We certainly cannot grumble about the dry, hot weather this last week or so. We got rain every day and gardens and root crops were indeed well-watered. A great amount of grain that was cut and ready to "draw in" has been left in a dark-colored state and some has commenced to grow.

Saturday was the day of the Artemesia School fair, and many did not attend on account of the rain. There were many exhibits which showed excellent work by the chilredn. In convesing with a gentleman one day since he said that he took special note of some carpenter work which was shown by a boy. I would judge by his description of the exhibit that many are in "wonderland" to-day—wondering what great carpenters we will have "when the boys become men." All our school children did not get out to the fair, but those who did received prizes for some of their exhibits. Congratulations, boys and girls. Our teacher, Miss McQueen, lost no time in training her pupils for the parade, which did not take place on account of the rain. Little Miss Hilda Gordon spoke on Federal Government an received te prize donated by Miss MacPhail for this subject. Hilda will speak again in the final contest. Success, Hilda.
