WHERE SUCCESS LIES

During the past year we have had expressed to us by a number of our subscribers the desire that they could hear through the columns of the paper from Flesherton and Atemesia oldboys—and girls, of course—with the idea of fostering the community spirit among those who have gone from our midst in past years to seek their fortunes elsewhere. Among the hundreds who have gone away and still retain their interest in the home Grey county—the banner county of Advance, there are very many who have amassed fortunes, little and big, and whom those at home have lost track of and would like to learn their whereabouts and how the distant world is using them.

Among these hundreds occasionally information filters through to us of success attained or failures suffered, but in a roundabout way that makes it difficult to use such information. Many have gone to the West and have succeeded in amassing considerable or this world's goods. Among these we are pleased to note the success of Findlay and Albert Hoy, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoy, who went West as young men fifteen years ago. A friend informs us that to-day they are rated financially as worth about $70,000 between them. They own over 1000 acres of land on which are good buildings and granaries, and have 100 head of stock.

Another instance of a big success is that of Harry Steeley, who left here years ago a mere lad, affable and pleasant, and a boy whom everyone liked, but no one dreamed that he had it in him to make the success he has in the business world. He developed into an astute business man and is said to be worth at least $75,000. His headquarters are in Toronto and he is in the linen and lace business, which necessitates his travelling extensively. At present we believe he is in South America.

The Strain boys of Montana were among the first to go to the States from Flesherton and showed Uncle Sam what stuff Canadian young business men are made of. Of course in our large list of distant subscribers there are many others who have been successful, and these we would like to hear from, personally or through friends. Any facts that is possible to gather, dealing with the fortunes of those who have parted from us in past years, would be eagerly read and perhaps act as an inspiration for others.

BEAUTIFYING OUR VILLAGE

One way to help beautify our village in a way that would make a better impression to people passing through, and to ourselves also, would be the removal of the fences in front of residences in town. Already we have noticed quite a number of our town people doing this, and without a doubt, all will agree to the truth of the above statement. To a person passing through a town with well-kept lawns it makes an impression on the mind when he sees beauty in a place, an impression that is not likely to leave him for a long time. We have the natural beautiful surroundings in Flesherton already that make people remark on the charm of the place. One added touch is the old commons on the north side of Memorial Park, which has been levelled and sown to grass whch is growing profusely, and a line of maple trees growing along the front and sides, make a big change in the appearance of that street. Beautifying a town takes quite a large amount of work, but in time a transition of the town would take place. In the meantime before other work could be accomplished the removal of fences along the front of resdences would be a big improvement. Give the idea a try.

Funeral Of The Late Mrs. F. Mathewson Held Thursday

The funeral of the late Mrs. F. J. Mathewson, whose death was chronicled last week, was held from her residence in Flesherton on Thursday afternoon, Rev. H. H. Eaton, her pastor, conducted the service in the Methodist church, at which a large number of friends and sympathizers attended. The text was taken from 1 Samuel 20:3, "There is but astep between me and death," and a very comforting discourse was given by the pastor. The church choir sang two appropriate selections.

The floral offerings were unusually lavish and beautiful including sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, J. Lever and family and N. Manning and family, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Ruckell, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Stephenson, Orange Valley LO.L., G. Brackenbury and G. Long, McTavish family, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thurston, Miss Irene Wilson, Mrs. W. Alcox, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thurston, Dr. and Mrs. Ottewell; wreaths from family, Young Ladies' Bible Class and teachers of the Methodist S. S.; mat of pansies from Jack and Dorothy Cunningham and a pillow from the Toronto Line residents.

The late Mrs. Mathewson was very highly respected in the community and was a devoted wife and mother. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her mother, five sisters and three brothers, Mrs. J. Lever, Flesherton, Mrs. Lorne Stephenson, Belmont, Mrs. Ruckle and Mrs. Patrick, Hamilton, Mrs. Cunningham, Palmerston and Herb and Geo. Manning of Brussels and Will Manning in B.C., all, excepting the latter, attending the funeral. Deceased was born at Brussels, Ont., 50 years ago and after her marriage 23 years ago came to Flesherton, where she has since resided. The union was blessed with four children, Olive (Mrs. Norman Wiley) of Owen Sound, Freda, at home, and twins, who died in infancy.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Mathewson, Newmarket, Russel Mathewson of Toronto and Mrs. Sparling of Brussels.

The pallbearers were the two brothers and four brothers-in-law of the deceased.

Clipperton—Mitchell

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr and Mrs. George Mitchell in town on Thursday of last week, when their eldest daughter, Lulu Ethelynd, was united in marriage to Mr. O. L. Clipperton, son of W. H. Clipperton of Toronto. The bridegroom is a teacher of Languages in Parkdale Collegiate, and Miss Mitchell also taught in one of the Toronto schools.

The home was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns, when, at high noon, the bride and groom presented themselves at the matrimonial altar and Rev. H. H. Eaton proceeded to make them man and wife. Miss Aleda Mitchell assisted the bride, while Mr. Walter Bowles of Toronto supported the groom. Mrs. (Dr.) Leggitt of Toronto played the wedding march.

The number of guests invited was confined to a few close friends of the bride, and included, Mr. W. H. Clipperton, father of the groom; Miss Lottie Witherall, the Misses Florence and Lilian Bunt, and Mr. walter Bowles, all of Toronto.

The happy couple left by motor noon train for Point au Baril, where the honeymoon will be spent at the groom's summer home on one of those far-famed islands. The presents were numerous and choice.

Along with a host of friends The Advance tenders congratulations and the kindest wishes for their future welfare and happiness. After the holidays their home will be in Toronto.

After the wedding a christening took place, when the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Mitchell of Chicago — George Kendall Harold — received the rite.

The occasion was also the 35th wedding anniversary of the estemed parents of the bride, when in the evening a large number of friends called to offer their felicitations.

Collingwood A Booze Port

Collingwood is looming up as a sea port. On Saturday a cargo of Kirby's Best, was cleared through the Customs on board the "Launch Ella" for a foreign port. The cases were brought here by truck in charge of a Police Officer and transhipped to the vessel immediately on arrival. The vessel had her papers ready, and at once cleared, probably for parts unknown.—Enterprise.

PLEASING SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

Mr. W. Brooks of Shelburne occupied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday, morning and evening, and gave two sermons that were received with much praise by the audiences. This young man is one who will make his mark in the ministerial world or we miss our guess. He is only 19 years of age, but would compare favorably with men of a much wider experience. He has a splendid voice, with clear enunciation, evidently a clear brain and is a young man of much promise. His subject at night was, "Handling world problems with God," and he held the keen attention of his audience while he outlined many of the most serious problems that confront the world to-day. Prominent among these problems he placed Sunday motoring. Instead of doing as we were commanded, by resting on the Sabbath day, too many jumped into their cars and tried to see how far they could travel in a day, then came back and told what a fine ride they had and everything went fine. His strictures on this subject were timely.

This service was favored by Mrs. (Dr.) Roszell of Caledonia with a couple of very fine violin solos with organ accompaniment. She also assisted in all the hymns, and those who were not present Sunday night missed a rare treat. Mrs. Roszell also favored the Presbyterian congregation in the afternoon in the same manner, the church being well filled.

Mrs. Roszell recently received her diploma for intermediate violin at the Hamilton conservatory, which is in connection with the Canadian Academy of Music.
