At the grave of the departed the old darky pastor stood, hat in hand. Looking into the abyss he delivered himself of the funeral oration.

"Samuel Johnson," he said sorrowfully, "you is gone. An' we hopes you is gone where we specks you ain't."

Mrs. Squiggs used to take a great interest in various asylums. During a visit to one, a certain old man roused her special compassion.

"How long have you been here?" She asked him.

"Twelve years," was the reply.

After asking him a few more questions she passed on,

Turning to her guide, she noticed a smile on his face. On asking him the reason, she heard, to her consternation, that the old man was no less than the medical superintendent. In great haste she rushed back to make her apologies.

"I am so sorry, doctor!" she said. "This has taught me a lesson. I'll never judge by appearance again."

$46.85 and No Honey

Three Paisley citizens spotted a tree filled with honey one day recently out in a Bruce Tp. bush. The honey looked good to them and they decided to get it, overlooking the fact that it was on another man's property. A few days later they came back with a cross cut saw and proceeded to cut down the tree. A neighbor saw them and informed Colin McGillivray, who keeps an eye on the place for his brother the owner, who lives in the Klondike. Colin arrived on the scene before the trio made their getaway. He found the tree cut down and the honey mostly scattered over the ground. As he was unable to get a satisfactory settlement of the damage with the trio, he laid a charge against them in court and the case came up before Magistrate Alex E McNab at Paisley on Monday. The Magistrate made them settle with McGillivray for damage done to the tree and honey amounting to $17. He also fined Christopher Parker, his son Archibald and Irwin McLoughlin $10. and costs each. Their adventure cost the three men $46 85 and they didn't get any honey either.—Walkerton Telescope.

Fines Imposed on Dundalk Residents

County Police Magistrate Creasor was in Dundalk yesterday and tried several cases there. Charles Montgomery pleaded guilty to having, giving or keeping liquor contrary to the Ontario Temperance Act. The fine imposed was $200 and costs. James McIntyre, a farmer living near Dundalk, pleaded guilty to being in an intoxicated condition and was given the usual first offence fine.

A boy was caught in the act of stealing liquor from a farmer's wagon. He was only seventeen years of age and he had come out to Canada from England and had no friends here. Out of consideration for his youth and previous good character Magistrate Creasor is making an effort to secure the Attorney General's consent to giving the yout suspended sentence. Either fine or imprisonment would land the boy into jail as he would probably be unable to pay his fine.—Sun-Times.

Old Father Hubbard went to his cupboard,
To tickle his palate, that's all;
In forty-eight hours a prayer and some flowers—
Alas! It was wood alcohol.

On Saturday last the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. paid out $780.00, being their portion of the losses of the Temiskaming Mutual Fire Insurance Co., which Company was wiped out in the northern Ontario conflagation. The Temiskaming Mutual Co's loss was $50,000, but as they only had $2700 on hand the other Farmers Mutual Companies in Ontario are defraying their losses.—Shelburne Free Press.

PORTLAW

The Anniversary services in Mt. Zion church a week ago Sunday were largely attended. Rev Wakefield preached in the morning, Mrs Eagle in the afternoon and Rev Eagle at night. In the afternoon the church could not accommodate all who attended and in the evening, service was held in the assembly hall, which was well filled. All the messages were appropriate. The choir furnished suitable music and altogether the services were very edifying and inspiring. On Sunday last the services were of a thanksgiving nature, Mr Wakefield preaching an able sermon from the text, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God."

Mr J J Little returned some time ago from Fergus hospital, where he was treated for blood poisoning. His friends are glad to see him going about again, although it will take considerable time for his hand, which he still carries in a sling, to heal.

Mrs R Hannah is visiting with her friend, Miss Nesbitt, at Caledon.

Miss Iva McNally, Miss May Cornfield, Eli Dingwall and Wilfred McNally motored to Collingwood and visited friends.

A little girl arrived at the home of Mr and Mrs Elmo Stevens

Miss Gladys White is home from Toronto for a week's visit.

Miss Viola Cornfield and little nephew of Toronto spent Thanksgiving at the former's home.

Art Watson and wife of Toronto spent the holiday at the former's parental home.

Messrs Jas Batcheler and W G Acheson have completed their contract of building the Morton bridge. The structure has been pronounced first class.

Mr and Mrs Milne and family of Toronto and Robert Morton, who is attending Medical College, motored up Friday and holidayed at the home of Mr and Mrs W A Morton. Mrs Milne is a sister of Mrs Morton.

Geo Blakey had the misfortune to lose his nice driver on Saturday last through acute indigestion.

Shipment Of Lambs

The shipment of lambs from Grey County in so far as selling under the Departments supervision is concerned has almost finished for 1922. It has been a rather encouraging year in the sheep business and particularly for those who docked and castrated their lambs.

In almost every case where lambs were shipped, the returns indicated an advance of from 50c to $1.50 per hundred over uncared for lambs. Moreover, it is proven beyond doubt that lambs properly looked after have invariably done better. They were quiet and every pound of feed consumed was used to fatten themselves.

We have grading of hogs now. We want grading in lambs. It will mean that a more palatable product will be put on the market and the consumption of lambs will surely increase. Dock and castrate lambs for it pays every way considered.

The Publisher's Responsibility

More and more difficult every day is the choice of good reading—the kind that nourishes the young and refreshes the old. One way to avoid mistakes is to choose the book or periodical that stands for something—but is not everlastingly supplying the sensational and silly. The Youth's Companion has always been published by men who felt a keen responsibility to their readers, and they have held steadfast to one purpose: to familiarize Companion readers with the best thing in the world, and by means of original articles and stories to illustrate the truth that the practice of the old, homely virtues brings the greatest satisfactions in life. Try it for a year and see.

1 The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.

2 All the remaining issues of 1922.

3 The Companion Home Calendar for 1923 all for $2 50.

4 Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.
