VACATION OVER

Comes the saddened traveller home,
Come the tourists tramping;
Manners jogging, footsteps slow,
Heads and spirits drooping.
Office desk and, working chair,
Wait reluctant rover;
Work is piled up in arrears,
Vacation time is over.

Past the lazy nook with rod,
By the grassy river,
Past the idyllic, dreamy nall;
Drifting on forever.
Past the blissful lack of care,
With its joys that hover;
Comes again the worry time,
Vacation days are over.

Pitch into the work ahead,
No more dawdling hour;
Face the problems coming fast,
Grip them with new power:
From the worries of the day,
Flee no more to cover;
You have had your time to play,
Vacation now is over.

CAUTIOUS PRAISE.

Mr. Orchardson, the famous English artist, has lately given the public an insight into his experiences with golf—that mysterious game so fascinating to the initiated, of which the charm is so incomprehensible to the outsider.

It is but recently that Mr. Orchardson, who is past middle life, although in the prime of healthful vigor, has transferred his affections from hunting and tennis, his former favorite sports, to the national game of his country—for he is a Scotchman. He played his first game of golf at St. Andrew's.

"I remember," he says, "I had the queerest, most solemn-looking caddie imaginable. I made a fearful mess of it at first, and the little chap looked on without a word. At last, when I had finished the round, he looked up at me in the funniest way, and simply said:

"'It's mae use playin' golf unless ye larn it as a laddie.'

"But I must tell you that the next day I had this same caddie, and I got on much better. I was almost annoyed with him for not praising me, for he was as silent as on the day before. But when we finished, he turned to me and said, as if resuming our last conversion, 'Aweel, A' dinna ken.'"

Being a Scot himself, the artist was therefore satisfied with what he doubtless interpreted as a handsome apology and hearty encouragement.

TALK "SHOP" WITH YOUR WIFE

It pays a man to make his wife a real partner in his business. A genuine partnership between husband and wife gives them a never-ending subject of absorbing conversation. There is no bond in the world so strong between people as that of common interest. There is no talk so fascinating as shop. The husband and wife who can spend an evening in an animated discussion of the price of silk, or the best way to build a house or, write a poem, are never dull or bored by each other. You never see that kind of a man running about of an evening hunting amusement away from home. You never see that kind of a woman complaining because she has to economize or to do her own work. And you never hear that couple wailing that married life is dull.

Poor and content, is rich, and rich enough.

The fool doth think he is wise, but the wise man knows himself to be a fool.

Do not plunge thyself too far in anger, lest thou hasten thy trial.

Wisely and slow—they stumble that run fast.

Smooth runs the water, where the brook is deep.

He that wants money, means, and content is without three good friends.

ROBT. BENNETT, Acton

FEMALE SEXTON.

London has only one official sexton, ess, whose name and title are painted in gold on the board outside the City Church in which she carries out her peculiar duties. The Church, which is on Ludgate Hill, has a tall spire, which obstructs the view of St. Paul's as seen from Ludgate Circus, and thus mars one of the finest architectural perspectives in the world. The sextoness's office would require her to dig graves, but there is no churchyard, stately shops and offices having come to occupy God's acre.

HE KNEW.

The first witness called in a petty lawsuit in Cincinnati was an Irishman of whose competence as a witness opposing counsel entertained doubt. At their instance there was put to him before being sworn the usual interrogatory, "Do you know the nature of an oath?"

A broad grin spread over the face of the Irishman as he replied:

"Indade, your honor, I may say that it is sworn nature with me."

What stronger breastplate than a heart untainted?

To the noble mind, rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind.

Gold that's put to use more gold begets.

BUSINESS VICISSITUDES.

The annals of commerce are not entirely without a spice of romance. There is a little retributive justice that savors of the novelist's art in the way the spoiler is sometimes spoiled in business relations. In an article entitled "Made in Japan," the Pall Mall Gazette shows how nations have encroached upon one another's business, and reaped for a time a rich harvest, only to see the same tactics employed by a rival people, and be forced to stand aside while the trade slipped from their hands into the keeping of another nation.

In old times the Dutch, by importing English clay, made a good profit out of imitations of Chinese porcelain, and presently the Dutch product became established in the markets of the world as Delft ware.

But the Dutchman was no more secure in his profitable trade than had been his predecessor, the Chinaman. The English potters took to copying the Dutch patterns, and sold their pottery much cheaper, and the north of England became headquarters for the Delft china.

Again, however, the spoiler has been spoiled. Of late the Japanese have made themselves masters of the art of reproducing the patterns best liked in England, and have begun to encroach on the domain long monopolized by the English potter. The Japanese product is finer and stronger, and above all cheaper than the best English ware, and Japan is providing the markets with goods which were originally a Chinese monopoly.

To weep is to make less the depth of grief.

There's nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellog of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1028 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Mrs Pinkham:

"For five years I was troubled with a tumor which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female trouble.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

Sudden sorrow serves to say, thus,—some good thing comes to-morrow.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

There's beggary in the love that can be reckoned.

It Is Known Everywhere.—There is not a city, town or hamlet in Canada where Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is not known—wherever introduced it made a foothold for itself and maintained it. Some merchants may suggest some other remedy as equally beneficial. Such recommendations should be received with doubt. There is only one Eclectric Oil, and that is Dr. Thomas'. Take nothing else.

Men at some time are masters of their fates.

King of All Cough Medicine.

Mr. E. G. Case, a mail carrier of Canton Centre, Conn., who has been in the U. S. Service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for croup, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad effects." For sale by all druggists.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

There never was and never will be a universal panacea in one remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir. What would relieve one ill in turn would aggravate the others. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound, unadulterated state a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves those to whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and by tranquilizing the nerves disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which being stimulated, courses through the veins, strengthening the healthy, animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result strengthening the frame and giving life to the digestive organs which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman of Toronto have given to the public their superior Quinine Fly the opinion of scientists, the wine approaches nearest perfection of any of the market. All druggists sell it.

He patient, for the world is broad and wide.

It is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

So popular is Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup as a medicine in the treatment of colds and coughs or ailments of the throat, due to exposure, to draughts, or sudden changes of temperature, that druggists and all dealers in patent medicines keep supplies on hand to meet the demand. It is pleasant to take, and the use of it guarantees freedom from throat and lung diseases.

Burdock Blood Bitters

CURES Dyspepsia, Boils, Pimples, Headaches, Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scrofula, and all troubles arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

Mrs. A. Lethangue, of Hallyburton, Ont., writes: "I believe I would have been in my grave long ago had it not been for Burdock Blood Bitters. I was confined to such an extent that I could scarcely move about the house. I was subject to severe headaches, backaches and dizziness; my appetite was gone and I was unable to do my housework. After using two bottles of B.B.B. I found my health fully restored, a warm recommend to all tired and worn out women."

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlains Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus tide over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to "change of life." I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

With mirth and laughter let old wrinkles come.

Tested by Time.—In his justly celebrated pills Dr Parmelee has given to the world one of the most unique medicines offered to the public in late years. Prepared to meet the want for a pill which could be taken without nausea, and that would purge without pain, he has met all requirements in that direction, and it is in general use not only because of these two qualities, but because it is known to possess alterative and curative powers which place it in the front rank of medicines.

A good heart never changes, but keeps his course truly.

There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

THE EMPEROR STUDIES ENGLISH

The North China Daily News announces that the Chinese Emperor has taken up seriously the study of the English language. This fact may have momentous consequences for the world; but the consequences have already been momentous for a certain taotai mandarin named Li. This man happened to go to the imperial court with an introduction and recommendation from the Viceroy Liu of Nanking, who in particular vouched for his large knowledge of foreign affairs.

At the audience with the emperor, his majesty asked the taotai if he knew English. Being ashamed to acknowledge that he did not, and not suspecting that the emperor had enough knowledge of the language to be able to discover his ignorance, the taotai answered that he did. Thereupon the emperor said to him in English:

"How do you do? Are you well? Thank you. Sit down."

All this was spoken rapidly, with fine Manchu accent and inflections. The poor taotai had not the slightest idea what the emperor was driving at, and could only "kowtow"—that is, prostrate himself and rub his forehead on the floor. As soon as he lifted his head again, the emperor said:

"Are you well? Thank you. Have you been in England? How is your honorable father?

The answer was another kowtow, more athletic, if possible, than the other.

"How do you do? What is your honorable name? Thank you. Sit down. Have you been in England?"

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Cart Service at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by all druggists.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

The liver is the largest gland in the body; its office is to take from the blood the properties which form bile. When the liver is torpid and inflamed it cannot furnish bile to the bowels, causing them to become bound and costive. The symptoms are a feeling of fulness or weight in the right side, and shooting pains in the same region, pains between the shoulders, yellowness of the skin and eyes, bowels irregular, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

are pleasant and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, never fail in their effects, and are by far the safest and quickest remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver.

Price 25 cents, or 5 bottles for $1.00, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WEAK TIRED WOMEN

How many women there are that get no refreshment from sleep. They wake in the morning and feel tireder than when they went to bed. They have a dizzy sensation in the head, the heart palpitates; they are irritable and nervous, weak and worn out, and the lightest household duties during the day seem to be a drag and a burden.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the very remedy that weak, nervous, tired out, sickly women need to restore them the blessings of good health.

They give sound, restful sleep, tone up the nerves, strengthen the heart, and make rich blood. Mrs. C. I got four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking them I was completely cured."

SCORED ANOTHER WONDERFUL VICTORY

One More Added to the Long List of Cures Effected by Psychine.

This young lady, who lives in Brownsville, near Woodstock, Ont., tells her own story in a few effective words of how she obtained deliverance from the terrible grip of weakness and disease.

"I have to thank Psychine for my present health. Two years ago I was going into a decline. I could hardly drag myself across the floor. I could not sweep the carpet.

If I went for a quiet walk to lie down when I came back. If I went for a mile on two on my wheel I was too weak to lift it through the gateway, and last time I came in from having a spin I dropped utterly helpless from fatigue. My father would give me no peace until I procured Psychine, knowing it was excellent for debility or weakness. I soon felt the results are wonderful, and people remarked my improvement. Instead of a little pale, hollow cheeked, listless, melancholy girl, I am to-day full of life, ready for a sleigh-ride, a skating match, or an evening party with anyone, and a few months ago I could not struggle to church, 40 roads from my home. I have never had the slightest notion to fear any return of the disease.

ELLA MERLE WOON,

Thousands of women are using PSYCHINE, because they know from experience that in it they have a safe friend and deliverer. Psychine is a wonderful tonic, purifying the blood, driving out disease germs, gives a ravenous appetite, aids digestion and assimilation of food, and is a positive and absolute cure for disease of throat, chest, lungs, stomach and other organs. It quickly builds up the entire system, making sick people well and weak people strong.

THE MOTORMAN'S PIE.

A melancholy story of a motorman and his luncheon is told in the Post.

The car was nearly ready to start, at the beginning of the route, when a woman got on and took her place on the front seat along with the driver, a "stern, married-looking man," who had a basket beside him, and was somewhat hurriedly eating his luncheon.

The woman began asking questions, and the man, as she left him opportunity, continued to snatch now and then a bite. By and by at the ring of the bell he let on the power and the car started, while he held in one hand a "great slab of cherry-pie."

A few blocks down the street an Italian child dashed across the track suddenly so near the car that the gripman put on the brakes, and the woman with the inquiring mind rose to her feet in alarm. The danger passed, she sat down again heavily. The stern-faced gripman had ceased to eat his pie.

"You don't have much time for meals, do you?" asked the woman with the inquiring mind.

"No'm," replied the gripman, sadly.

"Where's your pie?" went on the woman with the inquiring mind.

The gripman looked at her wistfully.

"You're sittin' on it," he said.

And she was.

He that will have a cake out of the wheat must needs tarry the grinding.
