A PROPOSITION FOR WOMEN

The ladies of the W. I. were up against a problem on Friday last, but they solved it bravely. Instructions had been received to prepare for about one hundred visitors. Instead of that number two hundred and thirty-five put in an appearance. While the ladies were delighted to have so many visitors, the problem of feeding was acute for a time and the visitors had to putup with something not quite up to our ordinary standard. Still, everyone went away quite satisfied with the convention both mentally and gastronomically.

A FLYING CONTACT

On Sunday last a young man from the country thought he would have some fun coasting with his bicycle down the runway in McTavish's garage leading down from the second story and out onto the street. This runway is used for taking cars up to the second story and is quite steep. It offered a great thriller for both coaster and spectators, and evidenced the great bravery of the young man in question.

Several of these exhibitions had been pulled off and another was in progress when a car happened along just as the wheel and its rider shot out onto the street. The wheel struck the car fender, crumpled up the bike wheel and the brave young man took a flying shunt clean over the car alighting on the road on the other side. A little adhesive plaster was all the young man required but the bike needed more.

Lambs Will Be Lowered $1.50 Per Cwt. On Aug. 27

After years of waiting for the meat packers to enforce regulations which would result in more attention to the castrating of lambs the inevitable has happened. It has been agreed among the packers that after Monday, Aug. 27th, there shall be $1.50 per hundred cut on all uncastrated lambs. The Department of Agriculture, Markdale, has prophesied this for some time.

The cut in price has become necessary to force the careless to action .It has resulted in poor quality unfinished lambs going upon the market. These when slaughtered have given course grained, strong tasting meat which results in lessened demand with the subsequent decline in price to the producer.

For the past three years, the Department of Agriculture, Markdale, co-operating with the Sheep Division, Department of Agriculture Ottawa, have docked and castrated over 4,200 lambs. Wherever this was done it was hoped the work would be continued in future years. Many have done so, others have not. To those who continued will come ample reward. To those who did not disappointments discouragement with the sheep industry will result. In spite of dissappointments and rewards, however, the uncastrated lambs will suffer a loss of $1.50 per cwt.

Family Scrap At Lisle

On Friday evening a phone message came from Lisle for Constable Wilson to proceed to that place immediately The scene of affairs was centred on the farm owned by Mr. Robert Hare, lot 24, con. 7, Mulmur, (near Lisle). The farm had betn rtnted to Mr. Hare's sons, Milton and Walter, but we are informed the brothers had not been on the best of terms. About six o'clock p.m., jangling among one another began at the house, the rumpus involving Milton, Walter and Jack Hare (the latter who had been help ing his brothers that day) and Mrs. Milton Hare.

In an enraged fury Walter undertook to beat his brother Milton and succeeded in doing so with the aid of domestic missles (dish pans, tea kettles, etc.) while brother Jack was helping Walter by keeping Mrs. Hare from endeavoring to help her husband. When Constable Wilson arrived on the scene, he found Milton in a very bad condition, gashes on the head and face and bruises, inflicted in the turmoil which lasted about half an hour, but failed to find Walter and Jack, who had proceeded to Lisle. Constable Wilson returned here bringing Milton and his wife with him, where medical aid was given the former, who was in a very weak condition. Several stitches were required to close the wounds. After medical attention was given he was removed to his home.—Creemore Star.

KICKED BY HORSE DIES IN HOSPITAL

John Kerr, Former Resident Of Flesherton, Fatally Injured

Mr. John Kerr, an old resident of Artemesia township and formerly of Flesherton, died in the Owen Sound hospital on Saturday morning last, from the effects of a kick in the abdomen by a horse.

On Friday morning last, at the home of Mr. John Dow, O. D. R., where he was employed, he went to the pasture to get the team and while catching them he was kicked by one of the animals and badly injured. He, however, took the animals to the stable and tied them, then went to the house, and as he got worse told what happened. A doctor was called at once, and that night he was taken to Owen Sound hospital, where it was thought an operation would save his life, but the injury was too severe and he passed away Saturday morning.

The unfortunate man was 69 years of age and had spent most of his life in this vicinity. When a young man he married Miss Eilza Jane White, of the Portlaw district, and owned a farm in that vicinity. Giving up farming some years ago the family moved to Flesherton and resided here for a number of years, later going to Toronto. Later Mr. Kerr came back to Artemesia and worked for several farmers, being with Mr. D. McPhail for some years and the past two years with Mr. Dow.

He leaves, besides his wife in Toronto, three sons—John, in the West, Thomas, at Ottawa, and Roy, clerk in the Walker House, Toronto. There is one brother—Donald Kerr of Rockwood—and two sisters, Mrs. Ray of Tara and Miss Kerr of Chicago.
