Good Flavor in Cheese.

The following is the report of a committee of the Dairymen's Convention recently held at Ingersoll, on the best means of securing purity of flavor in cheese:

Whereas, it is abundantly manifest that in order to secure success in a dairy business, purity and cleanliness of flavor in cheese must be secured, and whereas this depends upon a strict observance of certain conditions, the observance of which cannot be too strongly insisted on, this Association hereby resolves as follows:

1. That one of the most important objections to the manufacture of cheese from pure, clean milk, and being only surprised that a pure article of milk cannot be kept sweet long enough to see whether it is fit for cheese, and recommends the use of ice and water by manufacturers, also, that none but his regular employed for herding, and storing milk, and that all wooden vessels be discarded, and baseball from about the dairy.

2. That in order to lower as much as possible the animal heat of the milk, this Association would recommend that the cans in which it is put for sending to the factory be set in tubs of cold water, and kept in a shady place until called for.

3. That all milk waggons should be furnished with an awning or roof of some kind, to protect the milk cans from the rays of the sun.

4. That this Association would advise the election of a committee by the patrons of each factory, at their annual meeting, for the purpose of inspecting all vessels used for milking, storage, or conveying milk to the factories, and that it shall be the duty of said committee to see practicable means for secure the proper care and cleanliness on the part of all persons engaged in handling milk.

5. That great damage is often done to the quality of milk by reckless driving and over-heating of the cows on the part of ill-trained dogs, and wild, thoughtless boys; therefore this Association would urge the greatest care in this particular, and that not only is it important that cows be brought up from the pasture without hurry and excitement, but that kind usage and quietness be inculcated on the milkers.

6. That cows eating weeds which impart an objectionable taste to milk is one cause of bad flavor in cheese, and as this evil is not likely to occur except when the pastures become scant through heat or drought, this Association would recommend patrons of cheese factories to grow a small quantity of green fodder to give cows when the grass fails; not only will the temptation to eat weeds be thus removed, but a liberal yield of milk will thereby be secured.

7. That experience proves the utter impossibility of making pure cheese in a tainted atmosphere, therefore it is of the greatest importance that there be no hogpens within smelling distance of the factory; also that sour whey, slops, rubbish, and impurity of every kind be removed from the neighborhood of factories, and all the surroundings kept as clean and sweet as possible.

8. That badly cured rennets are one cause of ill flavor in cheese; which evil may be easily prevented if butchers and others will observe the following simple rule; kill the calf 12 or 15 hours after sucking, empty out any vistage of curd or other foreign matter that may be in the rennet, salt and stretch to dry.

9. That this Association would advise extreme caution and dealing only with responsible houses, regardless of cost, in order to obtain pure annato, there being little doubt that an impure article is frequently a source of injury to the flavor of cheese.

10. That this Association would recommend a trial of curd mills on the part of dairymen, there being much reason to think their use would improve the flavor of cheese by effecting a more complete removal of whey; the remains of whey, doubtless, often occasion bad flavor.

11. That it is advisable to avoid working up new milk, and to leave it, if possible, from 8 to 12 hours, as circumstances may admit, before commencing the process of manufacture.

12. That this Association cannot too strongly express its conviction of the absolute necessity of most scrupulous cleanliness in every process connected with cheese-making; and, inasmuch as it is equally the interest of patrons and factors to secure this, it would earnestly press upon all concerned the use of every practicable means and a hearty co-operation to accomplish the desired end.

13. Finally, this Association would urge all cheese-makers to thoroughly master the principles of their business; to verify them for themselves; not to go upon hearsay or blindly to follow the rules of others which they have not tested, and to lend their most assiduous, determined and preserving endeavors to raise the quality of the cheese they manufacture, until Canadian cheese shall rank second to no other branch in the world's market.

The Chicago Post has the following warning to young girls:—An instance of shame and sorrow, without actual guilt, as the result of an answer to a "personal" advertisement in a city paper, by a thoughtless girl, who thus throw herself partially in the power of a villian, is related by a friend who is cognizant of all the facts; and though we are prevented by obvious considerations from giving the particulars, we wish they would be known by all young ladies who in moments of idleness are tempted to do what that girl did, "just for fun?" Her four foolish notes in the hands of a scoundrel cost her either $1,500—that amount was wanted as the price of giving them up. She has had a lesson—that will last her as long as she lives.

CURE FOR HYDROPHOBIA.—The following is given as an infallible remedy for hydrophobia, which our readers will do well to remember, as the malady is prevalent in the neighboring townships: "Take the root of common upland ash, generally called black ash, peel off the bark and boil it to a strong decoction, of this drink freely."

OUR LATEST IMPROVED

NEW SCALE PIANO FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 BROADWAY, N. Y.

THESE INSTRUMENTS, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced

The Finest Square Piano-Forte made in the World!

It has always been our policy during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy; never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion. The refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

Owing to the unprecedented popularity of this work, a small English abridgment adapted to juvenile readers, in duodecimo form, of about 600 pages, has been reprinted by another firm in larger type, and spread over 800 octavo pages, evidently—by making a book larger than its original—to give the impression that it is our edition. ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE OF CONSUMPTION IN CANADA.

Messrs. Young & Chamberlain,—Sirs, I feel it a duty I owe to you, as well as to the public, to inform you of the most wonderful cure of Consumption, accomplished in my person, by the use of the Great Shoshonees Remedy and Pills. I coughed a great deal day and night, expectorating large quantities of matter, and had a great pain about my left lung. I had cold chills every day, and severe night sweats every night, and between the racking cough and great sweating, I was almost deprived of sleep; by these miseries as well as the loss of appetite, I was so reduced that I could hardly stand alone. I was under the care of a physician for a length of time, but finding no relief, I tried different receipes, but all without any good effect. Shoshonee, one of Bath, recommended me to use the Great Shoshonees Remedy; I procured three bottles at once, with the Pills; so soon as I commenced using it, I began to get better, and when I had finished this complement, the Cough, expectoration of matter, pain about the lung, chills, sweating, &c., left me; and by continuing its use I became strong and healthy. It is now over two months since I quit the Remedy, and there have been no symptoms of the disease returning, and I have been, and am now, healthier and better than I have been for many years. I trust you will make this known to the public, that they may be aware of the peculiar virtues of the truly wonderful Indian Remedy.
