The Advance has been badly handicapped for the past week and a half. Frank Thurston, who is the linotype operator, was recovering nicely from a cut foot, when he developed a severe cold and has been confined to his bed for sevreal days. He is on the mend and hopes to be again on deck the latter part of this week. Job work has been somewhat at a standstill in the meantime, while the rest of the staff struggled with the machine and with other mechanical work.

A concert was given at Woodbridge recently at which Grey Masonic lodge of Toronto contributed largely to the program. Among those who assisted we notice: Dr. Henderson and Dr. Murray in a duet, R. N. Cornfield in a violin selection, and Miss Cornfield and Mrs. Henderson in solos.

The Advance appreciates the promptness with which many subscribers have renewed their subscriptions for the present year. There are very many who could follow this good lead. May we ask that the expiring date on the little label which appears on all papers will be checked up, and remittances sent in promptly to cover all subscriptions to the end of 1924.

FIRST WINTER AUTO TRIP TO TORONTO.

Rev. Eaton and Alf. Down returned from Toronto Friday evening of last week after an unpleasant experience with the snow auto. They left Toronto Thursday morning but only got as far as Orangeville that day, owing to trouble with the endless belts in which the wheels travel. These had only been built temporarily out of home material for traction cleats, which were too soft and gave way. The proper kind had been ordered, but had not arrived in time for the trip. Added to this difficulty a narrow snow plow had been put on the road this side of Orangeville, and as a consequence the wheels had to run on the comb of the road, making navigation hard on the wheels. All these are things that can be overcome, however, and the builders are very much pleased with the performance of the car over such a long trip, the run to Toronto being made in seven hours of actual running, but conditions had changed for the home trip and a chain broke. On account of the lateness of the hour it was thought advisable to leave the car at Melancthon, the balance of the trip being made by train. The car was brought home later.

This was the first winter trip of the kind ever undertaken with asnow auto.

Mr. Down was attending a convention of the Toronto and Windsor district Ford dealers.

Like Father, Like Son

When Willie s father came to supper there was a vacant chair at the table "Well, where's the boy?" "Willie's upstairs in bed." The an- from the sad faced mother. "Why, why, what's up? Not sick, is he?" (an anxious pause) "It grieves me to say, Robert, that your son—your son—has been heard swearing in the street; I heard him." "Swearing, Scott! I'll teach him to swear." And he started upstairs in the dark. Half way up he stumbled and came down with his shin on the top step. When the atmosphere cleared a little Willie's mother was saying sweetly from the hallway' "That will do dear, you have given him enough for one lesson."
