EUGENIA

THE LATE MRS. ALLEN

A sad gloom was cast over this vicinity on Saturday, October 10, when it was known that Mrs. Allen had passed away from her earthly home to be with her Saviour. The deceased had been in failing health during the past couple of months with dropsy and other ailments. All that could be done by doctor nurse, friends and neighbors was done but to no avail. Her maiden name was Maria Beaton, and her parents were natives of England. After marrying Mr. Allen they lived in Meaford for some time and Mr. Allen predeceased her a number of years ago. She lived some years in Kimberley previous to moving here a year ago. She was 78 years of age, and we are assured by her life story that Jesus has taken her home. She was converted when young and as a woman of exemplary character and quiet disposition, a kind neighbor and a good friend. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon interment taking place in Flesherton. cemetery Rev. Jos. Harrower of the United church, officiated at the house and grave, preaching a very impressive sermon, mentioning the Christian life of the deceased. The pallbearers were Messrs. Jos. Sherwood, Robt. Gorley, Jas. Magee, Len Latimer and John Williams. The floral tributes were very pretty — a wreath from Mr. John Magee; a sheaf from the neighbors and a wreath from Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. Sloane. Friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. McIntyre, Mrs. Brockelbank and Miss Thompson of Walkerton, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller and Miss Fuller of Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Magee of Markdale. We extend our sympathy to those left in bereavement.

The Heavenly gates were open,
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
She quietly entered home.

JOS. HAWKEN'S BARN BURNED

On Sunday forenoon about 10.30 this vicinity was astir with cars from near and far rushing to the scene of destruction on Mr. Jos. Hawken's farm on the 8th line. His barn fell a prey to fire and the cause is a mystery. Mr. Calvin Boyce, who has the farm on shares, was out in the orchard when he noticed smoke bursting out through the cracks in the barn. He tily rushed to the stable and he freed his horses and turned them out, and also saved his five pigs. We understand that the season's total hay crop, Mr. Hawken's share of the grain and part of Mr. Boyce's grain was devoured by the fiery fiend. Insurance covers part of the loss of both parties, but it is a great loss particularly at this time of the year when one is storing feed away for winter use. We sympathy with them in their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Quesnel and family of Owen Sound, visited Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood on Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Purvis has returned to Toronto after visiting her brother-in law, Robt. Purvis, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowbotham of Owen Sound visited at Mr. John Williams on Sunday. Mrs. R. and daughters, who spent Friday and Saturday with her parents here, returned home with him.

A number from here attended the fair and concert at Markdale and report a successful fair. The play "Safety First" was good and all attending the concert were pleased with it.

On Monday of this week Professor Wind played loud and long and the trees, which were laden with apples, were soon deprived of much of their fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMillan and babe of Markdale spent the week end with Mrs. Wilson. We are informed that Mrs. Wilson will spend the winter in Markdale with her daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Falconer will occupy her house until spring.

Miss Muriel Carruthers of MacTier is recuperating at her home here, having had her tonsils removed a couple of weeks ago.

The Eugenia Dramatic club are practising a play "An Old Fashioned Mother" which will be given in the United church here. This is a dramatic parable of a mother's love in three acts. It contains many morals as well as peing full of humor. Come and see Lowizy, who is disappointed in Brother Guggs and decides to set her cap for Jonah Quackenbush. Deborah hates to leave the old home. Her bitterest cup—Jerry Gosling, a funny country boy with his humorous speeches—causes much laughter. Full particulars and posters later.

To the Electors of South-East Grey

Ceylon, Ont., Oct. 19, 1925

To the ELECTORS IN S. E. GREY:

The issue between the two old parties is a struggle for power. The issue with us is: Shall we elect a member responsible to South East Grey, or a member responsible to a party that controls his speech and vote in the House?

The re-action following the war, over production here, lack of buying power in Europe and the tightening of credit everywhere, resulted in a terrific slump in trade, felt first by the farmers of Canada in 1920 and later by the other classes. The lack of buying power on the part of the people, resulted in a general slow up in trade, and the closing of factories.

The Conservatives say the lowering of tariff forced by the presence of the new groups in the House, caused the slump in trade, but the reduction in the tariff came in 1924, while the bottom of the depression in trade shows itself in 1922. Since 1922 our trade figures have steadily increased. In 1921 we exported per head of population, $135.31. In 1922, $82.80 In 1923, $102.63. In 1924, $113.40.

The increase in exports for the first half of 1925 was 89 millon ,over the trade for the first half of 1924.

The tariff cannot protect the farmer while we export vast quantities of farm products. The exportation of farm products during the latter half of 1924 and the first half of 1925 are as follows:

Wheat (bus) 191,764,537, Bacon & Hams (cwt) 11,008,721, Butter (lbs) 24,501,981, Apples (bbls) 1,406,237, Barley (bush) 2,820,434, Bran, Middlings, and Shorts 3,667,048, Clover Seed (bush) 417,907, Cream (gals) 3, 84, 186, Flour (bbls) 11,029,227, Beef Cattle 218, 084, Cheese, (cwt) 1,269, 632, Oats (bush) 32,7775,761, Rye (bush) 7,524,895, Oatmeal and ralled Oats (cwt) 830,046, Tobacco (lbs) 3,513,421, Flax Seed (Bush) 3,030,105.

The export trade sets the price of farm products sold at home, and no tariff can increase the export price. The tariff can and does raise the price of almost everything we buy, clothing, boots, and shoes, granite ware, automobiles, etc. The tariff cost users of automobiles in Canada in 1924 vast sum of $17,651,842 over and above the cost of the cars. And similar figures could be given for other things.

Watered stock in industry raises the prices. For example, 11 companies with $17,750,000 formed the Canada Cement Company and emerged with a capital of $38,000,000, without putting any money into it.

Three paint companies, with a capital of $3,500,000 formed the Sherwin Williams Paint Company, and emerged with $12,000,000 of capital--without putting any more money into it.

Twenty-one companies with $1,324, 000 formed the Dominion Canners Company, and emerged with $12,500, 000 and no more money. So every time the people of Canada buy cement paint, or canned goods, they pay prices sufficient to allow the owners dividends on the 20¼ million dollars that didn't exist in cement, 9½ million dollars that didn't exist in paint, and $11,176 that didn't exist in canned goods.

A high tariff does not produce revenue. A low tariff does. It is the goods brought in over the tariff wall that produces the revenue—if a tariff is high enough to keep all goods out, it produces no revenue but allows the manufacturer to raise his selling price equal to the foreign price plus the duty. He gets the protection. The country gets no revenue. We were able, because of our numbers in the House to force a lower tariff on farm implements, also on the implements used in the lumber and fish industry. We tried to lower the tariff on automobiles, and on the necessities of life, but were prevented by the voting strength of the Liberal and Conservative parties. We retained the Crow's Nest Pass agreement for one year, and held permanently, the low rate on wheat and flour.

We offered 38 amendments to the Bank Act, seeking cheaper and longer termed credit. We tried to prevent banks charging, by the discount method, interest to the exces of 7%. That failing, We tried to secure for bank employees the right to organize. We tried for Bank Inspection, and in all were defeated by the Bankers group in the House—the Liberal and Conservative parties, with but one exception in each party. Bank inspection was granted the next year after the failure of the Home Bank.

We tried to secure prohibition of Race Track Gambling, The Reform of the Senate. Dominion Respect for the Dry Law of a province.. A reduction of the vote of 14 millions for military preparation. The cutting out of the 5 million dollar vote for needed expenditure on Quebec Harbour and elevators, but the Majority of the Conservatives were out of the House, and the government won. We introduced a resolution asking that the defeat of a Government measure would not mean the defeat of the Government, but the defeat of the measure only.

We tried yearly to reduce the very large vote on immigration. We tried to protect the Farmer's interests when the Grain Act was being revised, but a clause preventing the farmer having weight and grade guaranteed at country elevators if he wished to ship to the pool, or to any other destination of which the country elevator was not a branch, was forced through by Liberals, Conservatives, and Mr. Crerar. When Mr. Gardiner of Medicine Hat, asked a Conservative, why he voted against the farmers interests, he replied that he was not familiar with the legislation, and adds "I have been instructed to vote against all motions proposed by Mr....., a farmer member who was voting for the farmer's interests. We supported all legislation seeking to help returned soldiers. We carried a resolution on the single transferrable vote, and we, at all times, stressed the need of economy.

I tried for the reduction indemnity, Prison Reform, and the elimination of the $450,000 vote for cadet training. I supported good legislation regardless of who introduced the measure. I worked to re-establish the confidence of the people in their elected member and in constitutional Reform. I made twenty speeches in the House, and eighty-three in South East Grey, on Dominion Affairs, between the last campaign and this one. I gave you an all time service, striving to interest the people in the task of Government. Your trust in me, and your unfailing kindness, has made the struggle worth while. I leave the case in your hands with confidence.
