Stole Car In Toronto Caught At Flesherton

On Friday last a Ford car was abandoned early in the morning on the Provincial Highway a mile and a quarter north of Flesherton, in front of Mr. Fred Brown's, caused by engine trouble. A few hours afterwards Mr. Brown notified Constable Cook, and a phone message to Owen Sound brought Provincial Constable Jones and Ispector M. C. Beckett hot foot to the scene. The car was left in Mr. Brown's charge while an investigation took place. It was learned that three suspicious characters were at the station waiting for a train. The services of County Constable John Wright of Flesherton were secured and the three men were arrested and taken to Owen Sound by motor after confessing that they had stolen the car and abandoned it. Later they were taken to Toronto to answer to the charge of theft of the car.

The young men gave their names as Edward Wells, Frank Hanson and Thomas Davis. The car had been stolen from a Toronto garage on Thursday night and, it seems, was driven here the same night. Wells has relatives in Markdale and is also known in Owen Sound where he was at one time employed in the Patterson House as a bell boy.
