Christmas Eve services at Norval, area churches

By KAY WILSON

Norval and Union Presbyterian Churches Candlelight Service was held on Christmas Eve in Union Church. The joint Sunday schools and choirs took part. The young people led in the readings, and special numbers by the choir, along with the beautiful Christmas carols, made for a meaningful service to a full church.

Christmas Eve service and communion was held in Norval United Church with the Rev. Stephen Bemrose Fetter conducting the service. A joint choir led in the carols, as well as a special number, "Calm is the Night." Rev. Stephen sang a solo, "Mary Laid Her Baby Down." Following the sermon, communion was served to a good-sized congregation. The whole service was a good introduction to Christmas.

The Couples Club of Norval United Church met at the Chateau Restaurant on Dec. 20. Twenty-two members enjoyed the dinner, and social hour.

Get well wishes to Kate Laidlaw, RR 2 Norval, who has been confined to her home since her birthday, but hosted Christmas dinner on Boxing Day surrounded by her family.

Get well wishes to Jean Harrop, RR 2 Brampton, who is home following a week in Peel Memorial Hospital, and enjoyed Christmas dinner with her family.

Institute Christmas

The Brampton West Women's Institute met at the home of Tena Dykstra for their Christmas meeting.

President Mae Dixon opened with a Christmas Poem, Opening Ode, and the Mary Stewart Collect. Roll call titled "My Most Memorable Childhood Memory" was answered by all present. Many humorous memories were related which added to the Christmas atmosphere.

Mrs. Isobel McKay gave a very informative talk on The Sleeping Children of the World, an organization headed by Murray Dryden, father of the hockey great, Ken Dryden.

Christmas cards were exchanged with last year's secret sisters and new ones were given out for the coming year.

A generous collection was taken up for the Peel Social Services.

A delicious pot luck lunch was served by the hostess, her daughter Teresa and Lori Mae Dixon.

After lunch a special Christmas program of poems, bible readings and music prepared by Tena Dykstra and assisted by Lois Fraser, Doris Sharpe and Ina Terry, was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held at Lois Fraser's home, January 9, 1990.

Prepare the nation's budget Turner asks constituents

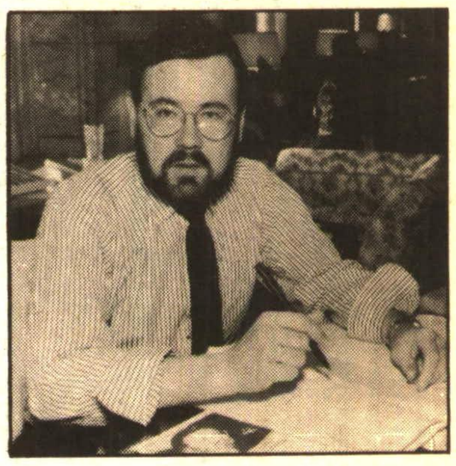
How many times have you complained that you could do a better job at managing the country's finances than Michael Wilson?

Now's your chance ... sort of. Halton-Peel MP Garth Turner is going to let you prepare the nation's budget, slashing where you want to cut spending. It's all contained in a new booklet he has prepared and sent to all households in the riding.

The purpose of the booklet is threefold: to inform the constituent how Ottawa is spending taxpayers' dollars, to show what a difficult decision- making process it is, and to find out where the constituent wants to cut spending.

It's a three step process, and all you need is a calculator and your opinions. First on a worksheet listing 182 categories of actual federal expenditures, you write in how much you think should be spent. This can be an eye-opener.

Next you determine the revenues. What will you tax to the hilt - personal incomes or corporate incomes? Finally you subtract the revenue from your expenditures.



Halton-Peel MP Garth Turner takes his turn at preparing the nation's budget.

On a separate piece of paper, list the reasons for your cuts and how you think it will affect Canadians across the country.

The worksheet booklet is also a self-addressed envelop in disguise. Once you've completed your budget, fold it up and tape the edges and sent it off to Garth Turner.
