How Firebugs Use Cats

Animals Trained To Knock Over Lamps While Owners Are Away

Strange things man has done to its humble animal brothers. The oriental makes the pelican catch fish, and with a ring around th poor bird's neck prevents swallowing.

Elephants and dogs have been used in battle, and hives of bees have dropped upon soldiers besieging a city. Dogs help men to beg, guinea pigs patiently endure vivesection in the interest of science. Horses supply serum to fight disease. White rats in thousands are used for cancer experiments, while mice, highly strung, were kept in the trenches. They noticed poison gas long before the men felt it.

Now comes the latest. A man tains cats to hate lamps. They rush at and knock over any kerosene lamp. Such a cat is worth $250.

The cats are sold to gentlemen that want the store to catch fire while they are away. Cat and lighted lamp are left together then comes the fire.

How the cat is trained to hate lamps the insurance people do not say. But it can be done.

THE CITIZEN'S DUTY

In addressing the Young Men's Canadian Club at Montreal, Sir Robt. Borden asid that the success of democracy was by no means assured. There were dangers facing the world to-day to which the Roman Empire and its successors were never exposed. Hence he argued that every man ought to give some part of his time to public affairs.

"Every one of you ought to take your own part in the government of your city, your province and the Dominion. Those of you who do not are mere drones, and you know what happens to the drones in the democracy of bees. This right to govern yourselves is more than a privilege; it is a duty, and if it is not your duty, whose is it? When I was in public life I would rather see a young man allied with a party opposed to me than with no party at all, and that is my feeling to-day.

"Il politics are dirty to-day—and I don't say they are—it is the fault of those who stand aside and assume the 'I'm holier than thou" attitude. Instead of doing that, it is the duty of every one of you to go in and make them clean."

Democracy is not assurred by giving the franchise to every man and woman, and would not be assured by any improvement in election machinery. The recording of the vote is no more important than the thought behind the vote. If active participation in politics is confined to selfish or narrow partisans, those who hold aloof must share the blame for the degredation of politics. Every elector has it in his or her power to do something towards shaping the course of public affairs.

Getting There Here, Too

The seriousness of financial conditions confronting rural municipalities in Manitoba was emphasized last week when Dr. Robt. Fletcher, Dep. Minister of Education, announced that 131 Public Schools with 144 class room and providing education to approximately 3,000 pupils have been closed this fall in the Province. They were closed, Dr. Fletcher told the officials of the Union of Municipalities, because the municipalities are not in a position to provide for expenditure necessary for their maintenance. The school at Elm Creek, where five teachers were employed, was forced to close at the end of September after operatng one month. The Deputy Minister also stated that several other schools had been closed on account of small attendance. The case of education has reached its limit in those parts of Manitoba.

A steer belonging to David Bowes, near Blyth, was buried in a straw stack for 17 days and was little the worse when rescued.

The Farmers' Sun, organ of the U.F.O., has had a loss of $15,161 for the past fifteen months, according to the statement issued last week to the shareholders of the Farmers' Publishing Co. by H. E. Walters, secretary-treasurer.

What might have resulted in a very serious train wreck was avoided in the nick of time on the Canadian Pacific Railway Parry Sound sub-division, by section foreman Conzani, who, while patrolling the track near Brignall, recently discovered two large iron nuts on top of the rails, securely fastened with hay wire. The foreman had just time to unfasten the wire and remove the nuts to clear the track for a train was due in five minutes. Two boys in the vicinity admitted, after questioning, that they wired the nuts to the rails. They were sentenced to the local shelter for one month and their fathers were required to give bond and report to the authorities for two years.
