THE WAY TO BE WELL.

The Blood Must be Kept Rich and Pure and the Nerves Strong.

Good health is the most precious treasure any man or woman can have. But good health can only be had by keeping the blood rich and pure, and the nerves strong. If the blood is allowed to become weak and watery, the whole system is weakened and falls an easy prey to disease. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams's Pink Pills in keeping the blood rich and pure, and the nerves vigorous and strong. Every dose helps to create new blood, and by a fair use of the pills, pale, sickly people are made bright, active and strong. Here is proof. Robert Lee, New Westminster, B.C., says: "Before I began using Dr. Williams's Pink Pills, my blood was in a very impure state, and as a result pimples that were very itchy, broke out all over my body. My appetite was fickle, and I was easily tired. My wife urged me to try Dr. William's Pink Pills, and I got half a dozen boxes. By the time I had used them I was completely restored to health, my skin was smooth and clear, and my appetite good."

Dr. Williams's Pink Pills do not purge, they simply make pure, rich blood. That is why they cure such troubles as indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, anæmia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, scrofula, erysipelas, and the ailments so common to women, young and old. Sold by all dealers, or sent post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Birds' Songs.

Forest and Stream

The charging of birds is mostly, if not wholly, a matter of inheritance. For instance, my little wood-thrushes, as soon as they reached a sufficient age, cared not like their relatives of last year, with solitudes, nor brown thrashers uttered the jubal chirp of the species, my redwinged blackbird exclaimed "Chack! Chack!" after the manner of his kind, my bluebirds expressed their feeling in the sad little pur of Sialia sialis, my finkers did not borrow the calls of the redbirds, but each a thing to its own language. Any other birds, if given pains to trouble and soon thing, where are Time, these pet birds have heard from parents, to hatch they were [illegible] at all every day they would accompanied them, for at last they only whistled after the manner of most hatching, and on a good while afterward did they fall to using the adult chirp. Besides what said in the bird, there is not have heard many other bird ways did they not give them. Heredity has had a strong hand upon birds, and has drawn a sharp dividing line among the various species.

Instinct also plays a large part in moving birds to sing and to render a [illegible] of the kind. Prism stated a pet goldfinch of mine received at six weeks old, kept for away from its kind, in the [illegible] became a fine singer. And what [illegible] suppose was the [illegible] Every [illegible] sweet as any somewhere [illegible] of trees [illegible] with [illegible] He never sang any of the chaffinch [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
