FEVERSHAM

The weather has moderated again after severe cold and stormy weather of last week.

The box social held on the 21st by Court Feversham No. 534 C. O. F. turned out to be a great success. The music by our local orchestra was fine as were the dialogues and recitations A dialogue given by four young people from Rob Roy entitled, "Getting Married Under Difficulties," was highly applauded, as were all the others on the programme. The proceeds amounted to Eighty dollars. While a number of our young people were on a snow shoe hike a short time ago, one of them picked up what she supposed to be a dead bee on the snow in the woods. However Mr. Bee soon came to life and I suppose thought it was a fishing party and he was being sat on for he applied his sting and spoiled her dispositon for a short time.

Williams (a recent bride) with a pretty tea set, and also on the same evening, and at the same place as mentioned. Mr. Allison read a short address wishing Miss Roberts every success, as she left on the morning train for Toronto, to take up a position. The rest of the evening was spent in games and music.

MARVELLOUS VALUE

Reports from all provinces indicate that the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal at One Dollar a year is sweeping the country.

The reduction in the price of the Family Herald from $2.00 to $1.00 a year makes that great weekly journal more than ever the marvel of the newspaper world. The Publishers have announced that notwithstanding the change in price, every feature will not only be maintained but improvements will follow.

When one considers the huge volume, wide variety and high quality of the reading matter in each issue of the Family Herald, one wonders how it can be produced at the price. It is a complete farm journal, a family magazine and weekly newspaper—all three in one at a cost of less than two cents a week.

For this winter's reading there is and Weekly Star. Subscriptions may the local paper and Family Herald be left at the Advance office.

What Happens Honest M. P.'s

Do you ever stop to ask yourself this question—What happens to our politicians when they get to Ottawa? What mysterious influences are at work in Canada's capital that transformed a newly-elected representative of the people—a sincere, straightforward, plain-dealing man—into a person of subterfuges and complexities; or perhaps an apathetic atom in an inadequate machine; or worse, an active opportunist—just another politician.

How many men can recall who have of Parliament on the grounds that they would work miracles for there, they would work miracles for the betterment of their constituency and their country? And how many have accomplished their fine aims? Pitiably few. They returned, their term of representation finished, disillusioned and strangely inarticulate as to the reason of their failure.

St. COLUMBA UNITED CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Priceville church has good year

Enthusiasm, gratitude and goodwill marked the annual meeting of the congregation of St. Columba United Church held on Monday night of last week. As the congregation had come into being only since June 10, the date of church union, the reports covered only the activities of the past six months. Each organization reporting through its secretary and treasurer gave a good account of itself, and the Sunday School Women's Missionary Society. Ladies' Aid and Young People's society. all indicated devoted service and liberal giving, showing a surplus in each case. The auditor's report, in spite of extra obligations, showed the finances of the congregation to be in splendid condition, and a balance on the right side. Especially encouraging was the report on the missionary budget, or Maintenance and Extension Fund, showing the amount subscribed by St. Columba congregation to be Six hundred and sixty dollars, almost One hundred dollars over its allocation. All in all and apart from missionary givings, the revenue of the congregation for the six months was about fifteen hundred dollars.

The sesion reported 29 new members added to the roll, since June and a present membership of Two hundred and twenty-eight. Reference was made to the death of two most esteemed members in the persons of Mrs. Wm. Dixon, and Mrs. John Burnett.
