IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Ida M. Wyatt, who departed this life on March 6 1920.

A blossom was plucked in its beauty,
Just when it was beginning to bloom.
A young life was plucked in its beauty,
Just when it was beginnig to shine.

A smile on her face, as she went on
Her way. Oh! how I miss that smile.
The smile that was so often there. It went
Straight to my heart, and brought a ray
Of sunshine, when everything else seemed to go wrong

Her time on earth was short.
In the home, she leaves a vacant place
A place that never can be filled.
God called her to a better land to dwell forever more.

—Aunt Annie.

She has gone across the river
To the place of evergreen,
How we long to see her dear face
But the river flows between;
And our aching hearts are calling
To the shadows dark and grey,
For the loved one who has left us
Eight years ago to-day.
