vote of thanks to Master Dan and his mother. The Advance is only two doors away and we heard 'em.

Mrs. Charles F. Sims

Following a lingering illness of five months, Sarah Elizabeth Badgerow, beloved wife of Charles F. Sims, passed away at her home on Scarlet Rd, Weston, Ont., Wednesday, Jan. 11th, 1922. The deceased was born in Artemesia township, Grey county, and later on lived in Toronto, coming to Weston eleven years ago. She attended the Weston Methodist church and had made many friends in the community, who will miss her friendly smile and pleasant companionship, and deeply sympathise with the bereaved family in their sorrow. Her husband, one son—Norman—at home, and one daughter—Mrs. R J. Kingdon of Scarlet Road—survive. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wallwyn of the Weston Methodist church, at her late residence, on Jan. 13, interment taking place at the Riverside cemetery, Weston.

Byron Stauffer is entirely right in saying that "a very scholarly man, fitted in every way to be a statesman, was defeated by an intellectual inferior who was a better 'mixer'." That is the weakest link in our democracy. It so often prefers the "mixer," who often turns out to be nothing more.—Bruce Herald and Times

Frank Stanley, the Bruce township farmer who was found guilty of making fraudulent claims in connection with his fire insurance, was sentenced by Judge Klein to one month in jail. His Honor stated that he had made the sentence very light owing to the big petition that had been received from Stanley's neighbors urging his previously good character etc. Stanley is to appear on Feb. 9th to answer two perjury charges, but it is likely these charges will be dropped by the Crown—Telescope.

Gave Note For Premium

On September 4th, 1919, Arthur E. McNeil of Goderich, insured his life with the North America Life for $1,000, giving promissory note for the premium and receiving a receipt and Policy. His note for premium was twice renewed, and had not been paid when he died on February 20th. 1920 The company refused to pay the amount of the policy on the grounds that the premium had not been paid. In this they were upheld by Justice Kelly, who dismissed an action by the administrator of McNeil to recover the insurance. The Appellate Division gave judgment reversing Justice Kelly, and allowing the administrator's appeal. The company, it is held, had dealt with the note, and must pay the insurance.—Exchange.

Found Dead In Bed

A death occurred at McIntyre Monday under distressing circumstances, when the infant son of Mr and Mrs Frank Curran was found dead in bed at its mother's side. When the parents went to bed Sunday night the babe was apparently all right. When the mother awakened at 4 a m Monday she found it dead.—Dr. Guy was called and stated the little thing had been dead at least four hours. It was only 10 weeks old. The young parents have much sympathy extended them.

The report comes from Ottawa that the estimates for the Militia Department are to be cut to the bone, and not before it is time. When Sir Wilfred Laurier was holding the reins of power there were but two Generals on the pay roll, drawing $5,000 a year each. To-day there are seventeen on the pay roll, receiving an average salary of about $9,000. The necessity for the retention of this galaxy of feathers and gold braid has happily passed away and the country must be relieved of this military burden.—Newmarket Era
