Wednesday night of last week a good foot of snow fell here, and left the roads in an awful mess. Many cars were disabled in trying to navigate through the snow, and garage men reaped a little harvest.

Mrs. W. C. Hanley, 8th line, received the sad news of the death of her brother, John Carson, who resides in Santiago. Death was due to diabetes, from which he has suffered for some time. Thirty-two years ago Mr. Carson ran a livery business in Markdale. Since then he has been in the United States. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, whom he married 26 years ago, two brothers—James at Cypress River, Man., Charles at Port Hope—Mrs. Hanley, Eugenia, and Miss Annie, Eugenia.

A Clever Young Man

Many Advance readers will be pleased to know that Meldrum LeGard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeGard of Toronto, has completed his course at the Ontario Veterinary College. Although the youngest member of the graduating class, and the youngest veterinary in Canada, he received first prize for general proficiency. He was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Veterinary Science, at a special convocation of the University of Toronto on May 1st.

At King Street Methodist church on Sunday, May 6th, he was presented with a gold fountain pen by the Sunday school, of which he was a lifelong member, as a token of their esteem. His mother was presented with a bouquet of roses at the same time. The young man has a bright future before him and we tender congratulations.

Going In For Jerseys

Mr. H. C. Radley and son, Shadowbrook Farm, Flesherton, are going in to the raising of Jersey cattle and have purchased a sire to head the herd, "Premier of Lone Oak," 21.058. He was purchased from Scott Crone of Mt. Albert, Ont., and was born August 5th, 1921. This is a fine pedigreed animal and is for service at the above address. Fees—For thoroughbreds $5, grades $2.

Dr. Ego Chosen At E. G. Convention

The "dark horse" has come to the fore in East Grey, and a man whose name was not publicly mentioned as a possibility carried the Conservative convention at Rocklyn on Monday, and all others who had their names broadcasted as possible candidates had to take a back seat while Dr. Ego of Markdale carried off the bone. The candidate and Mr. Cooper of Meaford made a close run, however.

The Conservatives in the county are now in line for the fight, with Wm. Breese for Nort Grey, Dr. Jamieson for South and Dr. Ego for East.

A Reform candidate has been put in the field in North Grey, which will make a three cornered fight there with the chances in favor of the U.F.O. candidate.

South and East Grey have no Reform candidates as yet. In East Grey Col. Carmichael and Dr. Ego would make a "whale" of a campaign if left to themselves, but the probability is that both South and East Grey will yet put candidates in the field, and the possibilities are an unknown quantity.

The Story of a Loss

Last Christmas Miss Beatrice Thistlethwaite of Toronto left her purse on board when getting off the train at this station. The purse contained over thirty dollars and a cheque for a substantial amount. The lost articles were advertised in The Advance at the time. Shortly afterward Miss Thistlethwaite received a letter from a young woman in Owen Sound asking her what she would give for return of the cheque. Miss Thistlethwaite got in touch with the Owen Sound police, and by means of a decoy letter the young woman was captured when securing her letter at the postoffice The young woman had written under an assumed name. She denies knowledge of both purse and money, but has turned over the cheque. It is expected that before the trouble is over she will decide that it is wisdom to also turn over the money.

Collided With Car

A horse belonging to Mr. Arthur Chard was badly injured in a motor mixup at the Morey Corner. One car and two buggies were concerned in the affair. Two drivers attempted to pass the car at the same time and Mr. Chard's animal was crowded onto the front of the car. The car carried only one light in front. Just where the responsibility lies is not for us to say, but we would suggest that it is not only car drivers who are careless. In fact some young men with fast horses take chances that few car drivers would. The animal in question was very badly injured, as also was the car, which was driven by Thos. Woods.

DANDELION CONTROL.

Four or Five Sprayings With Iron Sulphate Will Do the Trick.

Little attention was paid to the dandelion as a weed thirty years ago, but with the clearing up of lands and removal of obstacles to the spread of the weed great increase of the nuisance is seen in grass land everywhere. The dandelion cannot succeed on land that is well cultivated, but areas of grass, whether pasture fields, roadways or lawns, are usually heavily infested. Large areas cannot well be treated unless the use of the land is such as to permit heavy expenditures. Small areas, such as lawns and portions of golf courses, may under proper management be kept free of dandelions.

Spraying with iron sulphate, four or five applications during one season, will generally free a grass area of the pest. But the treatment must be repeated every third year. The first spraying should be applied just before the first blooming period of the dandelion and followed by two others at intervals of three weeks. Two further applications should also be given during September or October. Spraying should not be done during the hot, dry period unless water can be applied to keep the grass growing vigorously. Grass areas that are sprayed usually blacken considerably after each application, but this burned appearance disappears after a few days. Areas that are being sprayed for the eradication of dandelion should be well fertilized, and grass seed should be applied to keep up the required number of grass plants to form a good turf. White clover is killed by iron sulphate spray, so cannot succeed under this method of dandelion control. The strength of solution to use is 1½ pounds to one gallon of water. —L. Stevenson, Secretary Dept. of Ants Flee Before Tartaric Barrage.

A small amount of moistened tartar emetic and powdered sugar in equal parts will drive ants away if placed near their haunts. The mixture should not be thrown out when no longer required, but should be set aside for another emergency. Add a little water and the mixture can be used as before. Care should be taken to keep it out of the reach of little children.
