CLAIMS IT IS SQUARE

The Hanover Post, quoting our item on the $500 grant to their hospital, says:—

"It certainly is square. Hanover hospital is not a memorial in the common meaning of the word, as we have a memorial statue at the Library corner, bought and paid for by Hanoverians without any "outside help.' Also, we have ungrudgingly paid our share of the County grant to other hospitals in Grey. The grant was for the maintenance of the hospital, not for a memorial, and it wouldn't have been square if we had not received the $500 from the County."

Bro. Mitchell's logic is not of a very convincing nature. If the Hanover hospital is not a memorial hosuital, why call it such? We are pleased to learn that Hanover has a real memorial, and that it is not necessary to call the hospital a "memorial." The grant it seems "was for a hospital, not for a memorial."

It appears to us that there is a distinction here without a difference.

As a matter of fact the rest of the county considers that the Hanover institution was not a necessity. There are three hospitals in that end of the county within twenty miles of each other. Hanover has, of course, paid ungrudgingly their share of the county grant to other hospitals, but is that a valid reason why it should inflict another hospital on the county's charge? What about the other municipalities, who have also paid their shares ungrudgingly?

Therefore, we say, the Post's logic is not altogether convincing.

THE SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS

The Advance has received during the past week a very interesting personal letter from an esteemed friend, Mr. W. J. McAleer, of Hammond, Indiana. Mr. McAleer is a Canadian who has made a wonderful success of his calling in Uncle Sam's dominion, but who has not forgotten his home country and visits it regularly every summer.

Mr. McAleer is considered one of the best criminal lawyers in the State of Indiana. According to a newspapper clipping he recently caused the conviction of a Mexican who killed a policeman, and in September he will prosecute for the state some Chicago thugs for killing a lawyer.

Referring to these trials Mr. McAleer, in his letter, says:

"I do not like the criminal law as well as the civil law, but I feel that when we have law on our Statute books, and when there is a vicious, wicked crime committed, the culprit should be punished to the extreme limit. Feeling that way, it Pakes it easy for me to follow the dictates of my conscience."

The above extract reveals the secret of Mr. McAleer's success, and it is the secret of the success of many another Canadian who has gone over the line. It is this: "Be sure you are right, then go ahead." Too many are not sure that they are right, and as a consequence they are, perhaps unconsciously, lukewarm in the pursuit of success and fail egregiously to come up to the standard required to win out.

EDITORIAL NOTES

When Flesherton celebrates the "Glorious Twelfth" away from home, only the unwashed remain, and they would not constitute a barn-raising crowd.

The Owen Sound Sun-Times prints the following large type heading to an article: "Heart Rending Letter From a Boy who was hanged to His Mother." This is a grim thing to make a joke about, and the Sun-Times should think twice before indulging in such a hanged piece of composition.

THE CROPS ARE GOOD

While motorng through Western Ontario during the past week the writter was favorably impressed with farming conditions generally. The crops show excellent prospects for a bumper crop, especially the hay which, almost everywhere, is exceptionally heavy.

BURNING BARNS

The following article if from the O. A. C. Guelph. Its contents are worth reading.

When in the county of Halton on June 22nd, I saw the smoking smouldering ruins of a barn. The charred bones of two horses were visible, also the twisted wreckage of an automobile. It did not matter about the auto, but it was rather rough on the horses to subject them to such an ending as burning alive. What did it? Some have followed tion, following the old, neglectful practice of putting wet or green hay in the barn. Ontario farmers have lost millions through the burning of buildings. SoPe have followed the practice of putting in poorly cured or moist hay with impunity, but sooner or later they will create conditions just right for a flare up and will then pay for their folly in the price of a new barn. The silo is the place for green clover, not the barn. Better be sure that the hay is properly cured before it goes in. I would rather lose it in the field than take a chance on losing both hay and barn.

Result of Co-operative Marketing

The Egg Circle Bulletin, the leaflet published monthly by the Prince Edward Island Co-operative Egg and Poultry Association, in its issue of April, gives several little items of interesting news. For the first three months of 1924, receipts of eggs at the candling station are well over double the same period in 1923. It is not expected that this ratio of increase can be maintained, but it should continue for several weeks. The objective for 1924 is a million dozen eggs; this would mean an increase of 219,407 dozen, or slightly over 28% over 1923. Two additional circles are shipping this year, and there are indications of still others being organized. The season is at least three weeks ahead of last year, as regards production.

Over Production??—Not Yet.

During the twelve months period mentioned we roughly imported two and a half times as many eggs as we exported, the number imported, during these 12 months was 7,752,033 dozen, or 200,000 dozen more than during the preceding period, while the number exported was 2,890,132 dozen, or 738,000 dozen less than during the preceding year. During the one month of February the United States shipped to Canada 1,872,426 dozen of eggs, while in return Canada only sent 287 dozen. We received in Canada from the United States 500,000 dozen in February, 1924, more than in the same month of 1923.

Osprey Pioneer Passes

Mrs. Wm. Hodgson of the 12th line, Osprey, passed to her long rest on Wednesday afternoon, July 2nd at the age of 67 years. She had been seriously ill for two months and three weeks from spinal trouble.

Mrs. Hodgson was the widow of the late Wm. Hodgson, who died only three weeks previous to her death, of pneumonia. She leaves to mourn three daughters and one son—Mrs. A. Allison of Myrtle, Sask.; Mrs. Robert Plummer; of Ravenna, Ont. and Sarah and Charlie at home; also three sisters and one brother—Mrs. John Westacott of Gladstone, Man., Mrs. James Sloan of Elmvalle, Ms. Carrie Beacock of Gibson, Ont., and James Pinch of Rainy River, Sask.

The funeral took place on Saturday, July 5th to Feversham cemetery, service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Betts and Mr. Shannon of McIntyre. The deceased lady was born on the 12th line of Osprey, near Feversham, and lived all her life within a quarter of a mile of where she was born.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing family, to whom we know her death is a great loss.

OLD KOENIG

The Ontario Jockey Club horse, which is being travelled in this locality by Mr. R. R. Kinnell of Hopeville, is meeting with exceptional success. He has now reached almost the limited number of mares to be served and those desiring to secure his services should make arrangements at once with Mr. Kinnell, who is in Flesherton every Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning

"The Dunlop Trail"

Summer Resorts of Ontario in a Nutshell for the Motorist.

"The Dunlop Trail" is the "new-idea" touring book, which represents the first attempt to lay Ontario before the holiday-seeker in such a way that he can motor over the Province systematically.

The whole story of Ontario is told in sequence—Ontario from Winnipeg to Cochrane, to Windsor, to Montreal—yet the book only comprises forty pages, and is pocket size.

Not a reference page from cover to cover—in other words, you get the whole story of a district when you are at the two pages covering that particular district. No advertising of any kind in "The Dunlop Trail."

All maps and illustrations specially drawn; all material specially compiled. Think of this feature: All your mileage figured out for you over the entire Province—the first time this has been attempted in the history of motoring.

In "The Dunlop Trail" you find every River and Lake trip in Ontario that has a schedule; also special Train trips; combination Auto, Boat and Train trips; the first complete list ever published of places in Ontario where Summer Hotels are located; every Golf Club and Camp Site in the Province, and real information, where you want it, about steamer and ferry services for taking autos aboard.

In order to keep the circulation of "The Dunlop Trail" in the proper channel a nominal price of fifty cents has been put on it. Any Garage or Tire Dealer in Ontario will take your order for "The Dunlop Trail" or you can procure it direct from this Company at any of the Ontario Offices mentioned below.
