LOCAL TEAM WON FIRST DEBATE

Held At Vandeleur Against Kimberley Young People

The first of the scheduled debates in the Owen Sound District Methodist Youn People's League was held at Vandeleur on Wednesday night of last week between the Kimberley and Flesherton Leagues, and the result was a decision in favor of Flesherton.

Miss Tena Hutchinson and Mr. S. Goff of Kimberley argued for the negative side, while Miss Mildred Caswell and Mr. George Akins upheld the side of the consolidated schools. The arguments pro and con were real good and occasioned much thought to prepare. Mr. Goff had the best delivery among the debators, according to our knowledge, but Mr. Akins drove home his points with force and they were to the point. The debate was good and the win for Flesherton was by a very close margin. The judges were Mrs. F. Krieger, Miss Peters and Rev. F. N. Bowes.

During the intermission the audience was entertained by a quartette comprising Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buchanan, Mrs. S. Douglas of Edmonton and Mr. F. Krieger. Mr. and Mrs. Krieger spoke of the work on their mission field in the Argentine. Another quartette which brought rounds of applause was that of the Krieger children cho sang in Spanish.

Last, but not least, on the program was the bountiful lunch supplied by the Ladies' Aid of the aVndeleur church.

Chatsworth defaulted their debate against Inistioge in Flesherton on Monday night. Miss Emily Acheson and Mr. Russell Patterson is the Inistioge debating team.

FLESHERTON L.O.L. PRESENTS PAST MASTERS' JEWELS

An interesting event took place on Friday evening last in the Lodge room of Flesherton L.O.L. No. 2955, when the Past Master's Jeweis were presented to Messrs. C. J. Bellamy and Alfred Down, past masters of the Lodge. W. M. F. W. Duncan read the address and the presentation was made by the Secretary, F. Thurston.

The following is the address :—

We, the members of Flesherton L. O. L. No. 2855, wish to show our appreciation of the services you have given in the organization of this Lodge, and the interest and faithfulness in the Order during your terms of office as Master of this Lodge. We now ask you, Worshipful Sirs, to accept these jewels, as a small token of our appreciation of you, and we hope that you will wear them for long years to come. Singned on behalf of the Lodge, F. W. Duncan, W.M.; F. J. Thurston, Sec.

APPLE TREE PRUNING.

The Grey County Advisory Council at a meeting on Jan. 4th, 1924, made the following recommendations: "That because of numerous requests for apple tree pruners, it is recommended that the Department of Agriculture, Markdale, ascertain the bropable number of farmers who would take advantage of the service of practical experts and if possible secure this service for the farmers."

In accordance with this recommendation this article is being sent to all local papers in Grey County. The names of quite a number of practical pruners from the fruit districts have been secured, and their charges have not been learned, it is hoped that assistance can be secured for any farmer wanting this help. Requests will not obligate a farmer in any way, but if any desire this service they will be considered according to application. How many Grey County farmers desire their apple trees pruned?

MOTHS COME FROM THE MAGIC TOUCH

Miss Ina Smith Has Strange Hobby In Toronto Office

From the Toronto Star

Toronto has many collectors of sorts—antiques, stamps and scores of articles which takes one's fancy, but perhaps the oddest collection in the city is one in possession of Miss Ina Smith, a member of the staff of the fire marshall's office, Bank of Hamilton buildnig.

She is a collector of cocoons, from which, in a downtown office, surrounded by towering buildings, she develops beautiful butterflies.

Sitting at a desk in front of a window with a southern exposure, Miss Smith was found the other day engrossed in what appeared to be withered, dirty leaves, lying in the strong sunlight. Closer investigation proved them to be cocoons.

She is a collector of cocoons, from five cocoons from Mr. Baker, another member of the staff, whose father, Albert Baker, of the forestry branch of the parks department, city hall, had picked them off trees n Monarch Park last fall.

Miss Smith is carrying on a most interesting experiment with her "cocoonery." The production of moths in the month of February is an unusual hobby, and full of interest. By artificial heat the cocoon was developed fully two months in advance of nature's time and the first of the butterflies came out of its web on February 20th. Escaping, it eventually found its way to the Star window, where it was on display, later being returned to its owner.

The other day, Miss Smith painlessly extracted the life of another of the same species which had made its debut that day by giving it chloroform. It was almost the double of the first moth. On her desk the sun was striking strong and warm and another little cocoon started wriggling about. It was a most extraordinary thing to witness a withered leaf jump about in spirited fashion. Held in the hand the unopened cocoon vibrated with the efforts of the creature inside. Two other cocoons lay on her desk, one of them a large maple leaf rolled into the shape of a cone, with the seal at the top where the moth had rolled itself in and closed up the leaf The fifth cocoon was useless, as the animal was dead inside

Died From The Effects Of A Broken Leg

Special to The Advance.,

On Monday, March 17, last, Elias Thompson rieid at his home near Heathcote. Six weeks ago he had his leg broken while working in the woods. A tree he was felling lodged and in getting it down it slid back on the stump and caught him, breaking his leg. Though receiving immediate attention, the break did not heal. Later he contracted pneumonia, from which he never recovered. He was an able-bodied man in middle life, aged 48. His wife pre-deceased him a few years since. Several children are left behind.

AFRAID OF LOSING YOUR JOB

The young fellow who is all the time afraid of losing his job, probably does not deserve to keep it. It is the incompetent worker or the lazy worker, who is always fearful that some one will be put in his place. If you are doing the work you should do, and are doing it with the enthusiasm and zeal which belong to it, the last thing that will enter your mind is that somebody else is going to get your place.

READY FOR SPRING

Long ere this every Grey County farmer will undoubtedly have all seed grain cleaned; all harrow teeth sharpened; the plates of the disk tightened the shears on the cultivator sharpened or reversed and the grain drill all ready for action. If not now is the time to prepare. Give 1924 the best chance to produce a bumper crop.

LOST IN FRANCE FOUND IN DURHAM

From the Durham Chronicle.

It's a long way from here to France, and then again it isn't. That the world is no so big after all was forcibly brought home to Mr. Alex. Graham of this place last Monday, when a water bottle holder, lost by him at Passchendale, was placed in his hand here, and is now in his possession, a treasured keepsake.

Some time ago Mr. C. P. Kinnee, harnessmaker here and brother-in-law to Mr. Graham, purchased a job lot of Government leather supplies, consisting of these water-bottle holders and such like. He got them at a right price, and, being Government stores they were of the best material that money could buy. Mr. Kinnee bought them more for the snaps that were on them than for anything else.

On Monday while cutting some of them up, he noticed the name of "A. Graham" written on one of the straps and shortly afterward when Mr. Graham was passing he called him in and showed him the holder. Mr. Graham was not long in recognizing it as his, he having lost it at the battle of Passchendale on Nov. 6, 1917, when he was wounded. It is quite needless to state that the memento of former days in France is now in a safe place where it will never again stray far from home.
