Robt. Forke Leader Of Progressives

Newly Elected Leader says Progressives, Having Stated Their Principles, Must Liv Up to Them

"We have stated our principles and are not going to throw them down." declared Robert Forke, M.P., in his first public appearance in his new role as Parliamentary Leader of the Progressive party, addressing the Little Souris local of the United Farmers of Man.

Continuing, he said:

"We must carry our ideals and principles to a logical conclusion, and if ever called must not be afraid to take up the reigns of government. This idea may not be such a dream as some seem to imagine, for the Progressive movement is rapid'y gaining ground. It is beginning to be recognized that if we solve the rural problem all other problems will be solved."

Referring to the future, the new Leader declared that he believed the Progressive movement was wider in extent than generally acknowledged. It had a platform wide enough for all classes to stand on. He was most emphatic in his denial of any division in the party, and said no other party is so solid or united as the Progressives. Mr. Forke said he expected united support in the House.

Mr. Forke paid tribute to the Ontario Progressives for their consistent support of Western members on both the Grain Board and the Crow's Nest questions.
