Agnes MacPhail Has a Very Successful Meeting

High School Hall Crowded to Capacity to Hear Political Discussion

TOLD WHAT SHE DID

The Aim of Both Parties Was to Sit on Governing Seats

In a crowded auditorium, before an intelligent, appreciative, and sympathetic audience, Miss Agnes C. Mac Phail and her campaigners, addresed the people of the village and community, on political isues and questions, on Friday evening last.

Mr. Harry Shaw, was chairman of the evening, and in a short speech, congratulated Miss MacPhail on her record during her four years at Ottawa. He criticized the Hon. Arthur Meighen on his opposition to the embargo, and for his willingness to plunge Canada into another war, with the aim of driving the Turk from Europe.

Mr. Farquhar Oliver

Mr. Farquhar Oliver, then spoke, and in his address, he reasoined with his audience, basing his arguments on, "Tariff, Its relationship to Agriculture and to manufacturing." He said, that the tariff was created to protect manufacturing, and that is still the reason for it at the present time, notwithstanding, that political parties are trying to convince the farmer that it is for his interests. Mr. Oliver showed how protection worked in the United States. The prices on the home markets, for United States products, are set by the prices paid on the world markets, with world competition. The prices paid for wheat and cattle in the United States, caused thousands of farmers and stock raisers to be almost ruined, and when the farmer was crippled, the banks failed. The speaker stated that the laborers in United States want lower tariff, as the necessaries they use, when taxed, create overhead expenditure. He stated, "A country can never sell, if it never buys." The farmer cannot sell his products to the outside markets, if the world is antagonized by high tariff protection. He showed how Ford, turned to manufacture cars in Canada, thus saving the 35% duty on imported cars, this 35 per cent being clear profit for Henry Ford! The speaker ridiculed the Conservative slogan, Tariff will bind Canada together, stating that the West was solid against protection. He stated that protection would not serve to keep citizens in Canada, it must be by the "Back to the Land," movement.

Mrs. Alice Lobe

Mrs. Alice Lobe, a social worker, of Toronto, was the next speaker. She, too, congratulated Miss MacPhail on her stand on the various social, and humane questions brought up before the world, the past four years. She stated that trade barriers do not promote the best world feeling. Mrs. Lobe stated that the world is growing together through the common danger—the next war. The speaker pointed out that "Big Business," is not for the epople, put for profits, regardless of how it affects the masses, and said that Intelligent thought is needed at the present time. In concluding her address, Mrs. Lobe again congratulated Miss MacPhail on her understanding of economic troubles. Mrs. Lobe is a very pleasing speaker, and was well received by her audience.

Miss Agnes MacPhail

Miss Agnes MacPhail, the Progressive candidate, for South East Grey, delivered a fighting speech, and claimd the big issue the two old parties really had in the election was —to attain the seats of the mighty.. She stated that millions were thrown out of productive industry in the World War—soldiers. To provide for them, the wheels of industry were speeded up, and Agriculture, along with everything else, entered on "Good Times." The reaction resulting, did not come until 1920, when agriculture, was first caught in the slump of economic depression. In 1921 and 1922, this crippling of agriculture, was felt on every industry in Canada, due to the fact that the farmer was unable to buy. It was the lowering of purchasing power of the people, which caused the trade depression, and to increase their buying power would bring about more prosperous conditions. People couldn't afford to buy, and this was the reason of 300 factories closing. The government had nothing to do with the slump.. Miss MacPhail criticized Meighen on his contemptuous view of the people's intelligence, when he says that the lowering of the tariff was the cause.

She quoted figures from the Canada Year Book of 1924 to prove the buying power of the people was lowered: in 1921 our exports were valued at $131.31 per head, in 1922 they fell to $82.80, in 1923 they were up to $102.63, and in 1924, they increased to $113.40. Our imports per head slumped from $141.10 in 1921 to $83.65 in 1922. In 1923 they were $88.42 and in 1924, 96.85 per head, showing that the buying power of the people is again on the rise, and a lowered tariff does not affect it. In ten years Canada had stepped from 10th to 6th place as an importing nation, and from 7th to 2nd place in value per head of population, in its exports among the nations of the world. Since the lowered tariff has been in force, our exports to United States have increased, and imports decreased.

The candidate emphatically denied the statement that she was a revolutionist, which statement she attributed to her opponents. She said that she would rather tell truths and lose out, than win by rosy picturing, and fabalistic tales. Miss MacPhail stated, that, Meighen, in his three hour budget, speech, did not once refer to agriculture, but now, with election time at hand, the political parties were becoming very much interested in that pursuit.

The cost of government was now a tremendous burden, so many legislators and civil servants. The latter were not highly paid, but there were too many of them.

Another great reform was the democratic control of credit. The Bankers' Association, not the individual banks, were a priveleged class, and wielded too great a power. Miss MacPhail refuted the insinuation that her party had done nothing. Although hindered by banking groups, big business interests, and partisanship, they obtained a reduction on the duty on farm machinery, retained the low rate on wheat and flour, obtained relief for Home Bank Depositors. They obtained bank inspection, and successfully opposed a vote of $14,000,000 for military defense.

Miss MacPhail was of the opinion that the Senate were worthy of their hire—to the people they serve. These are the big interests, the party to whom they belong, and the party to whom they owe their positions for past services, and, the candidate said, they were the resort of those, who were opposed to legislation hurting their own selfish interests.

Miss MacPhail, in asking for support, said she had served the people to their interests, not to the party interests, that they might have on the floor of the house a group to support either party on any good legislation.

In closing, she said, "I tried to be fair, even though it was hard, when others were unfair." "I owed no allegiance to anyone, but to Canada as a whole." Those of you who are Liberals, and believe in me, vote for me." I leave you with absolute confidence in your wisdom and intelligence."

The Priceville Orchestra, supplied music throughout the meeting, which closed with the National Anthem.

KIMBERLEY

The fowl supper put on by the Ladies' Aid in the community hall was a success, both as to the eats and money realized. The concert, given by Mr. Grey of Toronto was of moving pictures of a very high order. The process of making paper and coins, also some good clean comics. Saturday night he also showed some good films, and mention should be made of "Charlie Chaplin on Roller Skates" and "The Church With the Overshot Wheel." On Sunday night in the church he gave "The Life of Christ," which was very much appreciated by all. Mr. Grey is giving the concert in the Rocklyn church Monday night.

Rev. Wilkinson of Victoria Harbor exchanged work with Mr. Ellison on Sun for anniversary services at Rocklyn and paid Kimberley a visit and preached in the afternoon. All his old friends were much pleased to have him with them again.

Mr. Stan Lawrence Mr. J. Taylor and Verda paid Mrs. J. Lawrence a visit last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Weber, Geraldine and Teddy, returned from Ohio on Sunday.

Boys are causing worry to some local fruit growers by their depredations. It is not alone the fruit which is taken, but the damage to gardens and property which is the cause of the worry. Some of the young fellows are liable to get into serious trouble. A box of empty fruit jars and an auto carrier recently disappeared from -rs. Madill's implement shop and it is not suspected that they walked away.
