THOUGHTS ON SOLID COMFORT

A GOOD THIRD OF OUR TIME IS SPENT IN BED, SO WHY NOT HAVE SOLID COMFORT WHILE THERE?

Why use a Mattress and Spring that will not stand up under the wear of years? A good spring costs a little more, but look at the extra comfort you have in being able o sleep while you are in bed. The very Mattress you need is a WAY SAGLESS SPRING, which will not sag under any conditions and is guaranteed for 25 years. Surely that ought to be long enough. It does not matter if the two persons sleeping on it are of unequal weight, as it adjusts itself. Our regular price on this spring is $10.00; look at page 346 of catalogue and see what it costs to order that way. Now to match this Spring we have different lines of mattresses from $12.00 up we would recommend to go with this spring.

We also have a good line of Arm Chairs and Rockers to sit in comfort in for a couple of hours before going to bed, ranging from $8.00 up. Call and look these lines over. Don't be afraid you will offend us if you do not buy, for we know you cannot beat them anywhere.

Markdale and Flesherton Play Overtime Tie Game

On Monday night the Markdale Redmen and the local purple and gold played to an overtime tie in a gruelling battle. Speed and sound defensive work by both teams, backed up by good goal tending made each counter look like a mountain, and at the end of the seventy minutes played, Markdale, through lack of subs, decided to call the game a deadlock and the score was hung up 2—2.

In the opening period the play was slow and neither team scored, but from then on there was action aplenty. McTavish bulged the twine when he beat White on a wicked drive, but while Markdale were outplayed for the next twenty minutes, the locals could not repeat. Near the end of the period Sullivan was allowed the decision on a disputed goal, and the period ended:

FLESHERTON—1 MARKDALE—1

In the third round, English stickhandled his way through alone when McTavish was serving a penalty, and slipped the puck past Akins, to notch the visitors second goal. The locals fought back, and the ice under their feet had nothing on the boys for coolness as they systematically swept down on the opposing net to finally register the tieing score, Boyd doing the trick on a pass out from behind the nets.

In the overtime period, Sullivan, English and Stuart led some brilliant rushes, as did Watson, McTavish and Boyd, but the nets were as hard to penetrate as the Rock of Gibraltar.

Score—

FLESHERTON—2 MARKDALE—2

Flesherton, — Goal, Akins, Def. Thurston and Betts, Forwards, Armstrong, McTavish and Watson. Subs Boyd and Nicholson.

Markdale—Goal, White, Def, Sullivan and Noble, Forwards, White, English, and Erskine. Sub. Stuart.

Owen Sound 6, Markdale 0

The hockey team of the Owen Sound Collegiate hooked up with the Markdale HighSchool team at the Flesherton Rink on Friday evening last and by scoring a pair of counters in each period the Sounders were winners by a 6—0 score. The collegiate team were superior in every department of the game, displayed a good brand of hockey to the satisfaction of the large crowd on hand. Markle and Grant of the Greys were in the lineup and both were very effective, Markle scoring three goals on his night's play. Grant was given great protection in front of the nets and had nothing but long shots to handle, which he easily turned aside. Rolston netted two goals, while Legate scored the sixth.

Sullivaan was the most prominent man on the Markdale team, displaying some good stickhandling, and was unlucky in not getting a goal.

Markdale — Goal, Kelly, defence Sullivan and Littlejohns, Centre, English, wings, White and Erskine. Subs White and Noble.

Owen Sound—Goal, B. Grant; defence, G. Legate; Beattie; centre Rolston; wings, S. Legate, J. Grant; subs, Markle and Crawford.

The Proton Juniors played an exciting game of hockey at the local rink here on Wednesday night last, and defeated the local team in an overtime battle by the score of 4—3 Both teams played good hockey in spots and there was little to choose between them, with Watson and White being the outstanding stars of the teams. The two outfits put up real battles and are able to put on a real entertainment.

ESSENTIALS TO SUCCESSFUL ALFALFA GROWING

In many sections of Canada, alfalfa is becoming an important farm crop but unfortunately this is not the case in the Maritime Provinces. The farmers in these provinces are quite aware of the merits of this crop, but with rare exceptions, any attempts to grow it have met with complete or partial failure. How ever, experimental work with alfalfa, at the Fredericton Experimental Station, has demonstrated that it can be grown successfully if conditions are made favorable to its development.

While Alfalfa prefers a rich clay loam soil, it will do well on most deep soils, provided they are well drained and reasonably free of weeds as well as being in a good state of fertility. Sour soils must be avoided but this condition can be corrected by a liberal application of lime. When selecting seed, care should be taken to secure a hardy variety. Grimms and Ontario variegated are the two best varieties for Maritime conditions. Where Alfalfa is being grown in a field for the first time, the inoculation of the seed should be done—any farmer wishing to have seed inoculated for a trial, may secure free of charge, enough nitro culture, from the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, to treat one bushel of seed. The rate of seed sown per acre may vary from fifteen to twenty pounds an acre, but the latter rate should apply to beginners as it will insure a thicker stand of plants. Nurse crops may be used, such as barley or wheat, if sown lightly, but we find it much better to sow alfalfa about the middle of June without a nurse crop. If the latter method is followed, the plants grow much stronger and develop a root system more capable of resisting heaving the following spring.

Pasturing newly seeded alfalfa is almost sure to prove disastrous. It should be clipped high with a mower and the clippings allowed to remain on the ground. The following spring it is well to roll the field if there is evidence of heaving, in order that the roots may become firmly established in the soil and not be killed by drying winds.

Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth in bloom. Two crops may be cut at this stage during the summer. Only in rare instances can a third crop be harvested under Maritime conditions, as the growing season is not sufficiently long to permit of sufficient growth to go into the winter, and winter-killing is almost sure to follow. After each crop of hay is taken off, the field should be well harrowed with a spike tooth harrow. This will tend to [illegible] weeds, [illegible] becoming established and will develop an open surface [illegible] aeration and will increase the water holding capacity of the soil.—C. F. Bailey, Superintendent, Experimental Station, Fredericton, N.B.

WALKERTON MAN IS MUCH EMBARASSED

The Walkerton Herald and Times reports the following little amusing incident in a very charateristic way:

That the Absent Minded Beggar whom Kipling raved so much about hadn't the market cornered on this failing is evident by the way a Walktonian broke out in the West Ward on Friday last. Having purchased an aged horse that day, the owner tied the plug in the stable next to the stall occupied by his Jersey cow, and when milking time came around, what does the local do but grab his pail and run directly to the horse. Seating himself under the nag he was preparing to do his stuff, when he suddenly came to and realized that he was in the wrong pew. Sensing the ridiculousness of the situation he was about to rise and betake himself hence, when on standing up he beheld his young daughter peering his way and as perplexed as Alice in Wonderland at what she saw. The news soon got to the household and the man, though strictly temperate, was directly under a cloud of suspicion and on arriving in with the milk had to do more explaining than if he had been caught red-handed with a cork screw and a bottle of moonshine. Some one has said that your sins will find you out, and men have doubtless been convicted on less conclusive circumstantial evidence than this, but here was an instance where absent-mindedness and a sanitary breath formed a combination that was responsible for a most embarassing situation.

FOR SALE—Young cow for sale, milking.—W. W. Trimble, Flesherton.
