CEYLON

There passed away early Sunday morning, April 8 h, Miss Kathleen McDonald, after only a week's illness from heart failure caused from the effects of the flu. She was born in Glenelg in the year 1874 and was therefore 48 years old. She spent all her life in these parts, making her home with her brother Sandy and family. She was of a quiet and kindly disposition. She leaves to mourn, her mother, two sisters—Mrs. J. Cummins of Oshawa and Mrs Major of Toronto; and her brother, Sandy. The remains were taken to Priceville Tuesday afternoon and laid beside her father, who predeceased her 12 years ago, and a brother and sister, who died in infancy. Rev Mr Fowler conducted the service at the house and assisted at the grave with Rev Mr Jones of Priceville. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers. Much sympathy is extended the sorrowing ones

8th Line, Artemesia

Another ex-resident of this locality answered the last roll call on Thursday, April 5th, in the person of Mrs Wm Saigeon of Collingwood. Her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends and acquaintances here. Her maiden name was Miss Rebecca Jane Hawkins. She was born on the 8th line where she spent her girlhood days. She married Wm. Saigeon of Osprey township, and they moved to Manitoulin Island where they spent the first twelve years of their married life. They next moved to Eugenia then to Collingwood twp. where they farmed until 1908, when they moved into Collingwood where they now reside.

About one and a half years ago Mrs. Saigeon had the misfortune to fall and as a result her hip bone was broken. Despite the doctor's aid and loving care she never regained her health again and was unable to walk during the remainder of her days. From that time onward she was gradually sinking and never complained, bearing her sufferings with great patience until she passed to her "Home Beyond." Her age was 64 yrs. Besides her loving husband, she leaves to mourn her loss four daughters and two sons viz.—Eva (Mrs. D. McArthur) of Ravenna, Annie (Mrs. Cameron) of Edmonton, Alta, Jennie (Mrs. A Faulkner) Toronto; May, Mrs. M. McMaster, Toronto; Phillip, Toronto, and Robt. in Northern Ontario. She is survived by three brothers and two sisters viz,—Samuel, on the 8th line near Feversham, Wm. on the Collingwood gravel Road, near Eugenia, and Joseph on the old Hawkins homestead on the 8th line near Eugenia, Mrs. Jos. Sherwood in Eugenia and Mrs. Eph. Doupe, Saugeen Jct She was Methodist in religion. Interment took place to Collingwood Cemetery, there to await the glorious resurrection. The Methodist Pastor officiated at the house and grave. There were many floral tributes from the family and other friends. We extend our sympathy to the family and ralatives in their sad bereavement.

There is one consolation when we think that

"There is no link death cannot sever.
Love and remembrance last forever."

Lower School Exams.

New regulations are announced in regard to the lower school examinations in the high schools to take effect this year. Pupils in attendance at any collegiate institute, high school or continuation school will be granted lower school standing for entrance into normal schools on the report of their principals. In order to be entitled to credit in any subject a pupil in a collegiate institute, high school or continuation school shall have completed the prescribed course of study in that subject and shall have passed comprehensive tests conducted by the teacher of the subject, with a standing at least 50 per cent. of the aggregate marks assigned to the subject in all the tests of the school year.

Air Service For Toronto

A few days ago a fifty-two foot monoplane hove in sight near Toronto and landed at Leaside, with its five passengers. It had just flown from Detroit in about three hours and it is supposed to be the inauguration of an air craft service between Detroit and Toronto. The plane is owned by the International Airways, Ltd. and the company thinks the time has come to develop a passenger and freight air service between Chicago and Ottawa. It is proposed to begin this service between May 1st and 15th. They declare that they can secure speed at 150 miles an hour, and the passenger fare will be but ten per cent. higher than railway and Pullman charges. Machines are being built with a kind of sedan body which will be able to carry twelve passengers or 4,000 pounds of freight. It does seem strange that in Canada so far we have not been able to utilize the aeroplane for commercial purposes to any appreciable extent. Whether it is due to imperfect development of the aeroplane or to our constitutional preference for terra firma we cannot say, but until the monoplanes start with their twelve passengers we shall be slow to credit it as a possibility. We presume, however, that when once the airship has achieved popularity, its extraordinary speed possibilities will make it a great favorite for those who like to travel fast.—Christian Guardian.

Victoria Corners

We are pleased to again congratulate our debaters on their success. Last Monday evening a number of Markdale friends arrived on the 4 35 train. Mr Ren Acheson brought them to the home of Mr Will Martin, where our league served them with supper, after which Miss Ada Acheson and Russell Patterson debated on the affirmative with Miss Freeman and Miss Sharpe of Markdale on the negative. Our debaters made their points so intelligently that our most earnest wish for their welfare is that they never become rich and have to strive against such temptation. Resolved that Riches lead to more temptation than Poverty. They must surely have changed their minds since the evening that they so ably convinced Dundalk of the negative of this statement. Yet we are proud to have young people among us who are noble minded enough to see two sides to a question, we are told that too often that is what hinders true greatness in many people. They can see only one side, and that covers the vision to every one else's view.

Miss Mary McCannel, who has just returned from Victoria Memorial Hospital, Toronto, spent a few days with Mrs Lockhart

A Miraculous Escape

That a horse hitched to a cutter in a wild runaway could plunge right into another cutter occupied by a man, a woman and their baby girl, pass clear over the outfit and leave the three persons practically unhurt, seems more like fiction than fact; yet that is just what happened to Rev. Mr. Gosens, his wife and little daughter. They were driving along the road a short distance south of town, when, without a word or a sound of warning—bang! they were thrown clear of their cutter and into the ditch. A runaway horse hitched in a cutter came up behind and without swerving to right or left went clear over. Fortunately Mr. Cosen's cutter was overturned and all three occupants thrown clear of the road. On picking themselves up the parents saw their little daughter, covered with wraps, of course, lying like an inaminate bundle in the ditch. She was so quiet that they thought that the worst had happened, but when the mother picked her up, she just said: "Mamma did you get your two legs broken off?" Such an unexpected question relieved the tention of the situation and to the surprise of all it was found no one was seriously injured. It was an experience, however, which one would not care to venture on the chance of coming through unhurt—Lucknow Sentinel.

Armed with revolvers and wearing masks, two men entered the Post Office at Fesserton about nine o'clock on Monday night, March 26th. They ordered the young girl in charge to keep quiet and then gathered up all the money they could find and also the postal notes. The actual money only amounted to $45.00 and the postal notes, which cannot be negotiated without detection, to $400.
