GUARDIANS DO NOT GUARD

Th merry burglar appears to be flourishing in this country at the present time. If our police cannot apprehend these gentlemen the taxing departments of our governments should get their fine-tooth machinery in working condition, dig them out of their hiding and make them pay an income tax.

Joking aside, this matter is becoming so serious that new methods will have to be inaugurated in order to cope with th situation. The automobile has made this species of crime comparatively safe for criminals to commit their dastardly deeds. It looks as though a law would have to be passed prohibiting the manufacture of cars that can travel faster than twenty miles an hour with police cars of greater power; also that capital punishment will have to be extended if this wave of crime is to be stemmed. If a few of these criminals were to be treated as spies and enemies are in war time the trouble would very soon be minified or altogether cured.

The recent cases in Toronto and Hamilton would go to prove that our police system as now constituted, is totally impottent. We are fed up with what the police force and detectives are about to accomplish "within the next few hours," but we never see it accomplished. This criminal wave is becoming too overwhelming for an honest people to stand much longer without causing an upheaval among the "guardians of the law," who do not guard, or even avenge the crime.

A GOOD REPRESENTATIVE

The Brackin government is said to be dispensing with the services of agricultural representatives throughout the province, as a matter of economy. Surely the staff cannot contain the material found in our Tommy Cooper, or the question of economy would not be considered. Tommy is a live wire —a hustler—and has done a lot of good work in this county. His efforts have been a vast improvement upon anything that went before. If the Manitoba staff contains material such as some we have had here in the past we do not wonder at the question of economy being raised. But things have changed since "Tommy" came.

FORGOT HIS DEBTS

The editor of the Tilbury Times, who has been missing from home for eight weeks, has turned up at St. Louis, Mo. He cannot remember anything since he left home. It is wonderful what antics these editors will cut up.

O. M. L. IS AFTER THE DANGEROUS R. R. CROSSINGS

The Ontario Motor League contends that there ar thousands of level railway crossings in Ontario which, owing to obstructing trees and bushes, high board fences or protruding banks, are a source of peril to all who have to cross them, and especially so in the case of motor travel. While the League recognizes that the expense of abolishing all the dangerous level crossings in the province is too heavy to be borne at the present time the present high mortality rate could be very considerably reduced by removing the obstructions to the view of approaching traffic.

Back fire from a gasoline engine caused a fifteen hundred dollar fire in a lumber yard at Bolton station.

A gents' furnishing store in Orangeville was burglarized Monday night. The thieves simply pried open the front door, loaded their car and drove away without leaving any permanent address.
