Sutherland of Priceville, who preached two anniversary sermons in the church.

Groundhog Hunt Disposed Of 580

Groundhog hunts are coming into fashion in this district more and more. The latest to come to our attention was that of the Old Durham Road last week when 580 of the pests passed to the happy hunting ground. The hunt occupied five days and was under the leadership of Messrs. Jas. Oliver and John Williamson, the former's side winning by the lage majority of 178 tails. Mr. James Oliver, the winning captain, was high man with the victims, having accounted for 101 in the four days, and made a record of 76 in two days. The contest closed on Friday evening last and a social evening was held at the home of Mr. John Williamson, where the counting of the spoil took place. A dance was held during the evening by the young people.

The winning side comprised:—Jas. Oliver, F. Williamson, Jas. Turner, Jos. Oliver, John Oliver, W. R. Meads, Robt. Parslow, Dave Hincks, Peter Muir, John Russell, Donald McKinnon, Dave McDonald, Wm. Reid, H. Huddy, W. McKenzie.

Mr. Williamson's side was:—John Williamson captain, F. Oliver, John Meads, Robt. Vause, John Dow, Robt. Parslow, Jr., John Parslow, G. Whyte, Wm. Hincks, E. Watters, Ivan Turner, John Muir, Clark McMillan, Walter Kidman.

If many more groundhog extinction clubs commence business around here the government will have to secure specimens for preservation so as not to allow the species to become extinct.

The Mitchell school is a new one with an entire new staff They are putting on an Agricultural class, which Mr. Carrol is qualified to teach.

During the past year Mr. Carrol has put in some good work here in special demonstrations, which attracted much attention and disseminated a great deal of useful information along agricultural lines, and for which those who profited by them are grateful. Mr. and Mrs. Carrol have made very many warm friends here, who are sorry to hear of there intended departure. However, we all wish them the best of success in their new surroundings.

SUCCESSFUL BREEDERS

Thos. F. Lockhart and James Mitchell Have Noteworthy Success

T. F. Lockhart now has his black fox ranch firmly established on the southern outskirts of the town, and the ranch just completed is quite spacious. He has spent consderable time fixing up his new fox abode and it looks good. The Irish will say i'ts "rale" good when we add that he has named it "Killarney Fox Ranch." Good success has followed him in the fox raising game this season, six mothers giving birth to twenty-four fox pups. One mother raised six husky silver-tips.

James Mitchell, Maple Hill Fox Ranch, Proton, has also had a splendid year with his black foxes on his large ranch. Twelve mothers have fifty-one living puppies—an average of over four per litter—all doing well.

These are excellent averages, and if the prices hold firm these men will be well repaid for their efforts, for the raising of foxes requires no little bit of attention.—Dundalk Herald.

Hikers At Montreal In Five Days' Travel

Word from the hikers, Wes. Armstrong and Emerson Thompson, received on Monday, stated that they had arrived at Montreal on Friday last, just five days after leaving home. That is good fast walking! As a matter of fact they got motor lifts most of the way, and had not decided "where we will go from here." It might be New York and it might be up the St. Lawrence to Kingston in a river steamer. The young men are thoroughly enjoying themselves, and it seems an ideal way for youth to take a "hike."

CARR—MURPHY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Murphy, Owen Sound, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, July 2nd, when their only daughter, Laura M., was united in marriage to Major Osborne E. Carr, B.A., M.B., of Priceville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Carr of Owen Sound. Rev. M. Pilkey pastor of Knox Presbyterian church officiated in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of bride and groom. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a simple frock of ivory crepe romaine, with ruffles of georgette, and veil arranged with coronet of orange blossems. She carried a shower bouquet of sunset roses and forget-me-nots, and wore a platinum and diamond bar pin, the gift of the groom. The only attendant, little Miss Marguerite Carr, niece of the groom, in a dainty lace frock, was a charming flower girl. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. Later Dr. and Mrs. Carr left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in a blue tailored suit with hat to match.
