Buy Bonds, Me Boy

It takes a heap of money for to run this great, big war, and keep the thing a hummin' from the centre to the sore—and it makes the men what's runnin' it jest stop at times to think of whether we are goin' to swim or turn our toes and sink. Old England has no cash to spare, she'd in it to her neck, she's turnin' out her gold and wealth by bushel and by peck, so it's up to this young land out here of riches and of mease, to get behind the load a bit and dig into her jeans, and put the cash upon the plate, to stack it good and thick, and make it reach a heap, my boy. 'twill make der Kaiser sick. Don't be content to cheer when troops go marchin' by, and when the feelin' in yer veins is sort of runnin' high, nor don't you think because you gave a slice to this or that, thas you have got the Kaiser licked or spegwin' on the mat. Don't stink your money in the bank, nor keep it in your socks, nor go about a-purchasin' some lobster shinin' stock, nor try to get a mortgage on some chap for all he's worth, and start a-squeezin' for to make him want to quit the earth. But stick yer chest out 'bout a foot, and likewise raise your chin, and crack yer countenance, my boy, into a goodly grin, then plank your wad down with a whack, boy is some good war loan, and stick 'em in yer windows and decorate your home. And gaze upon 'em when you sit a-restin' in the night, and know you've done your bit, me boy, by makin' your cash fight. —Ark.

BREAKFAST FOODS UNDER THE BAN

In order to eliminate the waste in packages and increase in cost to the consumer involved in the trade in small packages of of breakfast foods, cereals, and cereal products, an order in Council has been passed, under the recommendation of the Food Controller, prohibiting the sale, after a specified date, unless licensed, of such foods in original packages if necessary in the interest of the public.

Manufacturers and wholesale dealers are given until November 1 to dispose of their stocks, but on and after that date they must not offer for sale in Canada "any foods known as breakfast, or cereals, or flour or other foods which are the product of wheat, oats, barley, rye, rice, peas, beans, buckwheat, indian corn (maize), or lentils in original packages of less weight than twenty pounds." In the case of retail dealers, the prohibition of sale is effective on and after December 1

The clause permitting licensing in special cases reads:

"The Food Controller shall have the power to grant licenses, in such form and upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe, for the sale of any such foods in original packages of such lesser weight or size as he may deem expedient, and may by written order exempt from the provisions of these regulations any particular class or classes of persons, communities or places during such period or periods as may be prescribed in such order, and may from time to time revoke or change any such order."

Violation of the order is made an offence, and the penalty provided is a fine of not less than ten dollars, and not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

A GOOD BET—A Hundred-to-One Shot
Do you know that never in the past hundred years have the opportunities offered wage earners been so entirely in their favor and do you further know that it may be another hundred years before similar conditions prevail?
A hundred years is a long time to wait, so the wise man or woman will take advantage of the favorable chances within their reach to make the present last. The only way to do this is by putting aside in the Savings Bank a small portion of to-day's good luck. Remember this cannot last for ever.
A good chances are in the present. Those who depend upon future chances are betting against themselves and this is generally a very bad bet.
