A team belonging to Mr. Spofford of Osprey ran away from in front of the harness shop one day last week and made the trip down the Toronto line for a mile and a half before they were headed off by Mr. C. At the home of Mr Elijah Paul Eugenia, on St. Valentines day was the scene of a very interesting event, when the youngest daughter Sarah was united in marriage to Mr Robert Smith of the same place. Oke of the village of Flesherton About twenty guests, relatives of the bride and groom, sat down to a wedding breakfast. The young couple will reside in Eugenia. The amalgamation of the Merchants Bank with the Bank of Montreal which was formally ratified by the shareholders of the former bank a few days ago means that the largest and strongest banking institution in America now has a branch in Flesherton. The business public who have been so well served by Manager H. P. Ferrier and his staff in the past may count upon the same good service from now on under the title of "Bank of Montreal". It takes some time to make the necessary changes in the bank's stationery, window signs etc. but it is expected that this will all be accomplished by the month of April.

A carload of planed lumber was delivered at this station last week for erecting the pheasantry on the island in the big hydro pond at Eugenia. The Advance and many others would like to learn who was the instigator of this enterprise? We presume it is the Game and Fisheries Department of the Ontario Government which purposes experimenting in this species of pet stock. We think, ourselves, that it would be a better speculation for the Department to go into raising foxes, skunks and mink for their fur rather than the useless pheasants for sporting purposes. Or they might have leased the island for such use and thus brought in a little money to help bring the cost of lighting down.

One day last week a gentleman at Rock Mills discovered some tracks in the snow near a burrow, which he decided were made by a skunk. With dreams of securing the nucleus for a fur farm he procured tools and began excavating along the line of the burrow. After laboring for some time the burrow apparently went off at an angle and he reached in his hand to see which direction it took, when something grabbed hold of his hand and hung on like a British bulldog. He yanked his hand out of the hole and brought with it—a poor little sleepy groundhog. Ask Jimmy Porteous when he intends to start his skunk farm. But don't do so after his lacerated hand gets better. Now's the time.

Big Fire In Owen Sound

Owen Sound, Ont., Feb. 16—Owen Sound tonight suffered the worst fire that has visited the city in yesrs, when the big three story building on Second Avenue, known as the Kilburn Block, was wiped out, the estimated loss being at least $240,000. The bulk of the damage was to the stock of W. T. Harris and Company, wholesale grocers, who occupied the entire ground floor of the building and a section of the upper floors, their loss being placed roughly at $200,000, while the building loss will be about $40,000. The structure was owned by George Kilburn and F. H. Kilburn, barristers, who had offices in the building and who lost all their books and records, the Empire Stove works, who also had an office on the upper floor.

The Kilburn building, of which only the walls are standing tonight, was located in the heart of the business section and grave fears were felt that the flames would take in adjoining buildings. The fire was discovered about 8 30 p.m, when a passerby noticed smoke issuing from the furnace room.

Nine persons were tenants of the upper floors, but all made their escape. One of them, Hugh McDonald, a cripple, on the top floor, was carried out by two fellow tenants who had to smash their way through two doors to reach safety.

William Spears, a farmer living near Colborne, Ont., was fined $15 and costs of $127 50, with an alternative of three months, for inhuman treatment of James Crust, a 13 year-old Barnardo boy. The lad's fingers and feet were badly froxen and his clothes was utterly inadequate for cold weather.—Orangeville Banner

Fire At Markdale

The fire alarm awakened the residents of the village about six o'clock Saturday morning, when it was discovered the grist mill belonging to F.T. Hill & Co. Ltd., was on fire. When first seen by residents in the vicinity of the mill, the fire had made such headway as to render an attempt at saving anything out of the question. The mill had been in operation on Friday and at closing time everything was in good shape as usual. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Besides the building, a heavy stock of flour, wheat and corn, (just unloaded the day before), was completely destroyed. on which, we understand, no insurance was carried.

The building was erected by the late John Ford about 45 years ago and sold to the Hill firm about three years ago. The building had been recently repaired and enlarged and an extensive business carried on. The water power is undamaged and it is hoped that the mill may be rebuilt, although the Hills may not undertake its re-erection.

The burning of the mill is a big loss to the community, as it supplied a needed source of supply for mill feed and the crushing of grains. The building was insured.—Standard

HOCKEY!

Another Junior game was held here in which the Dundalk Tuxis boys came up to beat up the Flesherton boys, but went back downhearted but not discouraged, with the small end of a 5-4 score. The game was fairly fast, but was clean, no penalties being handed out on either side. Dundalk started off with a rush and scored before the natives got their breath, but were held down the rest of the period while the locals shoved in four. None were scored in the second period but in the third the visitors woke up and slammed in three while Flesherton only secured one more. These two teams are evenly matched and put up hockey that is practically as interesting to watch as Senior. Armstrong played best for Flesherton, he shooting in three of the five goals.

Don't miss the game here tonight with the Dundalk Intermediates.

Black Foxes Captured

The two black foxes that escaped from Mr. Peter MacPherson's ranch in Proton are reported to have been captured. One was caught by Mr McIntosh near St. Patrick's Church, Proton. A party who caught it first was bitten and let it go, it is said, but it was again captured. It is said that the other fox was caught in a trap near Damascus. The owner of the trap says the animal was dead and it is reported that he showed the carcass but declined to show the hide.

The two little black foxes worth anywhere from $600 to $1000 a piece, caused about as much excitement as the three hundred foxes that Samson caught and sent with firebrand among the crops of the Philistines. People were seeing and reporting black foxes everywhere. Dogs and cats were transmuted into foxes. A harmless necessary black pussy in Mount Forest was reported one of the missing pair; at least that is the report.

We suppose that we have not heard the last of the one reported trapped at Damascus. The hide is worth a lot of money —Mount Forest Confederate.

On Tuesday morning about half past seven, Oscar Wyant, teamster for Mr. E. J. Bellman, met a sad death by accident at the Bellman farm on St. Clair street. With the team he was preparing to take on a load of beef at the barn when the horses became frightened and ran away. In an attempt to check them Mr. Wyant reached for the lines and in so doing fell across the whiffletree. With a hold on but one he tried to stop them, but unfortunately they collided with an apple tree and in the collision Wyant was caught and received such injuries as to cause his death. When picked up by Mr. Irwin, who conducts the farm, he was breathing, but before medical assistance could be summoned he passed away.—Meaford Mirror.
