HOW BEST SAVE TIRES

A large tire maker ran a contest for chauffeurs, giving large prizes for the greatest mileage attained with its tires. The lessons to be learned from this contest ought to be valuable. Some of the winners of the first prizes were asked how they had attained such high tire mileages, and nearly every one put proper inflation in the first place. They made it a point while the contest was going on at least to test the tire pressure each day before doing any driving. Several of them put as the second most important point the careful driving so as to save their tires as much as possible. Proper use of the brakes so as to avoid the very detrimental sliding and grinding of the rubber on pavements, avoidance of sharp stones and street car tracks as much as possible and the taking of bumps as slowly as possible all are considerations coming under this head. The winner of the contest, who had well over 12,000 miles usage out of the tires that brought him the money, also was very careful to go over the tires each day and to fill any cuts of any size with a rubber filling compound.

CARE OF YOUNG PIGS

Chilling in First Hours is Dangerous —Avoiding Milk Fever

When the sow burrows a deep, hard packed nest the pigs frequently get caught and crushed. She is less likely to do this if she is well sheltered and out of the cold. While the new-born pigs do not need any such care as lambs, they are more sensitive than many people think, and unexplainable deaths later are often due to chilling in the critical first hours. If the weather is cold, put them in a basket lined with straw or chaff, with a blanket over the top, but leave a space for air, as they smother easily. After half an hour's warming let them nurse. If it is very cold it is best to put them in the basket for another hour or so before leaving them with the mother. To guard against milk fever and to help prevent the pigs from scouring, feed the sow lightly for 24 hours after farrowing. First give a good drink of water, lukewarm, but never cold, then a light bran mash. Be a little more generous each day up to the fifth, after which it is safe to feed abundantly.

BROWN ROT IN TREES

Mummy Fruits Carry Disease Over Into Next Season

The brown rot of peaches, plums and cherries annually causes great loss to Ontario fruit growers. For peaches, spray with self-boiled lime-sulphur about one month after the fruit has set. If the trees have been well pruned earlier in the year, so as to admit plenty of sunshine and a free circulation of air, the disease is much easier controlled on both plums and cherries, as well as peaches, as it thrives most in a close, humid atmosphere. If rot starts to develop as the fruit of either plums or cherries is ripening, spray with ammoniacal copper carbonate (copper carbonate, five ounces; ammonia, three pints; water, forty-five gallons). Go through the orchard after the fruit is all harvested, pick or knock all diseased fruit from the trees and bury or plough under. These "mummy" fruits, if allowed to hang on the trees, serve to carry the disease over till the following season.

For Pear Slug

Pear slug is troublesome on both pears and cherries. The small, black-ish, slug-like larvæ feed on the upper surface of the leaves, causing the foliage to present a brownish appearance. They can be easily controlled by spraying with two or three pounds of arsenate of lead to forty gallons water, whenever the slugs are numerous enough to warrant it, unless the fruit is beginning to ripen, applying the spray to the upper surface of the leaves. If you have only a few trees, dust them with hellebore or air-slaked lime.

Sell the Old Hens

Old hens are the cause of low averages in egg production. The pullets work regularly, but old hens lay about a dozen eggs and rest the remainder of the year. Unless you are raising a particular stock of chickens of which you have only a few hens, you cannot afford to keep the old hens as layers. A hen is not profitable after her third summer as a layer. Selling the old hens and using the incubator for hatching is the best plan for the small poultry man.

Safety First!

School teachers should warn their pupils against rushing suddenly out into the roadway when released from school. Vehicle drivers as a rule are careful, but the pupils must also exercise caution to avoid accidents.

Italian Girl Avenges

The Swiss Alpine troops on the Stelvio Pass noticed for several days a slim Italian girl, aged about eighteen and armed with a rifle, climbing the snow-covered paths leading up to the Austrian frontier, where she spent most of the day. One of the Swiss soldiers inquired what she was doing. The Italian girl replied fiercely: "They have killed my two brothers and my sweetheart, and I am taking my revenge. I think I have killed four Austrians, but that is not enough. I shall continue shooting until I am myself killed."

A naval 13.5-inch gun, costs, with its mountings, telescopic sight, and other fittings, about $600,000. Each shot from one of these monsters costs well over $500 for ammunition alone.

A Ruthenian convention at Saskatoon of five hundred delegates sent the Duke of Connaught a message affirming the loyalty of the Ruthenians in Canada.

The great annual August Shoe Sale now on. Store closes at 7 p.m. sharp Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.—Graham's Shoe Home.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.—Milton was almost deserted on Tuesday, the civic holiday. Many citizens motored to Burlington, Bronte and elsewhere. The excursion to Niagara Falls, under the auspices of the band and fire brigade, suffered on account of the price of tickets, which was higher than formerly, and other attractions, and financially it was a failure, though all who attended it enjoyed themselves greatly. A large number took advantage of the cheap rates to Toronto.

During the months of May, June, July and August the law offices of W. I. Dick and J. A. E. Braden will close at one o'clock on Saturday afternoons. t.f.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robertson and children were here for the week end on a visit to Mr. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Robertson. Herbert Robertson is the eldest son. He was burned out up at Cochrane in the big fire. He had a settler's site six miles north of Cochrane, and was working at the round house in Cochrane, his family living in a rented house on 11th Ave. He lost all on his site, a new house, a stable and implements. He is living now in Toronto at 52 Wickson St.

To stop your hair from falling use the Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, which all Rexall Drug Stores fully guarantee—50c. and $1.00 bottles. J. M. Mackenzie.

C. P. R. TRAINS—Some Miltonians have made mistakes about C. P. R. trains which leave and arrive at North Toronto and not at the Union Station. It may be well to list them. According to the time table No. 629 leaves North Toronto at 7 a.m., West Toronto at 7.20 and Milton at 8.12 a.m. No. 21 leaves North Toronto at 8.21 a.m., West Toronto at 8.40 and Milton 9.21. No. 640 leaves Milton at 5.30 p.m., West Toronto at 6.30, and arrives at North Toronto at 6.50. No. 632 leaves Milton at 7.55 p.m., West Toronto at 8.40 and reaches North Toronto at 9.

NOTICE—The office of Dr. H. A. McClean, dentist, will be closed at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoons during the months of June, July, August and September.

MONDAY'S STORM.—After more than a month of drought, from which crops suffered greatly, thunder storms were general last Monday. Rain began here about three p.m. and continued heavily for about three hours. There was a great deal of lightning. The tower of the Methodist Church and a chimney on G. A. Hemstreet's dwelling were struck, but in both cases the damage was slight. At Campbellville there was no rain until nearly five o'clock, and before any of it fell lightning struck a stump on Sam McDowell's farm, about a mile east of the village, and started a fire which spread through dry grass and might have done serious damage had not the rain come on and put it out.

William H. Ogle, county of York, has purchased the 100 acre farm, being east half lot 9, 2nd concession, township of Esquesing, county of Halton, belonging to Robert Duff. Sale was made by J. A. Willoughby, Georgetown.

CHEAPER GASOLINE.—Cheaper oil and gasoline before the end of the month are predicted by officials of the Bereau of Mines, who have received reports from their agents in the Oklahoma oil fields. Geologists in the field declare that new wells are being opened up and the established producers are drawing the maximum flow from their property. Private producers, as well as the Standard Oil properties, are being worked to fullest capacity. Bureau of Mines field works report, and indications point to a gradual drop in the price of gasoline as a result of the increased supply. The greatest activity is shown in the Oklahoma fields, although increased production also is reported from the other southern wells.

WANTED.—1000 grown ups to go with the children to Burlington Beach on Wednesday, August 23rd, it being the annual outing of the three Sunday Schools in town. Everybody should make an effort to go and give the children a good time. Special train leaves Grand Trunk station at 9 a.m. Fare—Adults 45c., children 25c.

ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE.—Pte. Erwin Durno, of the 164th Batt., appeared before Judge Elliot last Friday, having been committed for trial by Police Magistrate Dice on the charge of resisting arrest, laid against him by Constable Chapman. He pleaded guilty. The Judge said that though the prisoner deserved credit for enlisting, he must obey the laws. His offence had been serious, making him liable to as much as two years' imprisonment, but as it was his first appearance before the Judge he would be released on suspended sentence. The Judge explained what this meant and warned Durno that if he again got into trouble, the suspended sentence would be imposed. If the conviction should be before a magistrate an order would be issued to bring him before the Judge.

GARDEN PARTY—The grand annual garden party of St. Peter's Church, Erindale, will be held at "The Homestead," the residence of Edgar Adamson, Saturday evening, Aug. 19th. Thompson, chairman. Oakville brass band. Admission, adults 25c., children 15c.

HAD A KEG.—Certain men who cannot get liquor in Milton hotels, some being on the prohibited list and others trouble makers, occasionally club together, import liquor in quantity, and have a carousal. Last night they had a keg of beer under a tree in the corner of the Sprout farm at the end of Main Street and outside the corporation. They were very noisy about midnight. One of them got so sick that his companions were scared and sent for a physician, who relieved him by giving him an emetic. Another lay alongside of him, helpless and speechless. Some had made off and had hidden in a wheat field. Chief Constable Jones rounded most of them up. He has the names of seven or eight of them and is expected to prosecute. He was busy with them until about 3 a.m. Constable Jones captured the keg. Of five gallons, about half is left. The field is in Trafalgar, therefore the men are liable under the local option by-law.

FIRES.—There were two fires near Oakville on Sunday. George Stanford's log dwelling on the W. Coote farm was destroyed early in the morning with all its contents and Mr. Stanford had a narrow escape. He got out through a window in his night clothes. At 9 a.m. Mrs. P. S. Hairston's barn and sheds on the Col. Patton farm, were burned, with his hay crop, eight young pigs and a motor car.

The Champion has secured the exclusive right for the sale of this splendid map. Price 75c. Now ready for delivery. tf.

ECONOMY IN ROAD WORK.—Hon. Finlay Macdairmid, Minister of Public Works, asks the Ontario counties which come under the new Highway Improvement Act, to economise in expenditure on road construction during the war. He says laborers are scarce and wages high at present and the giving of employment on roads interferes with recruiting for overseas service. He adds "I would, therefore, recommend to your county as a patriotic duty that as far as possible expenditures on road construction should be delayed, and for the present confined to works of necessity. It is, of course, not advisable to reduce expenditures for the repair and maintenance of roads previously constructed, as this would create an unnecessary loss, requiring large expenditure for construction.
