BLACKMAILER JAILED

Tried to Work the Methodist Minister At Holstein.

Owen Sound, April 3.—Pleading guilty to having endeavored to secure a sum of $50 by extortion from Rev. Lewis L. West, Methodist clergyman at Holstein, Thomas McNanney of New Toronto was this morning sentenced to six months in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph. Evidence went to show that McNanny saw Rev. Mr. West remove two buffalo robes from a cutter in the shed at the rear of his church on teh night of March 12 and, not being aware of the fact that the robes belonged to the minister, wrote him a letter in which he said that for the sum of $50 he would suppress the news from the press of the taking of the robes and would say nothing further about it. Mr. West at once placed the letter in the hands of the Crown authorities, but before action was taken another letter was received further insisting that his demands be complied with and asking that the money be sent to a Montreal address, intimating that he was going there. Provincial Constable Gardiner of Kitchener, who was detailed on the case, arrested McNanney at his home in New Toronto on Wednesday and brought him to Owen Sound for trial.

Roads Are Improving

The roads in this district are becoming more passable every day. On account of the heavy snow fall this year most of the chts on the road were filled with snow and it takes time for these to thaw out. The rivers are very high this year, higher than for some years previous. Cars have been running about town for several days, but the country roads are nearly impassable as yet for a car. The next week or so will see most of the snow gone.
