PORTLAW

This whole commuinty is shocked beyond expression on account of the tragic death of Mr Albert Arnott, and nothing has occurred in the history of this part of the country to cause such universal sorrow. To know Mr. Arnott was to compel esteem for him. His genial, manly nature was a magnet that unconsciously drew friends to him. The church at Waraham has lost a staunch and loyal member. When a good deed or kind word was needed his generous heart was ready to respond. An obliging neighbor, an honorable opponent, a warm-hearted and true friend, in short, possessing the qualities that constitute a desirable and good citizen. Is it any wonder we mourn his passing in the prime of his manhood, when, humanly speaking, the indications pointed to many years of usefulness? The funeral last Thursday was the largest ever seen in this part, a great many people from afar off attending. Rev. Mr. Duffield officiated and the Masonic order, of which deceased was a member, followed with their beautiful and impressive service. To his wife and family, his mother, sisters and brothers, the deep sympathy of all is extended.

Mr. Albert Thompson had the misfortune to have his right hand badly torn while assisting to place the threshing machine in W H McNally's barn. The injury will prevent him using the hand for some time.

Mr. Jas. Orr of Toronto came up to attend Mr. Arnott's funeral and is visitng at Mr. W. A. Morton's Mr. John Burk of Shelburne, also attended the funeral and called on friends on the Centre Line.

Mr. Jas. McLennan of Toronto visited with his brothers and sisters here.

Rev Duffield gave a very interesting and instructive talk on South America, illustrated with lantern views, at League last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beatty of Hatherton visited at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Jas. Hopps.

Money spent away from home is like a present to another man's wife; she may appreciate it; but its no good to the wife and kiddies at home. Money spent at home gets circulated around, and pays its way as it goes. Shop at home and build the community—especially when its so profitable to shop here that people come from other communities for the privilege.

KIMBERLEY

The bridge on the valley road is almost finished. It is a fine bridge of steel and cement.
