The Farmer's Partner

A Bank, like an individual, is known by the company it keeps—in other words, every bank has a distinct character.

This Bank has been so closely associated with rural development in the past half century that it is now characterized as the Farmer's Partner

If you are looking for practical banking co-operation, let our local Manager demonstrate "Standard" service. 356

FINE HOUSE BURNED

Home Of J. Lougheed Was Destroyed—Fire Caught In Roof

A frame house on the 4th line, owned by Mr Jacob Lougheed, was burned to the ground Monday forenoon of this week. The fire started near or in the roof, supposedly from the stovepipe. Mr. Lougheed's daughter was the only person in the house at the time, the rest of the family being in the harvest field. When first noticed the roof was all in flames. Everything in the upper storey of the house was burned, but the contents downstairs was all removed.

The family are temporarily domiciled in a house near their farm.

There was an insurance of $1,000 on building and $500 on contents.

It was said that had the fire started in the lower story nothing could have saved the large frame barn and the stables

TWO BARNS BURNED

Lightning Strikes Two Barns In One Morning, Close Together

Two barns were burned at the same time in the western part of Artemesia township during a thunder storm on Friday afternoon of last week.

A large frame barn belonging to Mr Hanlon McDonald was burned to the ground with considerable contents. The building contained all of Mr. McDonald's barley and hay, 100 hens, wagon, cutter and some oats. Mr. McDonald had just left the barn and gone to the house. Before sitting down he happened to look out the window and saw the barn in a mass of flames. A strange thing about it was that no unusual crash of thunder was heard. The building was insured for $2,000 and contents for $900. Of course this did not nearly cover the loss.

At the same time a small frame barn on the 3rd line West, about 2 miles from the McDonald home, was struck and burned down. This building was owned by Mr. Angus Clark and was used by Mr. Alex. Carson to store his season's hay, which was alll consumed.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL HELD BY L.O.B.A.

The social evening given by the L.O.B.A. on Friday evening was a decided success, as far as the program was concerned Mr. T. Bentham occupied the chair and gave a few well chosen remarks, after which a good program was put on, both vocal and instrumental by the gifted young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bowler of Toronto, also by our talented young townsman, Mr. Eric Dowling, who also presided at the piano during the community singing, led by Mr. R. G. Holland, which was much enjoyed. An address by Mr. R. R. Fawcett of Toronto on his recent trip to Ireland was both interesting and instructive. A humorous reading, "A Woman's Curiosity," given by Mrs. Hawken was also enjoyed. An impromptu debate. "Resolved that fire is more destructive than water," was held, the captains being Mrs. Armstrong and Alfred Down, who chose a side each of eight persons. Mr Holland and Mrs. W. I. Henry were the judges and after a long dliberation gave their decision in favor of both—a tie. A dainty lunch was served at the close.

Sudden Death Near Stayner

Death came suddenly to Mr Walter Mitchell on Monday evening while fire was destroying Mr. Geo. Cairn's barn.

Mr. Mitchell with his wife and some of his children had gone in his auto to the fire. He was not feeling well and started out of the lane at Cain's for home. He turned to avoid another car, ran into the ditch and collapsed over the wheel. Rev. E. A. Slemin was in the car and held him and with others took him out and sent for a doctor, who on arrival found him dead. Deceased had been ill for some time with heart trouble and his death was not unexpected. Much sympathy goes to his sorrowing widow and family of four children.

The remains were taken to Sterling on the early train Wednesday for burial, the Odfellows and Rebekah lodges parading to the station, deceased having been a member. Stayner Sun.

A Groundhog Freak

Mr. James Dargavel of Rock Mills showed The Advance on Saturday a freak growth on the nose of a groundhog. Mr. Dargavel had killed the animal for his foxes and on cutting it up noticed the strange formation on its nose. The two front teath had grown until they formed two tusks between two and three inches long These had grown out and curved around until one had grown through the upper lip and the other was curved up beside its jaw. Mr. Groundhog must have experienced some inconvenience in eating, still it was in good condition. The nose and tusks are kept as curiosities.

Mr. W. J. Sutherland, Toronto Line South, has disposed of his farm to Mm. Ludlow of Alliston. Mr. Sutherland takes a garage in Alliston on the deal. The exchange will be made when threshing has been completed and other necessary matters attended to on the farm. Mr. and Mrs Sutherland are very popular in the neighborhood, and many of their friends will regret to learn of their intended removal. Mr. J. A. Clarke, the Willoughby real estate agent here, put the deal through.—Standard.

Arm Was Broken In Cranking A Car

Miss Eva Inkster of Flesherton met with a painful accident at Toronto one day last week, where she and her mother were visiting relatives. Finding it nesessary to crank her car she undertook to do so, when a kick of the crank struck her on the wrist, making a compound fracture of thebone. The injury naturally is painful and will prevent her from driving for a few days. Miss Inkster is an expert driver, but then a person is always learning when they drive a car.

It is claimed that practically everything made in Canada from a fountain pen to a locomotive is on display at the Canadian National Exhibition. There are over 15,000 exhibits in all
